BRUCE E. ROBINSON

not only because the Board wishes him, as a minister, to have guidance in his ministry, but also because it trusts that he will, throughout his entire service, turn to the Board of Christian Education for help in the solution of educational problems. The Board, in its function as servant of the Church, further ventures the hope that it will receive from him and the churches which he serves enthusiastic sup-

ACTS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY RELATING TO THE CONSTITUTION.

1. Changes of the Text of the Constitution.

May 22, 1891.

Resolved, That no change of the text of any of the several Standards of Doctrine, Government, Discipline, and Worship, included in the Constitution, shall hereafter be made except after report to the General Assembly, and due constitutional procedure.

[For method of procedure, see Form of Government, Chap. XXIV.]

2. Editorial Supervision of the Constitution.

May 31, 1886.

Resolved, That the Stated and Permanent Clerks be a committee to supervise the publication of any and all editions of the Constitution hereafter issued by the Board of Publication, and also of the Rules for Judicatories.

3. Publication of the Constitution.

May 29, 1839.

Resolved, That the permission heretofore granted by the Assembly to publish the Confession of Faith in contravention of the copyright, be, and the same is, hereby revoked.

Resolved, That the PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF PUBLICATION is hereby directed to take the charge, oversight, and agency of printing and selling the authorized copy of the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

Resolved, That the standing committees to supervise the publication of the Constitution, within the bounds of the several Synods, be, and the same are, hereby abolished.

ATTESTATION.

June, 1939

The Stated Clerk of the General Assembly hereby certifies that this edition of the Constitution contains what may be regarded as the authoritative text of the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

HISTORICAL SUMMARY

THE Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms were adopted, in 1729, by the General Synod of the undivided Presbyterian Church, as the "confession of their faith," excepting certain clauses relating to the civil magistrate.

In 1788, the General Synod amended the Confession of Faith in Chapters xx., xxiii., and xxxi., made "a small amendment" of the Larger Catechism, and adopted the amended Confession of Faith and the Catechisms, the Form of Government, the Book of Discipline, and the Directory of Worship, "as the standard of our doctrine, government, discipline, and worship."

Amendments of the Confession of Faith, since 1788, have been as follows: In 1886-87, by striking out from Chapter xxiv., Section 4, the clause forbidding marriage with a deceased wife's sister. In 1902-03, by adding Chapters xxxiv. and xxxv., and the Declaratory Statement as to Chapter iii. and Chapter x., Section 3; also by the alteration of Chapter xvi., Section 7, Chapter xxii., Section 3, and Chapter xxv., Section 6.

The Book of Discipline was entirely reconstructed in 1884; and amendments and additions were made, 1894-1931. In 1934 it was extensively revised and rearranged.

The Form of Government has been amended and added to in various Sections between the years 1805 and 1939, and the Directory for Worship between 1805 and 1933.

The first Committee to "select and arrange the Proof Texts" was appointed by the General Assembly in 1792, and the proof texts were published in the edition of the Constitution issued in 1797. In 1888, a second Committee was appointed to revise the "Proof Texts," and to furnish proof texts for the Shorter Catechism. The work was approved by the General Assembly of 1894.

The Standards were also adopted as the basis of Reunion, as follows: in 1758 by the Synods of New York and Philadelphia; in 1869 by the "Old School" and the "New School" Churches; and in 1906 by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

THE

OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURE.

I. ALTHOUGH the light of nature, and the works of creation and providence, do so far manifest the goodness, wisdom, and power of God, as to leave men inexcusable;^a yet they are not sufficient to give that knowledge of God and of his will, which is necessary unto salvation;^b therefore it pleased the Lord, at sundry times, and in divers manners, to reveal himself, and to declare that his will

I.^aPsa. xix. 1-4. The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handy-work. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun. Rom. i. 32. Who, knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them. Rom. ii. 1. Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things. Rom. i. 19, 20. Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath showed it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. See Rom. ii. 14, 15.

^b1 Cor. i. 21. For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. 1 Cor. ii. 13, 14. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

unto his Church;^c and afterwards, for the better preserving and propagating of the truth, and for the more sure establishment and comfort of the Church against the corruption of the flesh, and the malice of Satan and of the world, to commit the same wholly unto writing:^d which maketh the Holy Scripture to be most necessary;^e those former ways of God's revealing his will unto his people being now ceased.^f

II. Under the name of Holy Scripture, or the Word of God written, are now contained all the books of the Old and New Testaments, which are these:

OF THE OLD TESTAMENT.

Genesis.	Deuteronomy.	I. Samuel.
Exodus.	Joshua.	II. Samuel.
Leviticus.	Judges.	I. Kings.
Numbers.	Ruth.	II. Kings.

^cHeb. i. 1, 2. God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son.

^dLuke i. 3, 4. It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus, That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed. Rom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope. Matt. iv. 4, 7, 10. But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. —Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. —Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Isa. viii. 20. To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to his word, it is because there is no light in them.

^e2 Tim. iii. 15. And that from a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. 2 Pet. i. 19. We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the daystar arise in your hearts.

^fHeb. i. 1, 2. God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets. Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds.

All which are given by inspiration of God, to be the rule of faith and life.^g

III. The books commonly called Apocrypha, not being of divine inspiration, are no part of the canon of the Scripture; and therefore are of no authority in the Church of God, nor to be any otherwise approved, or made use of, than other human writings.^h

II. *¶*Eph. ii. 20. And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. Rev. xxii. 18, 19. For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book. 2 Tim. iii. 16. All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. Matt. xi. 27. Neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.

III. *¶*Luke xxiv. 27, 44. And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself.—And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were

IV. The authority of the Holy Scripture, for which it ought to be believed and obeyed, dependeth not upon the testimony of any man or church, but wholly upon God, (who is truth itself,) the author thereof; and therefore it is to be received, because it is the Word of God.ⁱ

V. We may be moved and induced by the testimony of the Church to an high and reverent esteem of the Holy Scripture;^k and the heavenliness of the matter, the efficacy of the doctrine, the majesty of the style, the consent of all the parts, the scope of the whole, (which is to give all glory to God,) the full discovery it makes of the only way of man's salvation, the many other incomparable excellencies, and the entire perfection thereof, are arguments whereby it doth abundantly evidence itself to be the Word of God; yet, notwithstanding, our full persuasion and assurance of the infallible truth, and divine authority thereof, is from the inward work of the Holy Spirit, bearing witness by and with the Word in our hearts.^l written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me. Rom. iii. 2. Much every way, chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God. 2 Pet. i. 21. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

IV. ⁱ2 Tim. iii. 16. All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness. 1 John v. 9. If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son. 1 Thess. ii. 13. For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

V. ^k1 Tim. iii. 15. But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

^l1 John ii. 20, 27. But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.—But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him. John xvi. 13, 14. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you. 1 Cor. ii, 10–12. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth

VI. The whole counsel of God, concerning all things necessary for his own glory, man's salvation, faith, and life, is either expressly set down in Scripture, or by good and necessary consequence may be deduced from Scripture: unto which nothing at any time is to be added, whether by new revelations of the Spirit or traditions of men.^m Nevertheless we acknowledge the inward illumination of the Spirit of God to be necessary for the saving understanding of such things as are revealed in the Word;ⁿ and there are some circumstances concerning the worship of God and government of the Church, common to human actions and societies, which are to be ordered by the light of nature and Christian prudence, according to the general rules of the Word, which are always to be observed.^o all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

VI. ^m2 Tim. iii. 15-17. And that from a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. Gal. i. 8. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. 2 Thess. ii. 2. That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

ⁿJohn vi. 45. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. 1 Cor. ii. 9, 10, 12. But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.—Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God: that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

^o1 Cor. xi. 13, 14. Judge in yourselves: Is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered? Doth not even nature itself teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him? 1 Cor. xiv. 26, 40. How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying.—Let all things be done decently and in order.

VII. All things in Scripture are not alike plain in themselves, nor alike clear unto all;^p yet those things which are necessary to be known, believed, and observed, for salvation, are so clearly propounded and opened in some place of Scripture or other, that not only the learned, but the unlearned, in a due use of the ordinary means, may attain unto a sufficient understanding of them.^q

VIII. The Old Testament in Hebrew, (which was the native language of the people of God of old,) and the New Testament in Greek, (which at the time of the writing of it was most generally known to the nations,) being immediately inspired by God, and by his singular care and providence kept pure in all ages, are therefore authentic;^r so as in all controversies of religion the Church is finally to appeal unto them.^s But because these original tongues are not known to all the people of God who have right unto and interest in the Scriptures, and are commanded, in the fear of God, to read and search them,^t therefore they are to be translated into the vulgar language of every nation unto which they

VII. ^p2 Pet. iii. 16. As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other Scriptures, unto their own destruction.

^qPsa. cxix. 105, 130. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.—The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple. See Acts xvii. 11.

VIII. ^rMatt. v. 18. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

^sIsa. viii. 20. To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. Acts xv. 15. And to this agree the words of the prophets. John v. 46. For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.

^t2 Tim. iii. 14, 15. But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; And that from a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. Acts xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

come,^u that the Word of God dwelling plentifully in all, they may worship him in an acceptable manner,^w and, through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, may have hope.^z

IX. The infallible rule of interpretation of Scripture is the Scripture itself; and therefore, when there is a question about the true and full sense of any Scripture, (which is not manifold, but one,) it may be searched and known by other places that speak more clearly.^y

X. The Supreme Judge, by whom all controversies of religion are to be determined, and all decrees of councils, opinions of ancient writers, doctrines of men, and private spirits, are to be examined, and in whose sentence we are to rest, can be no other but the Holy Spirit speaking in the Scripture.^z ^u1 Cor. xiv. 6, 9, 11, 12, 24, 27, 28. Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrines?—So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.—Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me. Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.—But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all.—If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret. But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

^wCol. iii. 16. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

^zRom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scripture might have hope.

IX. ^yActs xv. 15. And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written. John v. 46. For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me. See 2 Pet. i. 20, 21.

X. ^zMatt. xxii, 29, 31. Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.—But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God? Acts xxviii. 25. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers. Gal. i. 10. For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ. See 1 John iv. 1–6.

CHAPTER II.

OF GOD, AND OF THE HOLY TRINITY.

I. THERE is but one only^a living and true God,^b who is infinite in being and perfection,^c a most pure spirit,^d invisible,^e without body, parts,^f or passions,^g immutable,^h immense,ⁱ eternal,^k incomprehensible,^l

I. ^aDeut. vi. 4. Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God is one LORD. 1 Cor. viii. 4, 6. As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.—But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

^b1 Thess. i. 9. Ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God. Jer. x. 10. But the LORD is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting King.

^cJob xi. 7-9. Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection? It is as high as heaven; what canst thou do? deeper than hell; what canst thou know? The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea. Job xxvi. 14. Lo, these are parts of his ways; but how little a portion is heard of him? but the thunder of his power who can understand?

^dJohn iv. 24. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

^e1 Tim. i. 17. Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

^fDeut. iv, 15, 16. Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the LORD spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of the fire; Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female. Luke xxiv. 39. Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have. See John iv. 24.

^gActs xiv. 11, 15. And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.—And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein.

^hJames i. 17. The Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. Mal. iii. 6. For I am the LORD, I change not.

ⁱ1 Kings viii. 27. But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded? Jer. xxiii. 23, 24. Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off? Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the LORD. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD.

^kPsa. xc. 2. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. 1 Tim. i. 17. Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

almighty,^m most wise,ⁿ most holy,^o most free,^p most absolute,^q working all things according to the counsel of his own immutable and most righteous will,^r for his own glory;^s most loving,^t gracious, merciful, long-suffering, abundant in goodness and truth, forgiving iniquity, transgression, and sin;^u the rewarder of them that diligently seek him;^w and withal most just and terrible in his judgments,^x hating all sin,^y and who will by no means clear the guilty.^z ⁿRom. xvi. 27. To God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen.

^oIsa. vi. 3. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory. See Rev. iv. 8.

^qEx. iii. 14. And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.

^rEph. i. 11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will.

^sProv. xvi. 4. The LORD hath made all things for himself: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil. Rom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. Rev. iv. 11. Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are, and were created.

^t1 John iv. 8. He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is love. John iii. 16. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life.

^uEx. xxxiv. 6, 7. And the LORD passed by before him, and proclaimed, The LORD, The LORD God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty.

^wHeb. xi. 6. For he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

^xNeh. ix. 32, 33. Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty and the terrible God, who keepest covenant and mercy, let not all the trouble seem little before thee, that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since the time of the kings of Assyria unto this day. Howbeit thou art just in all that is brought upon us; for thou hast done right, but we have done wickedly. See Heb. x. 28-31.

^yPsa. v. 5, 6. The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: thou hatest all workers of iniquity. Thou shalt destroy them that speak leasing: the LORD will abhor the bloody and deceitful man.

^zNahum i. 2, 3. God is jealous, and the LORD revengeth; the LORD

II. God hath all life,^a glory,^b goodness,^c blessedness,^d in and of himself; and is alone in and unto himself all-sufficient not standing in need of any creatures which he hath made,^e nor deriving any glory from them,^f but only manifesting his own glory in, by, unto, and upon them: he is the alone fountain of all being, of whom, through whom, and to whom, are all things;^g and hath most sovereign dominion over them, to do by them, for them, and upon them, whatsoever himself pleaseth.^h In his sight all things are open and manifest;ⁱ his knowledge is infinite, infallible, and independent upon the creature,^k so as nothrevenge, and is furious; the LORD will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies. The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked. See Ex. xxxiv. 7.

II. ^aJohn v. 26. For as the Father hath life in himself, so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself.

^bActs vii. 2. And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran.

^cPsa. cxix. 68. Thou art good, and doest good; teach me thy statutes.

^d1 Tim. vi. 15. Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords. Rom. ix. 5. Who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

^eActs xvii. 24, 25. God that made the world, and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshiped with men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things.

^fPsa. 1. 12. If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fullness thereof. See Isa. xl. 12-17.

^gRom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

^hRev. iv. 11. Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honor, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are, and were created. Dan. iv. 25, 35. The Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.—And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? See 1 Tim. vi. 15.

ⁱHeb. iv. 13. Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

^kRom. xi. 33, 34. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counselor? Ps. cxlvii. 5. Great is our Lord and of great power: his understanding is infinite.

ing is to him contingent or uncertain.^l He is most holy in all his counsels, in all his works, and in all his commands.^m To him is due from angels and men, and every other creature, whatsoever worship, service, or obedience, he is pleased to require of them.ⁿ

III. In the unity of the Godhead there be three persons of one substance, power, and eternity; God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost.^o The Father is of none, neither begotten nor proceeding; the Son is eternally begotten of the Father;^p the Holy Ghost eternally proceeding from the Father and the Son.^q ⁿRev. v. 12-14. Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honor, and glory, and blessing. And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honor, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever. And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshiped him that liveth for ever and ever.

^lActs. xv. 18. Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world. Prov. xv. 3. The eyes of the LORD are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.

III. ^oMatt. iii. 16, 17. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: And lo, a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Matt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 2 Cor. xiii. 14. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen. See Eph. ii. 18.

^pJohn i. 14, 18. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.—No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. See Heb. i. 2-6; Col. i. 15-17.

^qJohn xv. 26. But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me. Gal. iv. 6. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

CHAPTER III.*

OF GOD'S ETERNAL DECREE.

I. God from all eternity did by the most wise and holy counsel of his own will, freely and unchangeably ordain whatsoever comes to pass:^a yet so as thereby neither is God the author of sin,^b nor is violence offered to the will of the creatures, nor is the liberty or contingency of second causes taken away, but rather established.^c

II. Although God knows whatsoever may or can come to pass upon all supposed conditions;^d yet hath he not

I. ^aIsa. xlv. 6, 7. I am the LORD, and there is none else. I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things. Eph. i. 11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. Rom. xv. 33. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! Heb. vi. 17. Wherein God, willing more abundantly to show unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath.

^bPsa. v. 4. For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: neither shall evil dwell with thee. James i. 13, 14. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man: But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. 1 John i. 5. This then is the message we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

^cMatt. xvii. 12. But I say unto you, That Elias is come already and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them. John xix. 11. Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above. Acts ii. 23. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain. Acts iv. 27, 28. For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together, For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done. Acts xxvii. 23, 24, 34. For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cæsar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.—Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.

II. ^dActs xv. 18. Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world. Prov. xvi. 33. The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD. I Sam. xxiii. 11, 12. Will the men of Keilah deliver me up into his hand? will Saul come down, as thy servant hath heard? O LORD God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell decreed any thing because he foresaw it as future, or as that which would come to pass upon such conditions.^e

III. By the decree of God, for the manifestation of his glory, some men and angels^f are predestinated unto everlasting life, and others fore-ordained to everlasting death.^g

IV. These angels and men, thus predestinated and fore-ordained, are particularly and unchangeably designed; and their number is so certain and definite that it cannot be either increased or diminished.^h thy servant. And the LORD said, He will come down. Then said David, Will the men of Keilah deliver me and my men into the hand of Saul? And the LORD said, They will deliver thee up. Matt. xi. 21, 23. Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works which were done in you had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.—And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell; for if the mighty works which have been done in thee had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.

^eRom. ix. 11, 13, 15, 16, 18. (For the children being not yet born neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth;)—As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.—For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that showeth mercy.—Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.

III ^f1 Tim. v. 21. I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels. Mark viii. 38. When he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels. Jude 6. And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day. Matt. xxv. 31, 41. When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory.—Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.

^gProv. xvi. 4. The Lord hath made all things for himself: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil. Rom. ix. 22, 23. What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction: And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory? Eph. i. 5, 6. Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will, To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved.

IV. ^hJohn x. 14-16, 27, 28. I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.—My sheep

V. Those of mankind that are predestinated unto life, God, before the foundation of the world was laid, according to his eternal and immutable purpose, and the secret counsel and good pleasure of his will, hath chosen in Christ, unto everlasting glory,ⁱ out of his mere free grace and love, without any foresight of faith or good works, or perseverance in either of them, or any other thing in the creature, as conditions, or causes moving him thereunto;^k and all to the praise of his glorious grace.^l

VI. As God hath appointed the elect unto glory, so hath he, by the eternal and most free purpose of his will, fore-ordained all the means thereunto.^m Wherefore they who hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. John xiii. 18. I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the Scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me. See John xvii. 2, 6, 9-12; 2 Tim. ii. 19.

V. ⁱEph. i. 4, 9, 11. According as he hath chosen us in him, before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love;—Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he hath purposed in himself.—In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. Rom. viii. 30. Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also called; and whom he called, them he also justified; and whom he justified, them he also glorified. 2 Tim. i. 9. Who hath saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. 1 Thess. v. 9. For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ.

^kRom. ix. 11, 13, 15, 16. (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth;)—As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.—For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that showeth mercy. Eph. i. 9. Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself. Eph. ii. 8, 9. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast.

^lEph. i. 6, 12. To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved.—That we should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Christ.

VI. ^m1 Pet. i. 2. Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied. Eph. i. 4. According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation are elected being fallen in Adam, are redeemed by Christ,ⁿ are effectually called unto faith in Christ by his Spirit working in due season; are justified, adopted, sanctified,^o and kept by his power through faith unto salvation.^p Neither are any other redeemed by Christ, effectually called, justified, adopted, sanctified, and saved, but the elect only.^q

VII. The rest of mankind, God was pleased, according to the unsearchable counsel of his own will, whereby he extendeth or withholdeth mercy as he pleaseth, for the glory of his sovereign power over his creatures, to pass by, and to ordain them to dishonor and wrath for their sin, to the praise of his glorious justice.^r of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. Eph. ii. 10. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. 2 Thess. ii. 13. But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth.

ⁿ1 Thess. v. 9, 10. For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, Who died for us, that whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him. Tit. ii. 14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

^oRom. vii. 30. Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified. Eph. i. 5. Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will. 2 Thess. ii. 13. But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth.

^p1 Pet. i. 5. Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

^qJohn xvii. 9. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine. Rom. viii. 28. And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose, etc. [to the end of the chapter]. John vi. 64, 65. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him. And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me except it were given unto him of my Father. See John viii. 47; x. 26. 1 John ii. 19. They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

VII. ^rMatt. xi. 25, 26. At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these

VIII. The doctrine of this high mystery of predestination is to be handled with special prudence and care,^s that men attending the will of God revealed in his Word, and yielding obedience thereunto, may, from the certainty of their effectual vocation, be assured of their eternal election.^t So shall this doctrine afford matter of praise, reverence, and admiration of God;^u and of humility, diligence, and abundant consolation, to all that sincerely obey the gospel.^w things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight. Rom. ix. 17, 18, 21, 22. For the Scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might show my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. Therefore hath he mercy etc.—Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honor, and another unto dishonor? What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction. 2 Tim. ii. 20. But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honor, and some to dishonor. Jude 4. For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation; ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ. 1 Pet. ii. 8—being disobedient; whereunto also they were appointed.

VIII. ^sRom. ix. 20. Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? Rom. xi. 33. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! Deut. xxix. 29. The secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

^t2 Pet. i. 10. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall.

^uEph. i. 6. To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved.

^wRom. xi. 5, 6, 20. Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.—Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not highminded, but fear. Rom. viii. 33. Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth. Luke x. 20. Notwithstanding, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.

CHAPTER IV.

OF CREATION.

I. It pleased God the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,^a for the manifestation of the glory of his eternal power, wisdom, and goodness,^b in the beginning, to create, or make of nothing, the world, and all things therein, whether visible or invisible, in the space of six days, and all very good.^c

II. After God had made all other creatures, he created man, male and female,^d with reasonable and immortal souls,^e endued with knowledge, righteousness, and true holiness, after his own image,^f having the law of God

I. ^aRom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. 1 Cor. viii. 6. But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him: and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. Heb. i. 2. Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds. John i. 2, 3. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made. Gen. i. 2. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

^bRom. i. 20. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. Psa. civ. 24. O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. Jer. x. 12. He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

OF THE FALL OF MAN, OF SIN, AND OF THE PUNISHMENT THEREOF.

I. OUR first parents, being seduced by the subtilty and temptation of Satan, sinned in eating the forbidden fruit.^a This their sin God was pleased, according to his wise and holy counsel, to permit, having purposed to order it to his own glory.^b

II. By this sin they fell from their original righteousness, and communion with God,^c and so became dead in sin,^d and wholly defiled in all the faculties and parts of soul and body.^e

I. ^aGen. iii. 13. And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat. 2 Cor. xi. 3. But I fear lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

^bRom. xi. 32. For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all. Rom. v. 20, 21. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound: That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

II. ^cGen. iii. 6-8. And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat. And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons. And they heard the voice of the LORD God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the LORD God amongst the trees of the garden. Rom. iii. 23. For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.

And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins; Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience: Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others. Rom. v. 12. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned.

Gen. ii. 17.* But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. Rom. v. 12, 15-19. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned.—But not as the offence, so also is the free gift: for if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many. And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification. For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore, as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. 1 Cor. xv. 21, 22, 45, 49. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.—And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.—And as we have borne the image of the earthly, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

V. ^lRom. vii. 14, 17, 18, 21-23. For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin.—Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.—I find then a law, that, when I would I do good, evil is present with me. CHAPTER VII.

OF GOD'S COVENANT WITH MAN.

I. THE distance between God and the creature is so great that although reasonable creatures do owe obedience unto him as their Creator, yet they could never have any fruition of him, as their blessedness and reward, but by some voluntary condescension on God's part, which he hath been pleased to express by way of covenant.^a

Rom. iii. 9, 19. What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin.—Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.

II. The first covenant made with man was a covenant of works,^b wherein life was promised to Adam, and in him to his posterity,^c upon condition of perfect and personal obedience.^d

III. Man, by his fall, having made himself incapable of life by that covenant, the Lord was pleased to make a second,^e commonly called the covenant of grace: wherein he freely offereth unto sinners life and salvation by Jesus Christ, requiring of them faith in him, that they may be saved;^f and promising to give unto all those that are

5, 6. Who is like unto the LORD our God, who dwelleth on high, Who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth! Acts xvii. 24, 25. God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshiped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things. Luke xvii. 10. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do. See Job xxxv. 7, 8.

II. ^bGal. iii. 12. And the law is not of faith; but, The man that doeth them shall live in them. See Gen. ii. 16, 17.

^cRom. x. 5. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them. Rom. v. 12-14. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for all that have sinned: For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law. Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

^dGen. ii. 17. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die. Gal. iii. 10. For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse; for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

III. ^eGal. iii. 21.—For if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. Rom. viii. 3. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. Rom. iii. 20, 21. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets. Isa. xlii. 6. I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles. Gen. iii. 15. And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.

^fMatt. xxviii. 18-20. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and ordained unto life, his Holy Spirit, to make them willing and able to believe.^g

IV. This covenant of grace is frequently set forth in the Scripture by the name of a testament, in reference to the death of Jesus Christ, the testator, and to the everlasting inheritance, with all things belonging to it, therein bequeathed.^h

V. This covenant was differently administered in the time of the law, and in the time of the gospel:ⁱ under of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen. John iii. 16. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. Rom. i. 16, 17. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith. Rom. x. 6-9. But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above;) Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.) But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach; That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

^gActs xiii. 48. And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. Ezek. xxxvi. 26, 27. A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments and do them. John vi. 37, 44, 54. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him; and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. Luke xi. 13. If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children; how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him? Gal. iii. 14. That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

IV. ^hHeb. ix. 15-17. And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance. For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. For a testament is of force after men are dead; otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

V. ⁱ2 Cor. iii. 6-9. Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit; for the letter killeth, but the law it was administered by promises, prophecies, sacrifices, circumcision, the paschal lamb, and other types and ordinances delivered to the people of the Jews, all fore-signifying Christ to come,^k which were for that time sufficient and efficacious, through the operation of the Spirit, to instruct and build up the elect in faith in the promised Messiah,^l by whom they had full remission of sins, and eternal salvation; and is called the Old Testament.^m

VI. Under the gospel, when Christ the substanceⁿ was exhibited, the ordinances in which this covenant is dispensed are the preaching of the Word, and the admin-

the spirit giveth life. But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away; How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious? For if the ministration of condemnation be glory much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.

^kSee Heb. viii. ix. x; Rom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; the righteousness might be imputed unto them also. Col. ii. 11. 12. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ: Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead. I Cor. v. 7. Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us.

^l1 Cor. x. 1-4. Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; And did all eat the same spiritual meat; And did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ. Heb. xi. 13. These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. John viii. 56. Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad.

^mGal. iii. 7-9, 14. Know ye, therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham. And the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed. So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.—That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

^oMatt. xxviii. 19, 20. Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen. 1 Cor. xi. 23-25. For I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread: And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

^pHeb. xii. 22-24. But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels, To the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel. 2 Cor. iii. 9-11. For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth. For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious. See Jer. xxxi. 33, 34.

^qLuke ii. 32. A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. Acts x. 34, 35. Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him. the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they. Rom. iii. 21, 22, 30. But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets. Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference.—Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith. Rom. iv. 16, 17, 23, 24. Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all, (As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations.) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.—Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him; But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead. V. The Lord Jesus, by his perfect obedience and sacrifice of himself, which he through the eternal Spirit once offered up unto God, hath fully satisfied the justice of his Father;^k and purchased not only reconciliation, but an everlasting inheritance in the kingdom of heaven, for all those whom the Father hath given unto him.^l

VI. Although the work of redemption was not actually wrought by Christ till after his incarnation, yet the virtue, efficacy, and benefits thereof, were communicated unto the elect, in all ages successively from the beginning of the world, in and by those promises, types, and sacrifices, wherein he was revealed and signified to be the seed of the in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. Matt. xiii. 40-42. As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Jude 6. And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day. See 2 Pet. ii. 4.

V. ^kRom. v. 19. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. Rom. iii. 25, 26. Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God; To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus. Heb. x. 14. For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. See Eph. v. 2.

In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will.—Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory. Col. i. 20. And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven. 2 Cor. v. 18, 20. And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation.—Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. John xvii. 2. As thou hast given him power over all flesh that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. Heb. ix. 12, 15. Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.—And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.

VII. ⁿJohn x. 17, 18. Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father. 1 Pet. iii. 18. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit. Heb. ix. 14. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

^oActs xx. 28. Feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. John iii. 13. And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

VIII. ^pJohn vi. 37, 39. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. John x. 15, 16, 27, 28. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.—My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

CHAPTER IX.

OF FREE WILL.

I. GOD hath endued the will of man with that natural liberty, that it is neither forced, nor, by any absolute necessity of nature, determined to good or evil.^a ⁷John xv. 15. For all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. Eph. i. 9. Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself. John xvii. 6. I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

⁸2 Cor. iv. 13. We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak. Rom. viii. 9, 14. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.—For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. Rom. xv. 18, 19. For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ. John xvii. 17. Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

^tPsa. cx. 1. The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. 1 Cor. xv. 25, 26. For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. Col. ii. 15. And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it. Luke x. 19. Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

I. ^aJames i. 14. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Deut. xxx. 19. I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live. John v. 40. And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life. Matt. xvii. 12. But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them. Acts vii. 51. Ye

II. Man, in his state of innocency, had freedom and power to will and to do that which is good and well-pleasing to God;^b but yet mutably, so that he might fall from it.^c

III. Man, by his fall into a state of sin, hath wholly lost all ability of will to any spiritual good accompanying salvation;^d so as a natural man, being altogether averse from that good,^e and dead in sin,^f is not able, by his own strength, to convert himself, or to prepare himself thereunto.^g stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye. James iv. 7. Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

II. ^bEcc. vii. 29. Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions. Gen. i. 26. And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. Col. iii. 10. And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him.

^cGen. ii. 16, 17. And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. Gen. iii. 6. And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat.

III. ^dRom. v. 6. For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. Rom. viii. 7, 8. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God. John xv. 5. For without me ye can do nothing.

^eRom. iii. 9, 10, 12, 23. What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin; As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one.—They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.—For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.

^fEph. ii. 1, 5. And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins.—Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved). Col. ii. 13. And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses.

^gJohn vi. 44, 65. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him.—And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father. 1 Cor. ii. 14. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. Tit. iii. 3-5. For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

IV. When God converts a sinner, and translates him into the state of grace, he freeth him from his natural bondage under sin,^h and, by his grace alone, enables him freely to will and to do that which is spiritually good;ⁱ yet so as that, by reason of his remaining corruption, he doth not perfectly, nor only, will that which is good, but doth also will that which is evil.^k

V. The will of man is made perfectly and immutably free to good alone, in the state of glory only.^l

Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.—If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

ⁱPhil. ii. 13. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure. Rom. vi. 18, 22. Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.—But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

^kGal. v. 17. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. Rom. vii. 15, 21-23. For that which I do I allow not: for what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.—I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man: But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members. 1 John i. 8, 10. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.—If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

^b2 Thess. ii. 13, 14. God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth: Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 2 Cor. iii. 3, 6. Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.—Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. James i. 18. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures. 1 Cor. ii. 12. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

^cRom. viii. 2. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death. 2 Tim. i. 9, 10. Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began, But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. See Eph. ii. 1-10.

OF JUSTIFICATION.

I. THOSE whom God effectually calleth, he also freely justifieth:^a not by infusing righteousness into them, but by pardoning their sins, and by accounting and accepting their persons as righteous: not for any thing wrought in them, or done by them, but for Christ's sake alone: not by imputing faith itself, the act of believing, or any other evangelical obedience to them, as their righteousness; but by imputing the obedience and satisfaction of Christ unto them,^b they receiving and resting on him and his righteousness by faith; which faith they have not of themselves, it is the gift of God.^c

To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.—For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. Tit. iii. 5, 7. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. —That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. Eph. i. 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. Jer. xxiii. 6. II. Faith, thus receiving and resting on Christ and his righteousness, is the alone instrument of justification;^d yet is it not alone in the person justified, but is ever accompanied with all other saving graces, and is no dead faith, but worketh by love.^e

III. Christ, by his obedience and death, did fully discharge the debt of all those that are thus justified, and did make a proper, real, and full satisfaction to his Father's justice in their behalf.^f Yet, inasmuch as he was given by the Father for them;^g and his obedience and satisfac-

that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. Acts x. 43, 44. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins. While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. See Acts xiii. 38, 39. Phil. i. 29. For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake. Phil. iii. 9. And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith. Eph. ii. 8. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God.

II. ^dJohn iii. 16, 18, 36. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.—He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. Rom. iii. 28. Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law. Rom. v. 1. Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

^eJames ii. 17, 22, 26. Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.—Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?—For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also. Gal. v. 6. For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love.

III. ^fRom. v. 8, 9, 18. But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.—Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. 1 Tim. ii. 5, 6. OF REPENTANCE UNTO LIFE.

I. REPENTANCE unto life is an evangelical grace,^a the doctrine whereof is to be preached by every minister of the gospel, as well as that of faith in Christ.^b

II. By it a sinner, out of the sight and sense, not only of the danger, but also of the filthiness and odiousness of his sins, as contrary to the holy nature and righteous law of God, and upon the apprehension of his mercy in Christ to such as are penitent, so grieves for and hates his sins, as to turn from them all unto God,^c purposing and endeavoring to walk with him in all the ways of his commandments.^d

II. ^cEzek. xviii. 30, 31. Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin. Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? Ezek. xxxvi. 31. Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. Psal. li. 4. Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest. Jer. xxxi. 18, 19. I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the Lord my God. Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth. 2 Cor. vii. 11. For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehemence desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter. See Joel ii. 12, 13; Amos v. 15; Psal. cxix. 128.

Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.—I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.—I have sworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments. Matt. xxi. 28, 29. But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said,

III. Although repentance be not to be rested in as any satisfaction for sin, or any cause of the pardon thereof,^e which is the act of God's free grace in Christ;^f yet is it of such necessity to all sinners, that none may expect pardon without it.^g

IV. As there is no sin so small but it deserves damnation;^h so there is no sin so great, that it can bring damnation upon those who truly repent.ⁱ

V. Men ought not to content themselves with a general repentance, but it is every man's duty to endeavor to repent of his particular sins, particularly.^k

Son, go work to day in my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went. Luke i. 6. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

III. ^eEzek. xxxvi. 31, 32. Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord God, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel. Ezek. xvi. 63. That thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

^fHos. xiv. 2, 4. Take with you words, and turn to the LORD: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously: so will we render the calves of our lips.—I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him. Rom. iii. 24. Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus. Eph. i. 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace.

^gLuke xiii. 3, 5. I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. Acts xvii. 30, 31. And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent: Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

IV. ^hRom. vi. 23. For the wages of sin is death. Matt. xii. 36. But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.

VI. As every man is bound to make private confession of his sins to God, praying for the pardon thereof;^l upon which, and the forsaking of them, he shall find mercy:^m so he that scandalizeth his brother, or the Church of Christ, ought to be willing, by a private or public confession and sorrow for his sin, to declare his repentance to those that are offended;ⁿ who are thereupon to be reconciled to him, and in love to receive him.^o

OF GOOD WORKS.

I. Good works are only such as God hath commanded in his holy Word,^a and not such as, without the warrant

I shall be innocent from the great transgression. Luke xix. 8. And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold. 1 Tim. i. 13, 15. Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief.—This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

VI. ^lPsa. xxxii. 5, 6. I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the LORD; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah. For this shall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the floods of great waters they shall not come nigh unto him. See Psa. li.

^mProv. xxviii. 13. He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy. 1 John i. 9. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins.

ⁿJames v. 16. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. Luke xvii. 3, 4. Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him: and if he repent, forgive him. And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him. Josh. vii. 19. And Joshua said unto Achan, My son, give I pray thee, glory to the LORD God of Israel, and make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; hide it not from me. See Psa. li.

^o2 Cor. ii. 8. Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him. See Gal. vi. 1, 2.

I. ^aMicah vi. 8. He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Rom. xii. 2. And be not conformed thereof, are devised by men out of blind zeal, or upon any pretence of good intention.^b

to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God. Heb. xiii. 21. Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is wellpleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

^bMatt. xv. 9. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. Isa. xxix. 13. Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men. 1 Pet. i. 18. Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers. John xvi. 2. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God a service. Rom. x. 2. For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. 1 Sam. xv. 22. And Samuel said, Hath the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice and to hearken than the fat of rams. Deut. x. 12, 13. And now, Israel, what doth the LORD thy God require of thee, but to fear the LORD thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the LORD thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, To keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good? Col. ii. 16, 17, 20-23. Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days: Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.—Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances, (Touch not; taste not; handle not; Which all are to perish with the using;) after the commandments and doctrines of men? Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honor to the satisfying of the flesh.

II. ^cJames ii. 18, 22. Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: show me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works.—Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

^dPsa. cxvi. 12, 13. What shall I render unto the LORD for all his benefits toward me? I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the LORD. 1 Pet. ii. 9. But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.

^e1 John ii. 3, 5. And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.—But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him. 2 Pet. i. 5-10. And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue;

ren,^f adorn the profession of the gospel,^g stop the mouths of the adversaries,^h and glorify God,ⁱ whose workmanship they are, created in Christ Jesus thereunto;^k that, having their fruit unto holiness, they may have the end, eternal life.^l

III. Their ability to do good works is not at all of themselves, but wholly from the Spirit of Christ.^m And that and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity. For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our LORD Jesus Christ. But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall.

^f2 Cor. ix. 2. For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many. Matt. v. 16. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. 1 Tim. iv. 12. Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

^gTit. ii. 5, 9-12. To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed. —Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again; Not purloining, but showing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world. 1 Tim. vi. 1. Let as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honor, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

^h1 Pet. ii. 15. For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men.

ⁱ1 Pet. ii. 12. Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation. Phil. i. 11. Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God. John xv. 8. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit.

^kEph. ii. 10. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

^lRom. vi. 22. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

III. ^mJohn xv. 4-6. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth they may be enabled thereunto, besides the graces they have already received, there is required an actual influence of the same Holy Spirit to work in them to will and to do of his good pleasure:ⁿ yet are they not hereupon to grow negligent, as if they were not bound to perform any duty unless upon a special motion of the Spirit; but they ought to be diligent in stirring up the grace of God that is in them.^o

IV. They who, in their obedience, attain to the greatest height which is possible in this life, are so far from being able to supererogate and to do more than God requires, that they fall short of much which in duty they are bound to do.^p

V. We cannot, by our best works, merit pardon of sin, or eternal life, at the hand of God, by reason of the great disproportion that is between them and the glory to come, and the infinite distance that is between us and God, in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. Luke xi. 13. If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children; how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him? See Ezek. xxxvi. 26, 27.

ⁿPhil. ii. 13. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure. Phil. iv. 13. I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. 2 Cor. iii. 5. Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God. Eph. iii. 16. That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man.

^oPhil. ii. 12. Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. Heb. vi. 11, 12. And we desire that every one of you do show the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end: That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises. Isa. lxiv. 7. And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us, because of our iniquities. See 2 Pet. i. 3, 5, 10, 11; 2 Tim. i. 6; Acts xxvi. 6, 7; Jude 20, 21.

IV. ^pLuke xvii. 10. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do. Gal. v. 17. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

whom by them we can neither profit, nor satisfy for the debt of our former sins;² but, when we have done all we can, we have done but our duty, and are unprofitable servants;⁷ and because, as they are good, they proceed from his Spirit;⁸ and, as they are wrought by us, they are defiled and mixed with so much weakness and imperfection, that they cannot endure the severity of God's judgment.⁴

VI. Yet notwithstanding, the persons of believers being accepted through Christ, their good works also are accepted in him,¹¹ not as though they were in this life wholly unblamable and unreprouvable in God's sight;¹⁰ but that he, looking upon them in his Son, is pleased to accept and reward that which is sincere, although accompanied with many weaknesses and imperfections.¹²

V. ¹Rom. iii. 20. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin. Rom. iv. 2, 4, 6. For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.—Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.—Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works. Eph. ii. 8, 9. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast. See Tit. iii. 5-7; Rom. viii. 18, 22-24.

⁷Luke xvii. 10. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

⁸Gal. v. 22, 23. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, Meekness, temperance.

⁴Isa. lxiv. 6. But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away. Psa cxliii. 2. And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified. Psa. cxxx. 3. If thou, LORD, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? See Gal. v. 17, and Rom. vii. 15, 18.

VI. ¹¹Eph. i. 6. To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved. 1 Pet. ii. 5. Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

¹⁰Psa. cxliii. 2. And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

¹²2 Cor. viii. 12. For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not. Heb. vi. 10. For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have showed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister. Matt. xxv. 21, 23. His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over

VII. Works done by unregenerate men, although for the matter of them they may be things which God commands, and in themselves praiseworthy and useful, and although the neglect of such things is sinful and displeasing unto God;^y yet, because they proceed not from a heart purified by faith;^z nor are done in a right manner, according to His Word;^a nor to a right end, the glory of God;^b they come short of what God requires, and do not make any man meet to receive the grace of God.^c

And the LORD said unto Jehu, Because thou hast done well in executing that which is right in mine eyes, and hast done unto the house of Ahab according to all that was in mine heart, thy children of the fourth generation shall sit on the throne of Israel. But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the LORD God of Israel with all his heart: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sin. See 1 Kings xxi. 29. Phil. i. 15, 16, 18. Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will: The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds.—What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice.

^zHeb. xi. 4, 6. By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead yet speaketh.—But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him. See Gen. iv. 3-5.

^aMark x. 20, 21. And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth. Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me. 1 Cor. xiii. 3. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. Isa. i. 12. When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

^bMatt. vi. 2, 5, 16. Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.—And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are; for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.—Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance; for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

OF THE PERSEVERANCE OF THE SAINTS.

I. THEY whom God hath accepted in his Beloved, effectually called and sanctified by his Spirit, can neither totally nor finally fall away from the state of grace; but shall certainly persevere therein to the end, and be eternally saved.^a

II. This perseverance of the saints depends, not upon their own free-will, but upon the immutability of the decree of election, flowing from the free and unchangeable love of God the Father;^b upon the efficacy of the merit and intercession of Jesus Christ;^c the abiding of the Jer. xxxi. 3. The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee.

^cJohn xvii. 11, 24. And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.—Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world. Heb. vii. 25. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them. Luke xxii. 32. But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. Rom. viii. 33, 34, 38, 39. CHAPTER XIX.

OF THE LAW OF GOD.

I. God gave to Adam a law, as a covenant of works, by which he bound him and all his posterity to personal, entire, exact, and perpetual obedience; promised life upon the fulfilling, and threatened death upon the breach of it; and endued him with power and ability to keep it.^a

II. This law, after his fall, continued to be a perfect rule of righteousness, and, as such, was delivered by God from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee.

^a1 John iii. 9. Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God. Luke xxii. 32. But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not. See Psa. lxxiii. 15.

^aMicah vii. 7-9. Therefore I will look unto the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. Jer. xxxii. 40. And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. See Isa. liv. 7-10; 2 Cor. iv. 8-10. We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed; Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. Eph. iv. 24. And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. Rom. ii. 14, 15. For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves; Which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another. Rom. x. 5. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law. That the man which doeth those things

III. Besides this law, commonly called moral, God was pleased to give to the people of Israel, as a Church under age, ceremonial laws, containing several typical ordinances, partly of worship, prefiguring Christ, his graces, actions, sufferings, and benefits;^d and partly holding forth divers instructions of moral duties.^e All which ceremonial laws are now abrogated under the New Testament.^f shall live by them. Rom. v. 12, 19. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned.—For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. See Gal. iii. 10, 12.

Ye shall observe to do therefore as the Lord your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. Deut. x. 4. And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandments, which the Lord spake unto you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly: and the Lord gave them unto me. See Ex. xxxiv. 1; Rom. viii. 8, 9.

^cMatt. xxii. 37-40. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets. See Ex. xx. 3-18.

If ye fulfil the royal law according to the Scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well.—For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law. Rom. iii. 19. ^kMatt. v. 18, 19. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. Rom. iii. 31. Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

VI. Although true believers be not under the law as a covenant of works, to be thereby justified or condemned;^l yet is it of great use to them, as well as to others; in that, as a rule of life, informing them of the will of God and their duty, it directs and binds them to walk accordingly;^m discovering also the sinful pollutions of their nature, hearts, and lives;ⁿ so as, examining themselves thereby, they may come to further conviction of, humiliation for, and hatred against sin;^o together with a clearer sight of the need they have of Christ, and the perfection of his obedience.^p It is likewise of use to the regenerate, to restrain their corruptions, in that it forbids sin;^q and ^oJames i. 23, 25. For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass.—But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed. Rom. vii. 9, 14, 24. For I was alive without the law once; but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.—For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin.—O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

VII. Neither are the forementioned uses of the law contrary to the grace of the gospel, but do sweetly comply with it;^w the Spirit of Christ subduing and enabling the will of man to do that freely and cheerfully, which the will of God, revealed in the law, requireth to be done.^z

CHAPTER XX.

OF CHRISTIAN LIBERTY, AND LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE.

I. THE liberty which Christ hath purchased for believers under the gospel consists in their freedom from the guilt of sin, the condemning wrath of God, the curse of the moral law,^a and in their being delivered from this present evil world, bondage to Satan, and dominion of sin,^b from the evil of afflictions, the sting of death, the Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile. Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it. The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry. The face of the LORD is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

VII. ^wGal. iii. 21. Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. See Tit. ii. 11-14.

^zEzek. xxxvi. 27. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. Heb. viii. 10. For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord: I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people. See Jer. xxxi. 33.

Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree. Rom. viii. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus.

^bGal. i. 4. Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father. Acts xxvi. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. Rom. vi. 14. For sin shall not have dominion victory of the grave, and everlasting damnation;^c as also in their free access to God,^d and their yielding obedience unto him, not out of slavish fear, but a child-like love, and a willing mind.^e All which were common also to believers under the law:^f but under the New Testament, the liberty of Christians is further enlarged in their freedom from the yoke of the ceremonial law, to which the Jewish Church was subjected;^g and in greater boldness of access to the throne of grace,^h and in fuller communiover you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace. 1 John i. 7. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. 1 Cor. xv. 54-57. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. See Rom. viii. 1.

^dRom. v. 1, 2. Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ: By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. Eph. ii. 18. For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father. Eph. iii. 12. In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him. Heb. x. 19. Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus.

^eRom. viii. 14, 15. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. Gal. iv. 6. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. 1 John iv. 18. There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.

^fGal. iii. 9, 14. So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.—That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

^gGal. v. 1. Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage. Acts xv. 10. Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

^hHeb. iv. 14, 16. Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.—Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. Heb. x. 19-22. Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest cations of the free Spirit of God, than believers under the law did ordinarily partake of.ⁱ

II. God alone is lord of the conscience,^k and hath left it free from the doctrines and commandments of men which are in any thing contrary to his Word, or beside it, in matters of faith or worship.^l So that to believe such doctrines, or to obey such commandments out of conscience, is to betray true liberty of conscience;^m and the

by the blood of Jesus, By a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh; And having an high priest over the house of God; Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

ⁱJohn vii. 38, 39. He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.) Rom. v. 5. And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us. See 2 Cor. iii. 13, 17, 18.

II. ^kRom. xiv. 4, 10. Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.—But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ. James iv. 12. There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy; who art thou that judgest another?

^lActs iv. 19. But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. Acts v. 29. Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men. Matt. xxviii. 8-10. And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word. And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshiped him. Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me. See 1 Cor. vii. 23; 2 Cor. i. 24; Matt. xv. 9.

^mCol. ii. 20, 22, 23. Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,—(Which all are to perish with the using;) after the commandments and doctrines of men? Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honor to the satisfying of the flesh. Gal. i. 10. For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ. Gal. ii. 4, 5. And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage: To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you. Gal. iv. 9, 10. But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto requiring of an implicit faith, and an absolute and blind obedience, is to destroy liberty of conscience, and reason also."ⁿ

III. They who, upon pretence of Christian liberty, do practice any sin, or cherish any lust, do thereby destroy the end of Christian liberty; which is, that, being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, we might serve the Lord without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.^o Zech.

IV. And because the powers which God hath ordained, and the liberty which Christ hath purchased, are not intended by God to destroy, but mutually to uphold and preserve one another; they who, upon pretence of Christian liberty, shall oppose any lawful power, or the lawful exercise of it, whether it be civil or ecclesiastical, resist the ordinance of God.ⁿ And for their publishing of such ye desire again to be in bondage? Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years. Gal. v. 1. Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. Acts xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so. John iv. 22. Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. Jer. viii. 9. The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the Lord; and what wisdom is in them? 1 Pet. iii. 15. But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear.

III. ^oLuke i. 74, 75. That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. Rom. vi. 15. What then? shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid. Gal. v. 13. For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. 1 Pet. ii. 16. As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. 2 Pet. iii. 15. And account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you. See 2 Pet. ii. 19; John viii. 34.

IV. ²¹1 Pet. ii. 13, 14, 16. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil-opinions, or maintaining of such practices, as are contrary to the light of nature; or to the known principles of Christianity, whether concerning faith, worship, or conversation; or to the power of godliness; or such erroneous opinions or practices, as either, in their own nature, or, in the manner of publishing or maintaining them, are destructive to the external peace and order which Christ hath established in the Church: they may lawfully be called to account, and proceeded against by the censures of the Church.^a

OF RELIGIOUS WORSHIP AND THE SABBATH-DAY.

I. THE light of nature sheweth that there is a God, who hath lordship and sovereignty over all; is good, and doeth good unto all; and is therefore to be feared, loved, praised, called upon, trusted in, and served with all the heart, and doers, and for the praise of them that do well.—As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God. Heb. xiii. 17. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you. See Rom. xiii. 1-8.

¶ Matt. xviii. 15-17. Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. 2 Thess. iii. 14. And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed. Tit. iii. 10. A man that is an heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject. 1 Cor. v. 11-13. But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat. For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within? But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person. Rom. xvi. 17. Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them. 2 Thess. iii. 6. Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

with all the soul, and with all the might.^a But the acceptable way of worshipping the true God is instituted by himself, and so limited by his own revealed will, that he may not be worshiped according to the imaginations and devices of men, or the suggestions of Satan, under any visible representation, or any other way not prescribed in the Holy Scripture.^b

II. Religious worship is to be given to God, the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost; and to him alone:^c not to angels, saints, or any other creature:^d and, since the fall, not

For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. Psa. cxix. 68. Thou art good, and doest good: teach me thy statutes. Jer. x. 7. Who would not fear thee, O King of nations? for to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee. Psa. xxxi. 23. O love the LORD, all ye his saints: for the LORD preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer. Acts xiv. 17. Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness. See Psa. xviii. 3; Rom. x. 12; Psa. lxii. 8; Josh. xxiv. 14; Mark xii. 33.

^bDeut. xii. 32. What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it. Matt. xv. 9. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. Matt. iv. 9, 10. And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. John iv. 23, 24. But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. Ex. xx. 4-6. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

II. ^cJohn v. 23. That all men should honor the Son, even as they honor the Father. He that honoreth not the Son, honoreth not the Father which hath sent him. Matt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 2 Cor. xiii. 14. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen. See Matt. iv. 10; Rev. v. 11-14.

^dCol. ii. 18. Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels. Rev. xix. 10. And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus:

without a Mediator; nor in the mediation of any other but of Christ alone.^e

III. Prayer, with thanksgiving, being one special part of religious worship,^f is by God required of all men;^g and, that it may be accepted, it is to be made in the name of the Son,^h by the help of his Spirit,ⁱ according to his will,^k with understanding, reverence, humility, fervency, faith, love, and perseverance;^l and, if vocal, in a known tongue.^m worship God. Rom. i. 25. Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshiped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

^eJohn xiv. 6. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. 1 Tim. ii. 5. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus. Eph. ii. 18. For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father. Col. iii. 17. And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

III. ^fPhil. iv. 6. Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. 1 Tim. ii. 1. I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men. Col. iv. 2. Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving.

^gPsa. lxxv. 2. O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come. Psa. lxxvii. 3. Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee. 1 Thess. v. 17, 18. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

^hJohn xiv. 13, 14. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it. 1 Pet. ii. 5. Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

ⁱRom. viii. 26. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. Eph. vi. 18. Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints.

^k1 John v. 14. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

^{o1} Tim. ii. 1, 2. I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. John xvii. 20. Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word. 2 Sam. vii. 29. Therefore now let it please thee to bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever before thee: for thou, O Lord God, hast spoken it: and with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever.

^{p2} Sam. xii. 21-23. Then said his servants unto him, What thing is this that thou hast done? thou didst fast and weep for the child, while it was alive; but when the child was dead, thou didst rise and eat bread. And he said, While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept: for I said, Who can tell whether God will be gracious to me, that the child may live? But now he is dead, wherefore should I fast? can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me. Luke xvi. 25, 26. But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivest thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

^{q1} John v. 16. If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.

V. ^rActs xv. 21. For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath day. Rev. i. 3. Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

^{s2} Tim. iv. 2. Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine.

^tJames i. 22. But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. Acts x. 33. Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God. Heb. iv. 2. For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it. See Matt. xiii. 19; Isa. lxvi. 2.

^uCol. iii. 16. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. Eph. v. 19. Speak-

VI. Neither prayer, nor any other part of religious worship, is now, under the gospel, either tied unto, or made more acceptable by, any place in which it is performed, or towards which it is directed:^c but God is to be worshiped every where^d in spirit and in truth;^e as in private ing to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord. James v. 13. Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing psalms. Acts xvi. 25. And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them.

^wMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Acts ii. 42. And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. See 1 Cor. xi. 23-29.

^xDeut. vi. 13. Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name. Neh. x. 29. They clave to their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in God's law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe and do all the commandments of the LORD our Lord, and his judgments and his statutes.

^yEcc. v. 4, 5. When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed. Better is it that thou shouldst not vow, than that thou shouldst vow and not pay.

^zJoel ii. 12. Therefore also now, saith the LORD, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning. Matt. ix. 15. Can the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast. into the first day of the week,^l which in Scripture is called the Lord's Day,^m and is to be continued to the end of the world, as the Christian Sabbath.ⁿ

VIII. This Sabbath is then kept holy unto the Lord, when men, after a due preparing of their hearts, and ordering of their common affairs beforehand, do not only observe an holy rest all the day from their own works, words, and thoughts, about their worldly employments and recreations;^o but also are taken up the whole time in the public and private exercises of his worship, and in the duties of necessity and mercy.^p ^lGen. ii. 3. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. 1 Cor. xvi. 1, 2. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come. Acts xx. 7. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

ⁿMatt. v. 17, 18. Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. See Ex. xx. 8, 10.

VIII. ^oEx. xvi. 23, 25, 26, 29, 30. And he said unto them, This is that which the LORD hath said, To morrow is the rest of the holy sabbath unto the LORD: bake that which ye will bake to day, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning.—And Moses said, Eat that to day; for to day is the sabbath unto the LORD; to day ye shall not find it in the field. Six days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the sabbath, in it there shall be none.—See, for that the LORD hath given you the sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days; abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day. So the people rested on the seventh day. Ex. xxxi. 15, 16. Six days may work be done; but in the seventh is the sabbath of rest, holy to the LORD: whosoever doeth any work in the sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death. Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant. See Isa. lviii. 13; Neh. xiii. 15-22.

^pIsa. lviii. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the LORD, honorable; and shalt honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words. See Matt. xii. 1-13.

CHAPTER XXII.

OF LAWFUL OATHS AND VOWS.

I. A LAWFUL oath is a part of religious worship,^a wherein, upon just occasion, the person swearing, solemnly calleth God to witness what he asserteth or promiseth; and to judge him according to the truth or falsehood of what he sweareth.^b

II. The name of God only is that by which men ought to swear, and therein it is to be used with all holy fear and reverence;^c therefore to swear vainly or rashly by that glorious and dreadful name, or to swear at all by any other thing, is sinful and to be abhorred.^d Yet as, in matters of weight and moment, an oath is warranted by the Word of God, under the New Testament, as well as under the Old;^e so a lawful oath, being imposed by lawful authority, in such matters, ought to be taken.^f

I. ^aDeut. x. 20. Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God; him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and swear by his name.

^bEx. xx. 7. Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain; for the LORD will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain. Lev. xix. 12. And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the LORD. 2 Cor. i. 23. Moreover I call God for a record upon my soul, that to spare you I came not as yet unto Corinth. 2 Chron. vi. 22, 23. If a man sin against his neighbor, and an oath be laid upon him to make him swear, and the oath come before thine altar in this house; Then hear thou from heaven, and do, and judge thy servants, by requiting the wicked, by recompensing his way upon his own head; and by justifying the righteous, by giving him according to his righteousness.

II. ^cDeut. vi. 13. Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name.

^dJer. v. 7. How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods. Matt. v. 34, 37. But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne.—But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil. James v. 12. But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation. See Ex. xx. 7.

^eHeb. vi. 16. For men verily swear by the greater: and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife. Isa. lxv. 16. That he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth. See 2 Cor. i. 23.

^f1 Kings viii. 31. If any man trespass against his neighbor, and an oath be laid upon him to cause him to swear, and the oath come before

III. Whosoever taketh an oath ought duly to consider the weightiness of so solemn an act, and therein to avouch nothing but what he is fully persuaded is the truth.^g Neither may any man bind himself by oath to any thing but what is good and just, and what he believeth so to be, and what he is able and resolved to perform.^h

IV. An oath is to be taken in the plain and common sense of the words, without equivocation or mental reservation.^k It cannot oblige to sin; but in any thing not sinful, being taken, it binds to performance, although to a man's own hurt;^l nor is it to be violated, although made to heretics or infidels.^m

V. A vow is of the like nature with a promissory oath, and ought to be made with the like religious care, and to be performed with the like faithfulness.ⁿ

thine altar in this house. Ezra x. 5. Then arose Ezra, and made the chief priests, the Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they should do according to this word. And they sware.

III. ^gJer. iv. 2. And thou shalt swear, The Lord liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory. See Ex. xx. 7.

^hGen. xxiv. 2, 3, 9. And Abraham said unto his eldest servant of his house, that ruled over all that he had, Put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh: And I will make thee swear by the Lord, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife unto my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I dwell.—And the servant put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master, and sware to him concerning that matter.

Neh. v. 12. Then I called the priests, and took an oath of them, that they should do according to this promise. See Ex. xxii. 7-11.

IV. ^kPsa. xxiv. 4. He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. See Jer. iv. 2; Ex. xx. 7.

^lPsa. xv. 4. In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.

^mEzek. xvii. 16, 18. As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dvelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.—Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when, lo, he had given his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape. See Josh. ix. 18, 19; 2 Sam. xxi. 1.

V. ⁿIsa. xix. 21. And the Lord shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation; yea, they shall vow a vow unto the Lord, and perform it. Eccl. v. 4-6. When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed. Better is

VI. It is not to be made to any creature, but to God alone:^o and, that it may be accepted, it is to be made voluntarily; out of faith and conscience of duty; in way of thankfulness for mercy received; or for obtaining of what we want: whereby we more strictly bind ourselves to necessary duties; or to other things, so far and so long as they may fitly conduce thereunto.^p

VII. No man may vow to do any thing forbidden in the Word of God, or what would hinder any duty therein commanded, or which is not in his own power, and for the performance whereof he hath no promise or ability from God.^q In which respects, popish monastical vows of perpetual single life, professed poverty, and regular obedience, are so far from being degrees of higher perfection, that they are superstitious and sinful snares, in which no Christian may entangle himself.^r it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay. Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands? Psa. lxvi. 13, 14. I will pay thee my vows, Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble. See Psa. lxi. 8.

VI. *o*Psa. lxxvi. 11. Vow, and pay unto the LORD your God: let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared. See Jer. xlv. 25, 26.

*p*Deut. xxiii. 21, 23. When thou shall vow a vow unto the LORD thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it: for the LORD thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee.—That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform; even a freewill offering, according as thou hast vowed unto the LORD thy God, which thou hast promised with thy mouth. Psa. l. 14. Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the Most High. See 1 Sam. i. 11; Psa. cxxxii. 2-5.

VII. *q*Acts xxiii. 12. And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. Mark vi. 26. And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

*r*1 Cor. vii. 2, 9. Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.—But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. Eph. iv. 28. Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. 1 Thess. iv. 11, 12. And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you; That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing. 1 Cor. vii. 23. Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

CHAPTER XXIII.

OF THE CIVIL MAGISTRATE.

I. God, the Supreme Lord and King of all the world, hath ordained civil magistrates to be under him over the people, for his own glory and the public good: and, to this end, hath armed them with the power of the sword, for the defense and encouragement of them that are good, and for the punishment of evil doers.^a

II. It is lawful for Christians to accept and execute the office of a magistrate, when called thereunto:^b in the managing whereof, as they ought especially to maintain piety, justice, and peace, according to the wholesome laws of each commonwealth;^c so, for that end, they may lawfully, now under the New Testament, wage war upon just and necessary occasions.^d

I. ^aRom. xiii. 1-4. Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same: For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil. 1 Pet. ii. 13, 14. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake; whether it be to the king, as supreme; Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.

II. ^bProv. viii. 15, 16. By me kings reign, and princes decree justice. By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth. See Rom. xiii. 1-4.

^cPsa. lxxii. 3, 4. Defend the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and needy. Deliver the poor and needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked. 2 Sam. xxiii. 3. The God of Israel said, the Rock of Israel spake to me, He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. See 1 Pet. ii. 13; Psa. ci.

^dLuke iii. 14. And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages. Matt. viii. 9, 10. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. Rom. xiii. 4. For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

III. Civil magistrates may not assume to themselves the administration of the Word and Sacraments;^e or the power of the keys of the kingdom of heaven;^f or, in the least, interfere in matters of faith.^g Yet, as nursing fathers, it is the duty of civil magistrates to protect the Church of our common Lord, without giving the preference to any denomination of Christians above the rest, in such a manner that all ecclesiastical persons whatever shall enjoy the full, free, and unquestioned liberty of discharging every part of their sacred functions, without violence or danger.^h And, as Jesus Christ hath appointed a regular government and discipline in his Church, no law of any commonwealth should interfere with, let, or hinder, the due exercise thereof, among the voluntary members of any denomination of Christians, according to their own profession and belief.ⁱ It is the duty of civil magistrates to protect the person and good name of all their people, in such an effectual manner as that no person be suffered, either upon pretence of religion or of infidelity, to offer any indignity, violence, abuse, or injury to any other person whatsoever: and to

III. ^eHeb. v. 4. And no man taketh this honor unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron. 2 Chron. xxvi. 18. And they withstood Uzziah the king, and said unto him, It appertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incense unto the Lord, but to the priests the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense; go out of the sanctuary; for thou hast trespassed; neither shall it be for thine honor from the Lord God.

^fMatt. xvi. 19. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 1 Cor. iv. 1, 2. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

^gJohn xviii. 36. Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world. Acts v. 29. Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men. Eph. iv. 11, 12. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ.

take order, that all religious and ecclesiastical assemblies be held without molestation or disturbance.^k

IV. It is the duty of people to pray for magistrates,^l to honor their persons,^m to pay them tribute and other dues,ⁿ to obey their lawful commands, and to be subject to their authority, for conscience' sake.^o Infidelity or difference in religion, doth not make void the magistrate's just and legal authority, nor free the people from their due obedience to him:^p from which ecclesiastical persons are not exempted;^q much less hath the Pope any power or jurisdiction over them in their dominions, or over any of their people; and least of all to deprive them of their dominions or lives, if he shall judge them to be heretics, or upon any other pretence whatsoever.^r ^k2 Sam xxiii. 3. The God of Israel said, the Rock of Israel spake to me, He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God. See Rom. xiii. 4.

IV. ^l1 Tim. ii. 1-3. I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour.

^m1 Pet. ii. 17. Fear God. Honor the king.

ⁿMatt. xxii. 21. Render therefore unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's and unto God the things that are God's. Rom. xiii. 6, 7. For, for this cause pay ye tribute also; for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor.

^oRom. xiii. 5. Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath but also for conscience' sake. Tit. iii. 1. Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work.

^p1 Pet. ii. 13, 14, 16. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme: Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.—As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

^qRom. xiii. 1. Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. Acts xxv. 10, 11. Then said Paul, I stand at Cæsar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest. For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die; but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cæsar.

^r2 Tim. ii. 24. And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient. 1 Pet. v. 3. Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

CHAPTER XXIV.

OF MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

I. MARRIAGE is to be between one man and one woman: neither is it lawful for any man to have more than one wife, nor for any woman to have more than one husband at the same time.^a

II. Marriage was ordained for the mutual help of husband and wife;^b for the increase of mankind with a legitimate issue, and of the Church with an holy seed;^c and for preventing of uncleanness.^d

III. It is lawful for all sorts of people to marry who are able with judgment to give their consent;^e yet it is the duty of Christians to marry only in the Lord.^f And, therefore, such as profess the true reformed religion should not marry with infidels, Papists, or other idolaters: neither should such as are godly be unequally yoked, by marrying

I. ^aGen. ii. 24. Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh. Matt. xix. 4-6. And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female, And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh? Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. See Rom. vii. 3.

II. ^bGen. ii. 18. And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a help meet for him.

^cGen. ix. 1. And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth. Mal. ii. 15. And did not he make one? Yet had he the residue of the Spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

^d1 Cor. vii. 2, 9. Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.—But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

III. ^eHeb. xiii. 4. Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. 1 Tim. iv. 3. Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth. Gen. xxiv. 57, 58. And they said, We will call the damsel, and inquire at her mouth. And they called Rebekah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she said, I will go.

^f1 Cor. vii. 39. The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

with such as are notoriously wicked in their life or maintain damnable heresies.^g

IV. Marriage ought not to be within the degrees of consanguinity or affinity forbidden in the Word;^h nor can such incestuous marriages ever be made lawful by any law of man, or consent of parties, so as those persons may live together as man and wife.ⁱ

V. Adultery or fornication, committed after a contract, being detected before marriage, giveth just occasion to the innocent party to dissolve that contract.^k In the case of adultery after marriage, it is lawful for the innocent party to sue out a divorce,^l and after the divorce to marry another, as if the offending party were dead.^m ^g2 Cor. vi. 14. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? See Deut. vii. 3, 4; 1 Kings xi. 4; Neh. xiii. 25-27.

IV. ^hSee Lev. xviii. 1 Cor. v. 1. It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.

ⁱMark vi. 18. For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. Lev. xviii. 24-28. Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you: And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you: (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled;) That the land spew not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spewed out the nations that were before you.

V. ^kMatt. i. 18-20. Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

^lMatt. v. 31, 32. It hath been said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery.

^mMatt. xix. 9. And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery; and whoso marieth her which is put away doth commit adultery. See Rom. vii. 2, 3.

VI. Although the corruption of man be such as is apt to study arguments, unduly to put asunder those whom God hath joined together in marriage; yet nothing but adultery, or such willful desertion as can no way be remedied by the Church or civil magistrate, is cause sufficient of dissolving the bond of marriage:ⁿ wherein a public and orderly course of proceeding is to be observed; and the persons concerned in it not left to their own wills and discretion in their own case.^o

CHAPTER XXV.

OF THE CHURCH.

I. THE catholic or universal Church, which is invisible, consists of the whole number of the elect, that have been, are, or shall be gathered into one, under Christ the head thereof; and is the spouse, the body, the fullness of him that filleth all in all.^a

VI. ⁿMatt. xix. 8. He saith unto them, Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. 1 Cor. vii. 15. But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace. Matt. xix. 6. Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

^oDeut. xxiv. 1-4. When a man hath taken a wife, and married her, and it come to pass that she find no favor in his eyes, because he hath found some uncleanness in her: then let him write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house. And when she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife. And if the latter husband hate her, and write her a bill of divorcement, and giveth it in her hand, and sendeth her out of his house; or if the latter husband die, which took her to be his wife; Her former husband, which sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after that she is defiled; for that is abomination before the LORD: and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance. Ezra x. 3. Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel of my lord, and of those that tremble at the commandment of our God; and let it be done according to the law.

I. ^aEph. i. 10, 22, 23. That in the dispensation of the fullness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in him.—And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, Which is his body, the fullness of him that filleth all in all. Col. i. 18. And he is the head of the body, the church. See Eph. v. 23, 27, 32.

II. The visible Church, which is also catholic or universal under the gospel (not confined to one nation, as before under the law), consists of all those throughout the world, that profess the true religion,^b together with their children;^c and is the kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ,^d the house and family of God,^e out of which there is no ordinary possibility of salvation.^f — see Gen. 22

III. Unto this catholic visible Church, Christ hath given the ministry, oracles, and ordinances of God, for the gathering and perfecting of the saints, in this life, to the end of the world: and doth by his own presence and Spirit, according to his promise, make them effectual thereunto.^g

II. ^b1 Cor. i. 2. Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours. 1 Cor. xii. 12, 13. For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. Psal. ii. 8. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. See Rom. xv. 9–12.

^c1 Cor. vii. 14. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband; else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. Acts ii. 39. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off even as many as the Lord our God shall call. Gen. xvii. 7. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee. Rom. xi. 16. For if the first fruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches. See Gal. iii. 7, 9, 14; Rom. iv.

^dMatt. xiii. 31. Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field. Col. i. 13. Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son. See Psal. lxxii.; Isa. ix. 7.

^eEph. ii. 19. Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God. Eph. iii. 15. Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named.

^fMatt. x. 32, 33. Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven. Acts ii. 47. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

III. ^gEph. iv. 11–13. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge

IV. This catholic Church hath been sometimes more, sometimes less, visible.^h And particular churches, which are members thereof, are more or less pure, according as the doctrine of the gospel is taught and embraced, ordinances administered, and public worship performed more or less purely in them.ⁱ

V. The purest churches under heaven are subject both to mixture and error:^k and some have so degenerated, as to become no churches of Christ, but synagogues of Satan.^l of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ. Isa. lix. 21. As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD; My Spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever. Matt. xxviii. 19, 20. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

IV. ^hRom. xi. 3, 4. Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life. But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal. See Acts ix. 31.

ⁱActs ii. 41, 42. Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls. And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. 1 Cor. v. 6, 7. Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us. See Rev. ii. and iii.

V. ^k1 Cor. i. 2. Unto the Church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours. See 1 Cor. v; 1 Cor. xiii. 12. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. Matt. xiii. 24-30, 47. Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also, etc.—Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind. See Rev. ii. and iii.

^lRom. xi. 20-22. Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not highminded, but fear: For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee. Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off. Rev. ii. 9. I know thy works, and tribulation,

Nevertheless, there shall be always a Church on earth, to worship God according to his will.^m

VI. The Lord Jesus Christ is the only head of the Church,ⁿ and the claim of any man to be the vicar of Christ and the head of the Church, is unscriptural, without warrant in fact, and is a usurpation dishonoring to the Lord Jesus Christ.^o

CHAPTER XXVI.

OF THE COMMUNION OF SAINTS.

I. ALL saints that are united to Jesus Christ their head, by his Spirit and by faith, have fellowship with him in his graces, sufferings, death, resurrection, and glory:^a and, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not but are the synagogue of Satan.

^mMatt. xvi. 18. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. See Psa. lxxii; Matt. xxviii. 19, 20.

VI. ⁿCol. i. 18. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence. Eph. i. 22. And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church.

^oMatt. xxiii. 8-10. But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren. And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ. 1 Pet. v. 2-4. Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away. 2 Thess. ii. 3, 4. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition; Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshiped: so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God.

I. ^a1 John i. 3. That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. Eph. iii. 16, 17. That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith. John i. 16. And of his fullness have all we received, and grace for grace. Phil. iii. 10. That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made con-being united to one another in love, they have communion in each other's gifts and graces;^b and are obliged to the performance of such duties, public and private, as do conduce to their mutual good, both in the inward and outward man.^c

II. Saints, by profession, are bound to maintain an holy fellowship and communion, in the worship of God, and in performing such other spiritual services as tend to their mutual edification;^d as also in relieving each other in outward things, according to their several abilities and necessities. Which communion, as God offereth opportunity, is to be extended unto all those, who, in every place, call upon the name of the Lord Jesus.^e

III. This communion which the saints have with Christ, doth not make them in any wise partakers of the substance formable unto his death. Rom. vi. 5, 6. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection: Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. Rom. viii. 17. And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

^bEph. iv. 15, 16. But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ: From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

^c1 Thess. v. 11, 14. Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.—Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men. Gal. vi. 10. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. See 1 John iii. 16-18.

II. ^dHeb. x. 24, 25. And let us consider one another to provoke unto love, and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. Acts ii. 42, 46. And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.—And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart. See Isa. ii. 3; 1 Cor. xi. 20.

^e1 John iii. 17. But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? Acts xi. 29, 30. Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea: Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul. See 2 Cor. viii.; ix.

of his Godhead, or to be equal with Christ in any respect: either of which to affirm, is impious and blasphemous.^f Nor doth their communion one with another, as saints, take away, or infringe the title or property which each man hath in his goods and possessions.^g

OF THE SACRAMENTS.

I. SACRAMENTS are holy signs and seals of the covenant of grace,^a immediately instituted by God,^b to represent Christ and his benefits, and to confirm our interest in him:^c as also to put a visible difference between those

III. ^fCol. i. 18. And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence. 1 Cor. viii. 6. But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him. See Psa. xlv. 7; 1 Tim. vi. 15, 16. Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords; Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen, nor can see; to whom be honor and power everlasting. Amen.

^gActs v. 4. While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

I. ^aRom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. Gen. xvii. 7, 10. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and thy seed after thee, in their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee.—This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised.

that belong unto the Church, and the rest of the world;^d and solemnly to engage them to the service of God in Christ, according to his Word.^e

II. There is in every Sacrament a spiritual relation, or sacramental union, between the sign and the thing signified; whence it comes to pass, that the names and effects of the one are attributed to the other.^f

III. The grace which is exhibited in or by the Sacraments, rightly used, is not conferred by any power in them; neither doth the efficacy of a Sacrament depend upon the piety or intention of him that doth administer it,^g but upon the work of the Spirit,^h and the word of institution, which contains, together with a precept author-

And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the LORD, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof. 1 Cor. x. 21. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

^eRom. vi. 3, 4. Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. 1 Cor. x. 2, 16. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

III. ^gRom. ii. 28, 29. For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God. 1 Pet. iii. 21. The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

^hMatt. iii. 11. I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. 1 Cor. xii. 13. IV. There be only two Sacraments ordained by Christ our Lord in the Gospel, that is to say, Baptism and the Supper of the Lord: neither of which may be dispensed by any, but by a minister of the Word, lawfully ordained.^k

V. The Sacraments of the Old Testament, in regard of the spiritual things thereby signified and exhibited, were, for substance, the same with those of the New.^l

CHAPTER XXVIII.

OF BAPTISM.

I. BAPTISM is a Sacrament of the New Testament, ordained by Jesus Christ,^a not only for the solemn admission of the party baptized into the visible Church,^b but also to be unto him a sign and seal of the covenant of ⁱLuke xxii. 19, 20. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you. 1 Cor. xi. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.

IV. ^kMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 1 Cor. xi. 20, 23. When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.—For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread. 1 Cor. iv. 1. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. Heb. v. 4. And no man taketh this honor unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

V. ^l1 Cor. x. 1–4. Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; And did all eat the same spiritual meat; And did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock which followed them: and that Rock was Christ.

I. ^aMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

^b1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. See Gal. iii. 27, 28.

grace,^c of his ingrafting into Christ,^d of regeneration,^e of remission of sins,^f and of his giving up unto God, through Jesus Christ, to walk in newness of life:^g which Sacrament is, by Christ's own appointment, to be continued in his Church until the end of the world.^h

II. The outward element to be used in this Sacrament is water, wherewith the party is to be baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, by a minister of the gospel, lawfully called thereunto.ⁱ

III. Dipping of the person into the water is not necessary; but Baptism is rightly administered by pouring or sprinkling water upon the person.^k ^cRom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. Col. ii. 11, 12. In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ: Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

^dGal. iii. 27. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. Rom. vi. 5. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection.

^eTit. iii. 5. He saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

^fMark i. 4. John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins. Acts ii. 38. Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins. See Acts xxii. 16.

^gRom. vi. 3, 4. Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

^hMatt. xxviii. 19, 20. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world.

II. ⁱActs x. 47. Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost? Acts viii. 36, 38. And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?—And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him. Matt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

III. ^kActs ii. 41. Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls. Acts x. 46, 47. Then answered Peter, Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we? Acts xvi. 33. And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway. 1 Cor. x. 2. And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea.

IV. ¹Acts ix. 18. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

^mGen. xvii. 7, 9. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee.—And God said unto Abraham, Thou shalt keep my covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations. Gal. iii. 9, 14. So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.—That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith. Rom. iv. 11, 12. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also: And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised. Acts ii. 38, 39. Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. See Acts xvi. 14, 15, 33; 1 Cor. vii. 14.

V. ⁿLuke vii. 30. But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him. Ex. iv. 24–26. And it came to pass by the way in the inn, that the Lord met him, and sought to kill him. Then Zipporah took a sharp stone, and cut off the foreskin of her son, and cast it at his feet, and said, Surely a bloody husband art thou to me. So he let him go: then she said, A bloody husband thou art because of the circumcision. Deut. xxviii. 9. The Lord shall establish thee an holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways.

^oRom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. See Acts x. 2, 4, 22, 31, 45, 47.

VI. The efficacy of Baptism is not tied to that moment of time wherein it is administered;^a yet, notwithstanding, by the right use of this ordinance the grace promised is not only offered, but really exhibited and conferred by the Holy Ghost, to such (whether of age or infants) as that grace belongeth unto, according to the counsel of God's own will, in his appointed time.^r

VII. The Sacrament of Baptism is but once to be administered to any person.^s

CHAPTER XXIX.

OF THE LORD'S SUPPER.

I. OUR Lord Jesus, in the night wherein he was betrayed, instituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, called the Lord's Supper, to be observed in his Church unto the end of the world, for the perpetual remembrance of the sacrifice of himself in his death, the sealing all benefits thereof unto true believers, their spiritual nourishment and growth in him, their further engagement in, and to all duties which they owe unto him; and to be a bond and pledge of their communion with him, and with each other, as members of his mystical body.^a miracles and signs which were done.—For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

VI. ²John iii. 5, 8. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water, and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.—The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

^rGal. iii. 27. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. Eph. v. 25, 26. Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it; That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word. See Acts ii. 38, 41.

VII. ^sTit. iii. 5. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

I. ^a1 Cor. xi. 23, 26. For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread: And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup,

II. In this Sacrament Christ is not offered up to his Father, nor any real sacrifice made at all for remission of sins of the quick or dead;^b but only a commemoration of that once offering up of himself, by himself, upon the cross, once for all; and a spiritual oblation of all possible praise unto God for the same:^c so that the Popish sacrifice of the mass, as they call it, is most abominably injurious to Christ's one only sacrifice, the alone propitiation for all the sins of the elect.^d when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. 1 Cor. x. 16, 17, 21. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.—Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils. 1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

II. ^bHeb. ix. 22, 25, 26, 28. And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.—Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others; For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.—So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

^cMatt. xxvi. 26, 27. And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it. Luke xxii 19, 20. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you. See 1 Cor. xi. 24-26.

^dHeb. vii. 23, 24, 27. And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death: But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.—Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself. Heb. x. 11, 12, 14, 18. And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins: But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God.—For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.—Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

III. The Lord Jesus hath, in this ordinance, appointed his ministers to declare his word of institution to the people, to pray, and bless the elements of bread and wine, and thereby to set them apart from a common to an holy use: and to take and break the bread, to take the cup, and (they communicating also themselves) to give both to the communicants;^e but to none who are not then present in the congregation.^f

IV. Private masses, or receiving this Sacrament by a priest, or any other, alone;^g as likewise the denial of the cup to the people;^h worshipping the elements; the lifting them up, or carrying them about for adoration, and the reserving them for any pretended religious use; are all contrary to the nature of this Sacrament, and to the institution of Christ.ⁱ

V. The outward elements in this Sacrament, duly set apart to the uses ordained by Christ, have such relation to him crucified, as that truly, yet sacramentally only, they are sometimes called by the name of the things they represent, to wit, the body and blood of Christ;^k albeit, in ^fActs xx. 7. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight. 1 Cor. xi. 20. When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

IV. ^g1 Tim. i. 3, 4. As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine, Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do ^h1 Cor. xi. 25-29. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

substance and nature, they still remain truly, and only, bread and wine, as they were before.^l

VI. That doctrine which maintains a change of the substance of bread and wine into the substance of Christ's body and blood (commonly called transubstantiation) by consecration of a priest, or by any other way, is repugnant, not to Scripture alone, but even to common sense and reason; overthroweth the nature of the Sacrament; and hath been, and is the cause of manifold superstitions, yea, of gross idolatries.^m

VII. Worthy receivers, outwardly partaking of the visible elements in this Sacrament,ⁿ do then also inwardly by faith, really and indeed, yet not carnally and corporally, but spiritually, receive and feed upon Christ crucified, and all benefits of his death: the body and blood of Christ being then not corporally or carnally in, with or under the bread and wine; yet as really, but spiritually, present to the faith of believers in that ordinance, as the elements themselves are to their outward senses.^o

VIII. Although ignorant and wicked men receive the outward elements in this Sacrament, yet they receive not

Luke xxiv. 6, 39. He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.—Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

the thing signified thereby; but by their unworthy coming thereunto are guilty of the body and blood of the Lord, to their own damnation. Wherefore all ignorant and ungodly persons, as they are unfit to enjoy communion with him, so are they unworthy of the Lord's Table, and cannot, without great sin against Christ, while they remain such, partake of these holy mysteries,^p or be admitted thereunto.^q

CHAPTER XXX.

OF CHURCH CENSURES.

I. THE Lord Jesus, as king and head of his Church, hath therein appointed a government in the hand of church-officers, distinct from the civil magistrate.^a

VIII. ²¹ Cor. xi. 27, 29. Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.—For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation [judgment] to himself, not discerning the Lord's body. 2 Cor. vi. 14-16. Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 1 Cor. x. 21. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

²¹ Cor. v. 6, 7, 13. Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us.—But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person. 2 Thess. iii. 6, 14, 15. Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.—And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed. Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother. Matt. vii. 6. Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.

I. ^aIsa. ix. 6, 7. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father,

II. To these officers the keys of the kingdom of heaven are committed, by virtue whereof they have power respectively to retain and remit sins, to shut that kingdom against the impenitent, both by the word and censures; and to open it unto penitent sinners, by the ministry of the gospel, and by absolution from censures, as occasion shall require.^b

III. Church censures are necessary for the reclaiming and gaining of offending brethren; for deterring of others from like offences; for purging out of that leaven which might infect the whole lump; for vindicating the honor of Christ, and the holy profession of the gospel; and for preventing the wrath of God, which might justly fall upon the Church, if they should suffer his covenant, and the

The Prince of Peace. Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this. 1 Tim. v. 17. Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially they who labor in the word and doctrine. 1 Thess. v. 12. And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labor among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you. Acts xx. 17, 28. And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.—Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood. 1 Cor. xii. 28. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. See John xviii. 36.

II. ^bMatt. xvi. 19. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Matt. xviii. 17, 18. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. John xx. 21-23. Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost: Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained. 2 Cor. ii. 6-8. Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many. So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow. Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.

seals thereof, to be profaned by notorious and obstinate offenders.^c

IV. For the better attaining of these ends, the officers of the Church are to proceed by admonition, suspension from the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper for a season, and by excommunication from the Church, according to the nature of the crime, and demerit of the person.^d

CHAPTER XXXI.

OF SYNODS AND COUNCILS.^e

I. FOR the better government and further edification of the Church, there ought to be such assemblies as are commonly called synods or councils:^a and it belongeth to the overseers and other rulers of the particular churches, by virtue of their office, and the power which Christ hath given them for edification and not for destruction, to ap-

And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh. See 1 Cor. xi. 27-34.

IV. ^dMatt. xviii. 17. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church; but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. 1 Thess. v. 12. And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labor among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you. 2 Thess. iii. 6, 14, 15. Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.—And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed. Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother. 1 Cor. v. 4, 5, 13. In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ, To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.—Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person. See Tit. iii. 10.

I. ^aActs xv. 2, 4, 6. When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question.—And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.—And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter. See Rev. ii. 1-6; Acts xx. 17, 28.

point such assemblies;^b and to convene together in them, as often as they shall judge it expedient for the good of the Church.^c

II. It belongeth to synods and councils, ministerially, to determine controversies of faith, and cases of conscience; to set down rules and directions for the better ordering of the public worship of God, and government of his Church; to receive complaints in cases of mal-administration, and authoritatively to determine the same: which decrees and determinations, if consonant to the Word of God, are to be received with reverence and submission, not only for their agreement with the Word, but also for the power whereby they are made, as being an ordinance of God, appointed thereunto in his Word.^d

III. All synods or councils since the apostles' times, whether general or particular, may err, and many have erred; therefore they are not to be made the rule of faith or practice, but to be used as a help in both.^e

IV. Synods and councils are to handle or conclude nothing, but that which is ecclesiastical: and are not to intermeddle with civil affairs which concern the commonwealth, unless by way of humble petition in cases extraordinary; or by way of advice for satisfaction of conscience, if they be thereunto required by the civil magistrate.^f

CHAPTER XXXII.

OF THE STATE OF MAN AFTER DEATH, AND OF THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD.

I. THE bodies of men, after death, return to dust, and see corruption;^a but their souls (which neither die nor sleep), having an immortal subsistence, immediately return to God who gave them.^b The souls of the righteous, being then made perfect in holiness, are received into the highest heavens, where they behold the face of God in light and glory, waiting for the full redemption of their bodies:^c and the souls of the wicked are cast into hell, where they remain in torments and utter darkness, reserved to the judgment of the great day.^d Besides these two places for souls separated from their bodies, the Scripture acknowledgeth none.

I. ^aGen. iii. 19. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return. Acts xiii. 36. For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption.

^bLuke xxiii. 43. And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise. Eccl. xii. 7. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.

And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed a hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.—Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple; and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them. 2 Cor. v. 1, 8. For we know that, if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.—We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. II. At the last day, such as are found alive shall not die, but be changed:^e and all the dead shall be raised up with the self-same bodies, and none other, although with different qualities, which shall be united again to their souls for ever.^f

III. The bodies of the unjust shall, by the power of Christ, be raised to dishonor; the bodies of the just, by his Spirit, unto honor, and be made conformable to his own glorious body.^g

CHAPTER XXXIII.

OF THE LAST JUDGMENT.

I. God hath appointed a day, wherein he will judge the world in righteousness by Jesus Christ,^a to whom all power and judgment is given of the Father.^b In which and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame. See Jude 6, 7.

II. ^e1 Thess. iv. 17. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord. 1 Cor. xv. 51, 52. Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump; for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

^f1 Cor. xv. 42-44. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption: it is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power: it is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

III. ^gActs xxiv. 15. And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. John v. 28, 29. Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. day, not only the apostate angels shall be judged;^c but likewise all persons, that have lived upon earth, shall appear before the tribunal of Christ, to give an account of their thoughts, words, and deeds; and to receive according to what they have done in the body, whether good or evil.^d

II. The end of God's appointing this day is for the manifestation of the glory of his mercy, in the eternal salvation of the elect;^e and of his justice, in the damnation of the reprobate, who are wicked and disobedient.^f For then shall the righteous go into everlasting life, and receive that fullness of joy and refreshing which shall come from the presence of the Lord:^g but the wicked,

The Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. See Rom. ix. 22.

^gMatt. xxv. 31–34. When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats; And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. Then who know not God, and obey not the gospel of Jesus Christ, shall be cast into eternal torments, and be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power.^h

III. As Christ would have us to be certainly persuaded that there shall be a day of judgment, both to deter all men from sin, and for the greater consolation of the godly in their adversity:ⁱ so will he have that day unknown to men, that they may shake off all carnal security, and be always watchful because they know not at what hour the Lord will come; and may be ever prepared to say, Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly.^k Amen.

PREAMBLE CHAPTERS XXXIV-XXXV.

WHEREAS, It is desirable to express more fully the doctrine of the Church concerning the Holy Spirit, Missions, and the love of God for all men, the following Chapters are added to the Confession of Faith:

CHAPTER XXXIV.

OF THE HOLY SPIRIT.

I. THE Holy Spirit, the third person in the Trinity, proceeding from the Father and the Son, of the same substance and equal in power and glory, is, together with the Father and the Son, to be believed in, loved, obeyed, and worshiped throughout all ages.

II. He is the Lord and Giver of life, everywhere present in nature, and is the source of all good thoughts, pure desires, and holy counsels in men. By Him the Prophets were moved to speak the Word of God, and all writers of the Holy Scriptures inspired to record infallibly the mind and will of God. The dispensation of the Gospel is especially committed to Him. He prepares the way for it, accompanies it with His persuasive power, and urges its message upon the reason and conscience of men, so that they who reject its merciful offer are not only without excuse, but are also guilty of resisting the Holy Spirit.

III. The Holy Spirit, whom the Father is ever willing to give to all who ask Him, is the only efficient agent in the application of redemption. He convicts men of sin, moves them to repentance, regenerates them by His grace, and persuades and enables them to embrace Jesus Christ by faith. He unites all believers to Christ, dwells in them as their Comforter and Sanctifier, gives to them the lights burning; And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh they may open unto him immediately. Rev. xxii. 20. He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

spirit of Adoption and Prayer, and performs all those gracious offices by which they are sanctified and sealed unto the day of redemption.

IV. By the indwelling of the Holy Spirit all believers being vitally united to Christ, who is the Head, are thus united one to another in the Church, which is His body. He calls and anoints ministers for their holy office, qualifies all other officers in the Church for their special work, and imparts various gifts and graces to its members. He gives efficacy to the Word, and to the ordinances of the Gospel. By Him the Church will be preserved, increased until it shall cover the earth, purified, and at last made perfectly holy in the presence of God.

CHAPTER XXXV.

OF THE LOVE OF GOD AND MISSIONS.

I. God, in infinite and perfect love, having provided in the covenant of grace, through the mediation and sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ, a way of life and salvation, sufficient for and adapted to the whole lost race of man, doth freely offer this salvation to all men in the Gospel.

II. In the Gospel God declares His love for the world and His desire that all men should be saved, reveals fully and clearly the only way of salvation; promises eternal life to all who truly repent and believe in Christ; invites and commands all to embrace the offered mercy; and by His Spirit accompanying the Word pleads with men to accept His gracious invitation.

III. It is the duty and privilege of every one who hears the Gospel immediately to accept its merciful provisions: and they who continue in impenitence and unbelief incur aggravated guilt and perish by their own fault.

IV. Since there is no other way of salvation than that revealed in the Gospel, and since in the divinely established and ordinary method of grace faith cometh by hearing the Word of God, Christ hath commissioned His Church to go into all the world and to make disciples of all nations. All believers are, therefore, under obligation to sustain the ordinances of religion where they are already established, and to contribute by their prayers, gifts, and personal efforts, to the extension of the kingdom of Christ throughout the whole earth.

DECLARATORY STATEMENT

WHILE the ordination vow of ministers, ruling elders, and deacons, as set forth in the Form of Government, requires the reception and adoption of the Confession of Faith only as containing the System of Doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures, nevertheless, seeing that the desire has been formally expressed for a disavowal by the Church of certain inferences drawn from statements in the Confession of Faith, and also for a declaration of certain aspects of revealed truth which appear at the present time to call for more explicit statement, therefore the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America does authoritatively declare as follows:

First, With reference to Chapter III. of the Confession of Faith: that concerning those who are saved in Christ, the doctrine of God's eternal decree is held in harmony with the doctrine of His love to all mankind, His gift of His Son to be the propitiation for the sins of the whole world, and His readiness to bestow His saving grace on all who seek it. That concerning those who perish, the doctrine of God's eternal decree is held in harmony with the doctrine that God desires not the death of any sinner, but has provided in Christ a salvation sufficient for all, adapted to all, and freely offered in the Gospel to all; that men are fully responsible for their treatment of God's gracious offer; that His decree hinders no man from accepting that offer; and that no man is condemned except on the ground of his sin.

Second, With reference to Chapter X, Section III, of the Confession of Faith, that it is not to be regarded as teaching that any who die in infancy are lost. We believe that all dying in infancy are included in the election of grace, and are regenerated and saved by Christ through the Spirit, who works when and where and how He pleases.

LARGER CATECHISM

ADOPTED, 1729; AMENDED, 1788.

Q. 1. What is the chief and highest end of man?

A. Man's chief and highest end is to glorify God,^a and fully to enjoy him for ever.^b

Q. 2. How doth it appear that there is a God?

A. The very light of nature in man, and the works of God, declare plainly that there is a God;^c but his Word and Spirit only, do sufficiently and effectually reveal him unto men for their salvation.^d

1. ^aRom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. 1 Cor. x. 31. Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

^bPsa. lxxiii. 24-26. Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory. Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee. My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever. John xvii. 22, 24. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one.—Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me.

2. ^cRom. i. 19, 20. Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath showed it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse. See Psa. xix. 1-3.

^d1Cor. ii. 9, 10. But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. 2 Tim. iii. 15-17. And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

Q. 3. What is the Word of God?

A. The holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament are the Word of God,^e the only rule of faith and obedience.^f

Q. 4. How doth it appear that the Scriptures are the Word of God?

A. The Scriptures manifest themselves to be the Word of God, by their majesty^g and purity;^h by the consent of all the parts,ⁱ and the scope of the whole, which is to give all glory to God;^k by their light and power to convince

3. ^e2 Tim. iii. 16. All scripture is given by inspiration of God. 2 Pet. 1. 19-21. We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts: Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

^fIsa. viii. 20. To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. Luke xvi. 29, 31. They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.—If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead. Gal. i. 8, 9. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed. See 2 Tim. iii. 15-17.

4. ^gHos. viii. 12. I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing. 1 Cor. ii. 6, 7. Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought: But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory. Psal. cxix. 18, 129. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.—Thy testimonies are wonderful: therefore doth my soul keep them.

ⁱLuke xxiv. 27. And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. Acts. x. 43. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins. Acts xxvi. 22. Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come.

^kRom. xvi. 25-27. Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began, But now is made manifest, and by the Scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith: To God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen. See 2 Cor. iii. 6-11.

and convert sinners, to comfort and build up believers unto salvation;^l but the Spirit of God bearing witness by and with the Scriptures in the heart of man, is alone able fully to persuade it that they are the very Word of God.^m

Q. 5. What do the Scriptures principally teach?

A. The Scriptures principally teach, what man is to believe concerning God, and what duty God requires of man.ⁿ

What man ought to believe concerning God.

Q. 6. What do the Scriptures make known of God?

A. The Scriptures make known what God is,^o the persons in the Godhead,^p his decrees,^q and the execution of his decrees.^r ^lActs xviii. 28. For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ. Heb. i.^r. 12. For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. James i. 18. Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth. Psa. xix. 7-9. The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether. Rom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. Acts xx. 32. And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

^mJohn xvi. 13, 14. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth:—and he will show you things to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you. See 1 John ii. 20, 27.

5. ⁿJohn xx. 31. But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name. 2 Tim. i. 13. Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love. See 2 Tim. iii. 15-17.

6. ^oJohn iv. 24. God is a Spirit. Ex. xxxiv. 6. And the LORD passed by before him, and proclaimed, The LORD, The LORD God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in goodness and truth.

^pMatt. iii. 16, 17. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water, and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. See Matt. xxviii. 19; 2 Cor. xiii. 14.

^qIsa. xlv. 9, 10. I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me, Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure.

^rActs iv. 27, 28. For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus,—both

Q. 7. What is God?

A. God is a Spirit,^s in and of himself infinite in being,^t glory,^u blessedness,^w and perfection;^x all-sufficient,^y eternal,^z unchangeable,^a incomprehensible,^b every where present,^c almighty,^d knowing all things,^e most wise,^f most holy,^g

Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together, For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

7. ^sJohn iv. 24. God is a Spirit.

^tEx. iii. 14. And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM; and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. Job xi. 7-9. Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection? It is as high as heaven; what canst thou do? deeper than hell; what canst thou know? The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.

^uActs vii. 2. The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran.

^w1 Tim. vi. 15. Which in his times he shall show, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords.

^yRom. xi. 35, 36. Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

^aPsa. xc. 2. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.

^bMal. iii. 6. For I am the LORD, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed. James i. 17. The Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

^cPsa. cxlv. 3. Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable.

^dPsa. cxxxix. 1, 2, 7. O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me. Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off.—Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

^eRev. iv. 8. And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come. See Gen. xvii. 1.

^fHeb. iv. 13. Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. See Psa. cxlvii. 5.

^gRom. xvi. 27. To God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen.

^hIsa. vi. 3. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory. Rev. xv. 4. Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy.

most just,^h most merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth.ⁱ

Q. 8. Are there more Gods than one?

A. There is but one only, the living and true God.^k

Q. 9. How many persons are there in the Godhead?

A. There be three persons in the Godhead, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one true, eternal God, the same in substance, equal in power and glory; although distinguished by their personal properties.^l

Q. 10. What are the personal properties of the three persons in the Godhead?

A. It is proper to the Father to beget the Son,^m and to the Son to be begotten of the Father,ⁿ and to the Holy Ghost to proceed from the Father and the Son, from all eternity.^o ^hDeut. xxxii. 4. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he.

ⁱEx. xxxiv. 6. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The LORD, The LORD God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in goodness and truth.

^kDeut. vi. 4. Hear, O Israel: the LORD our God is one LORD. 1 Cor. viii. 4. There is none other God but one. See verse 6. Jer. x. 10. But the LORD is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting King.

^lMatt. iii. 16, 17. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Matt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 2 Cor. xiii. 14. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen. John x. 30. I and my Father are one.

^mHeb. i. 5, 6. For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son. See Psa. ii. 6, 7.

ⁿJohn i. 14. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

^oJohn xv. 26. But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me. Gal. iv. 6. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

Q. 11. How doth it appear that the Son and the Holy Ghost are God equal with the Father?

A. The Scriptures manifest that the Son and the Holy Ghost are God equal with the Father, ascribing unto them such names,^p attributes,^q works,^r and worship,^s as are proper to God only.

Q. 12. What are the decrees of God?

A. God's decrees are the wise, free, and holy acts of the counsel of his will,^t whereby, from all eternity, he hath,

11. ^pJer. xxiii. 6. And this is his name whereby ~~he~~ shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS. Isa. vi. 3, 5, 8. And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.—Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts.—Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me. John xii. 41. These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him. Acts xxviii. 25. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers. 1 John v. 20. And we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life. Psa. xlv. 6. Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever. Acts v. 3, 4. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost?—Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

^qJohn i. 1. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. Isa. ix. 6. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. John ii. 24, 25. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, And needed not that any should testify of man; for he knew what was in man. 1 Cor. ii. 10, 11. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit; for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

^rCol. i. 16. For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him. Gen. i. 2. And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. See John i. 3.

^sMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 2 Cor. xiii. 14. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

12. ^tIsa. xlv. 6, 7. I am the LORD, and there is none else. I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things. Eph. i. 11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who for his own glory, unchangeably fore-ordained whatsoever comes to pass in time,^u especially concerning angels and men.

Q. 13. What hath God especially decreed concerning angels and men?

A. God, by an eternal and immutable decree, out of his mere love, for the praise of his glorious grace, to be manifested in due time, hath elected some angels to glory;^w and in Christ hath chosen some men to eternal life, and the means thereof;^x and also, according to his sovereign power, and the unsearchable counsel of his own will (whereby he extendeth or withholdeth favor as he pleaseth), hath passed by, and fore-ordained the rest to dishonor and wrath, to be for their sin inflicted, to the praise of the glory of his justice.^y worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. Rom. xi. 33. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

^uPsa. xxxiii. 11. The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. Eph. i. 4, 11. According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love.—In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. Rom. ix. 22, 23. What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction: And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory?

13. ^w1 Tim. v. 21. I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels.

^xEph. ii. 10. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them. 2 Thess. ii. 13, 14. But we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth: Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.

^yRom ix. 17, 18, 21, 22. For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might show my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.—Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honor, and another unto dishonor? What if God, willing to show his wrath and to make his power known, endured

Q. 14. How doth God execute his decrees?

A. God executeth his decrees in the works of creation and providence; according to his infallible fore-knowledge, and the free and immutable counsel of his own will. ^z

Q. 15. What is the work of creation?

A. The work of creation is that wherein God did in the beginning, by the word of his power, make of nothing the world and all things therein for himself, within the space of six days, and all very good. ^a

Q. 16. How did God create angels?

A. God created all the angels, ^b spirits, ^c immortal, ^d holy, ^e excelling in knowledge, ^f mighty in power, ^g to with much longsuffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction. Jude 4. For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ. Matt. xi. 25, 26. At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight. See Ezek. xviii; Matt. xxv. 41-46.

14. ^zDan. iv. 35. He doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? Eph. i. 11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. See Isa. xl. 12-31.

Q. 20. What was the providence of God toward man in the estate in which he was created?

A. The providence of God toward man in the estate in which he was created, was, the placing him in paradise, appointing him to dress it, giving him liberty to eat of the fruit of the earth,^h putting the creatures under his dominion,ⁱ and ordaining marriage for his help;^k affording him communion with himself,^l instituting the Sabbath,^m entering into a covenant of life with him, upon

Q. 21. Did man continue in that estate wherein God at first created him?

A. Our first parents being left to the freedom of their own will, through the temptation of Satan, transgressed the commandment of God, in eating the forbidden fruit, and thereby fell from the estate of innocency wherein they were created.^q

Q. 22. Did all mankind fall in that first transgression?

A. The covenant being made with Adam, as a public person, not for himself only, but for his posterity; all mankind descending from him by ordinary generation, sinned in him, and fell with him in that first transgression.^r

Q. 23. Into what estate did the fall bring mankind?

A. The fall brought mankind into an estate of sin and misery.^t

Q. 24. What is sin?

A. Sin is any want of conformity unto, or transgression of any law of God, given as a rule to the reasonable creature.^u

Q. 25. Wherein consists the sinfulness of that estate whereinto man fell?

A. The sinfulness of that estate whereinto man fell, consisteth in the guilt of Adam's first sin,^w the want of that righteousness wherein he was created, and the corruption of his nature, whereby he is utterly indisposed, disabled, and made opposite unto all that is spiritually good, and wholly inclined to all evil, and that continually;^x which is commonly called original sin, and from which do proceed all actual transgressions.^y ^yJames i. 14, 15. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death. Matt. xv. 19.

Q. 26. How is original sin conveyed from our first parents unto their posterity?

A. Original sin is conveyed from our first parents unto their posterity by natural generation, so as all that proceed from them in that way, are conceived and born in sin.^z

Q. 27. What misery did the fall bring upon mankind?

A. The fall brought upon mankind the loss of communion with God,^a his displeasure and curse; so as we are by nature children of wrath,^b bond slaves to Satan,^c and justly liable to all punishments in this world and that which is to come.^d

Q. 28. What are the punishments of sin in this world?

Q. 33. Was the covenant of grace always administered after one and the same manner?

A. The covenant of grace was not always administered after the same manner, but the administrations of it under the Old Testament were different from those under the New.^e

Q. 34. How was the covenant of grace administered under the Old Testament?

A. The covenant of grace was administered under the Old Testament, by promises,^f prophecies,^g sacrifices,^h circumcision,ⁱ the passover,^k and other types and ordinances: which did all fore-signify Christ then to come, and were for that time sufficient to build up the elect in faith in the promised Messiah,^l by whom they then had full remission of sin and eternal salvation.^m

33. ^e2 Cor. iii. 6-9. Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away: How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious? ^fActs xvii. 31. Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

Q. 57. What benefits hath Christ procured by his mediation?

A. Christ by his mediation hath procured redemption,^g with all other benefits of the covenant of grace.^h

Q. 58. How do we come to be made partakers of the benefits which Christ hath procured?

A. We are made partakers of the benefits which Christ hath procured by the application of them unto us,ⁱ which is the work especially of God the Holy Ghost.^k

Q. 59. Who are made partakers of redemption through Christ?

A. Redemption is certainly applied, and effectually communicated, to all those for whom Christ hath purchased it;^l who are in time by the Holy Ghost enabled to believe in Christ, according to the gospel.^m ^kTit. iii. 5, 6. But according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour. John xvi. 14, 15. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you. All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall show it unto you.

59. ^lJohn vi. 37, 39. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. John x. 15, 16. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. See Eph. i. 13, 14.

^mEph. ii. 8. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. John iii. 5. Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

Q. 60. Can they who have never heard the gospel, and so know not Jesus Christ, or believe in him, be saved by their living according to the light of nature?

A. They who having never heard the gospel,ⁿ know not Jesus Christ,^o and believe not in him, cannot be saved,^p be they never so diligent to frame their lives according to the light of nature,^q or the laws of that religion which they profess;^r neither is there salvation in any other, but in Christ alone,^s who is the Saviour only of his body the Church.^t

Q. 61. Are all they saved who hear the gospel, and live in the Church?

A. All that hear the gospel, and live in the visible Church, are not saved; but only they who are true members of the Church invisible.^u

60. ⁿRom. x. 14. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?

^pJohn viii. 24. If ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins. John iii. 18. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

^q1 Cor. i. 21. For after that in the wisdom of God the world of wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe. Rom. iii. 20. Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

^rJohn iv. 22. Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews. See Phil. iii. 4-10. Rom. ii. 14, 15. For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves: Which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another.

^sActs iv. 12. Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

^tEph. v. 23. Even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the Saviour of the body.

61. ^uRom. ix. 6. They are not all Israel, which are of Israel. Matt. vii. 21. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. See Matt. xxi. 14; John xii. 38-40.

Q. 62. What is the visible Church?

A. The visible Church is a society made up of all such as in all ages and places of the world do profess the true religion,^w and of their children.^x

Q. 63. What are the special privileges of the visible Church?

A. The visible Church hath the privilege of being under God's special care and government;^y of being protected and preserved in all ages, notwithstanding the opposition of all enemies;^z and of enjoying the communion of saints, the ordinary means of salvation,^a and offers of grace by Christ to all members of it in the ministry of the gospel testifying that whosoever believes in him shall be saved,^b and excluding none that will come unto him.^c ^bPsa. cxlvii. 19, 20. He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. See Rom. ix. 4; Acts xvi. 31. Eph. iv. 11, 12. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ. Rom. viii. 9. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

^cJohn vi. 37. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

Q. 64. What is the invisible Church?

A. The invisible Church is the whole number of the elect, that have been, are, or shall be gathered into one under Christ the head.^d

Q. 65. What special benefits do the members of the invisible Church enjoy by Christ?

A. The members of the invisible Church, by Christ, enjoy union and communion with him in grace and glory.^e

Q. 66. What is that union which the elect have with Christ?

A. The union which the elect have with Christ is the work of God's grace,^f whereby they are spiritually and mystically, yet really and inseparably, joined to Christ as their head and husband;^g which is done in their effectual calling.^h

64. ^dEph. i. 10, 22, 23. That in the dispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in him.—And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. John xi. 52. And not for that nation only, but that also, he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. John x. 16. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

65. ^eJohn xvii. 21. That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also be one in us. 1 John i. 3. That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. John xvii. 24. Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory.

66. ^fEph. ii. 5. Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved.)

^g1 Cor. vi. 17. But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit. John x. 28. And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. Eph. v. 23. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the Saviour of the body.

^h1 Cor. i. 9. God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord. 1 Pet. v. 10. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.

Q. 67. What is effectual calling?

A. Effectual calling is the work of God's almighty power and grace,ⁱ whereby (out of his free and especial love to his elect, and from nothing in them moving him thereunto)^k he doth in his accepted time invite and draw them to Jesus Christ, by his Word and Spirit;^l savingly enlightening their minds,^m renewing and powerfully determining their wills,ⁿ so as they (although in themselves dead in sin) are hereby made willing and able, freely to answer his call, and to accept and embrace the grace offered and conveyed therein.^o

67. ⁱEph. i. 18-20. The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places. 2 Tim. i. 8, 9. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God; Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began.

^kTit. iii. 4, 5. But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost. See Eph. ii. 4-10. Rom. ix. 11. For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth.

^l2 Cor. v. 20. Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us; we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. 2 Cor. vi. 2. ^oJohn vi. 45. And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

Q. 68. Are the elect only effectually called?

A. All the elect, and they only, are effectually called;^v although others may be and often are outwardly called by the ministry of the Word,^q and have some common operations of the Spirit;^r who, for their willful neglect and contempt of the grace offered to them, being justly left in their unbelief, do never truly come to Jesus Christ.^s

Q. 69. What is the communion in grace, which the members of the invisible church have with Christ?

A. The communion in grace, which the members of the invisible Church have with Christ, is their partaking of the virtue of his mediation, in their justification,^t adoption,^u sanctification, and whatever else in their life manifests their union with him.^w

1 ^wCor. i. 30. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption.

Q. 70. What is justification?

A. Justification is an act of God's free grace unto sinners,^x in which he pardoneth all their sin, accepteth and accounteth their persons righteous in his sight;^y not for any thing wrought in them, or done by them,^z but only for the perfect obedience and full satisfaction of Christ, by God imputed to them,^a and received by faith alone.^b

Q. 71. How is justification an act of God's free grace?

A. Although Christ, by his obedience and death, did make a proper, real, and full satisfaction to God's justice

70. ^xRom. iii. 22-25. Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference: For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God.

^yRom. iv. 5. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. 2 Cor. v. 19, 21. To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them.—For he hath made him to be sin for us, who know no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

^zEph. i. 6, 7. Wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace. Rom. iii. 28. Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

^aRom. iii. 24, 25. Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood. Rom. v. 17-19. For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. Rom. iv. 6-8. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works, Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

in the behalf of them that are justified:^c yet, inasmuch as God accepteth the satisfaction from a surety, which he might have demanded of them; and did provide this surety, his only Son,^d imputing his righteousness to them,^e and requiring nothing of them for their justification but faith,^f which also is his gift,^g their justification is to them of free grace.^h

Q. 72. What is justifying faith?

A. Justifying faith is a saving grace,ⁱ wrought in the heart of a sinner, by the Spirit^k and Word of God,^l whereby he, being convinced of his sin and misery, and

71. ^cMatt. xx. 28. Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. Rom. v. 8-10, 19. But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him. For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.—For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

^lRom. x. 14, 17. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. See Rom. i. 16.

of the disability in himself and all other creatures to recover him out of his lost condition,^m not only assenteth to the truth of the promise of the gospel,ⁿ but receiveth and resteth upon Christ and his righteousness therein held forth, for pardon of sin,^o and for the accepting and accounting of his person righteous in the sight of God for salvation.^p

Q. 73. How doth faith justify a sinner in the sight of God?

A. Faith justifies a sinner in the sight of God, not because of those other graces which do always accompany it, or of good works that are the fruits of it;^q nor as if the grace of faith, or any act thereof, were imputed to him for justification;^r but only as it is an instrument, by which he receiveth and applieth Christ and his righteousness.^s

Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

Q. 74. What is adoption?

A. Adoption is an act of the free grace of God,^t in and for his only Son Jesus Christ,^u whereby all those that are justified are received into the number of his children,^v have his name put upon them,^x the Spirit of his Son given to them,^y are under his fatherly care and dispensations,^z admitted to all the liberties and privileges of the sons of God, made heirs of all the promises, and fellow-heirs with Christ in glory.^a

Q. 75. What is sanctification?

A. Sanctification is a work of God's grace, whereby, they whom God hath before the foundation of the world chosen to be holy, are in time through the powerful operation of his Spirit,^b applying the death and resurrection of Christ unto them,^c renewed in their whole man after

That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, May be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God. Col. i. 10, 11. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God; Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness.

^gRom. vi. 4, 6. Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.—Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

^lEzek. xviii. 30, 32. Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord God. Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin.—For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye. Luke xv. 17, 18. And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee.

^mEzek. xxxvi. 31. Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. Ezek. xvi. 61, 63. Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed.—That thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more because of thy shame. See Psa. li.

ⁿPsa. cxxx. 3-7. If thou, LORD, shouldest mark iniquities, O LORD, who shall stand? But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared. I wait for the LORD, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope. My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning: I say, more than they that watch for the morning. Let Israel hope in the LORD: for with the LORD there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption. Joel ii. 12, 13. Therefore also now, saith the LORD, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning: And rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil. and endeavoring constantly to walk with him in all the ways of new obedience.⁷

Q. 77. Wherein do justification and sanctification differ?

A. Although sanctification be inseparably joined with justification,^s yet they differ, in that God, in justification imputeth the righteousness of Christ;^t in sanctification his Spirit infuseth grace, and enableth to the exercise thereof;^u in the former, sin is pardoned;^w in the other, it is subdued;^x the one doth equally free all believers from the revenging wrath of God, and that perfectly in this life, that they never fall into condemnation;^y the other is ⁷Psa. cxix. 59, 128. I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.—Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way. See Luke i. 6. Rom. vi. 17, 18. But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you. Being then made free from sin, ye became servants of righteousness. Luke xix. 8. And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.

^xRom. vi. 6, 14. Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.—For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

^yRom. viii. 1, 33, 34. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus.—Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth. Who is he that condemneth?

neither equal in all,^z nor in this life perfect in any,^a but growing up to perfection.^b

Q. 78. Whence ariseth the imperfection of sanctification in believers?

A. The imperfection of sanctification in believers ariseth from the remnants of sin abiding in every part of them, and the perpetual lustings of the flesh against the spirit; whereby they are often foiled with temptations, and fall into many sins,^c are hindered in all their spiritual services,^d and their best works are imperfect and defiled in the sight of God.^e

Q. 79. May not true believers, by reason of their imperfections, and the many temptations and sins they are overtaken with, fall away from the state of grace?

^zHeb. v. 12-14. For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat. For every one that useth milk is unskillful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe. But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil. See 1 John ii. 12-14.

^a1 John i. 8, 10. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us.—If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

^b2 Cor. vii. 1. Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God. Phil. iii. 12-14. Not as thou I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus. Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

78. ^cRom. vii. 18, 23. For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.—But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members. ^w1 Cor. xv. 21-23, 42-44. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming.—So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption: it is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power: it is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. Phil. iii. 21. Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body. See Dan. xii. 2.

^xJohn v. 28, 29. Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation. Dan. xii. 2. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. See Matt. xxv. 33.

88. ^yMatt. xvi. 27. For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. 2 Pet. ii. 4. For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness to be reserved unto judgment. 2 Cor. v. 10. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

^zMatt. xxiv. 36, 42, 44. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.—Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.—Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh. See Luke xxi. 35, 36.

Q. 89. What shall be done to the wicked at the day of judgment?

A. At the day of judgment, the wicked shall be set on Christ's left hand,^a and, upon clear evidence and full conviction of their own consciences,^b shall have the fearful but just sentence of condemnation pronounced against them;^c and thereupon shall be cast out from the favorable presence of God, and the glorious fellowship with Christ, his saints, and all his holy angels, into hell, to be punished with unspeakable torments both of body and soul, with the devil and his angels for ever.^d

Q. 90. What shall be done to the righteous at the day of judgment?

A. At the day of judgment, the righteous, being caught up to Christ in the clouds;^e shall be set on his right hand and there openly acknowledged and acquitted:^f shall join with him in the judging of reprobate angels and men:^g

And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow.

^cMatt. xxv. 41, 42. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink.

^dMatt. xxv. 46. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment. 2 Thess. i. 8, 9. In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power. See Luke xvi. 26; Mark ix. 43.

90. ^e1 Thess. iv. 17. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

^fMatt. xxv. 33. And he shall set the sheep on his right hand. Matt. x. 32. Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

and shall be received into heaven,^h where they shall be fully and for ever freed from all sin and misery;ⁱ filled with inconceivable joys;^k made perfectly holy and happy both in body and soul, in the company of innumerable saints and angels;^l but especially in the immediate vision and fruition of God the Father, of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of the Holy Spirit, to all eternity.^m And this is the perfect and full communion, which the members of the invisible Church shall enjoy with Christ in glory, at the resurrection and day of judgment.

Having seen what the Scriptures principally teach us to believe concerning God, it follows to consider what they require as the duty of man.

Q. 91. What is the duty which God requireth of man?

A. The duty which God requireth of man is obedience to his revealed will.ⁿ

^kPsa. xvi. 11. Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy presence is fullness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

^lHeb. xii. 22, 23. But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels, To the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect.

^m1 John iii. 2. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. 1 Cor. xiii. 12. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. 1 Thess. iv. 17, 18. So shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore comfort one another with these words. See Rev. xxii. 3-5.

Micah vi. 8. He hath showed thee, O man, what is good: and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? 1 Sam. xv. 22. And Samuel said, Hath the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams.

Q. 92. What did God at first reveal unto man as the rule of his obedience?

A. The rule of obedience revealed to Adam in the estate of innocence, and to all mankind in him, beside a special command, not to eat of the fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, was the moral law.^a

Q. 93. What is the moral law?

A. The moral law is the declaration of the will of God to mankind, directing and binding every one to personal, perfect, and perpetual conformity and obedience thereunto, in the frame and disposition of the whole man, soul and body,^b and in performance of all those duties of holiness and righteousness which he oweth to God and man:^c promising life upon the fulfilling, and threatening death upon the breach of it.^d

92. ^aGen. i. 27. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. Rom. x. 5. For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them. Rom. ii. 14, 15. For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves: Which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another. Gen. ii. 17. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

93. ^bDeut. v. 1, 31, 33. Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep and do them.—I will speak unto thee all the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them.—Ye shall walk in all the ways which the Lord your God hath commanded you. Luke x. 26-28. What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. Gal. iii. 10. For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. 1 Thess. v. 23. I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

^cLuke i. 75. In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. Acts xxiv. 16. And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

^dRom. x. 5. The man which doeth those things shall live by them.

Q. 94. Is there any use of the moral law to man since the fall?

A. Although no man since the fall can attain to righteousness and life by the moral law;^s yet there is great use thereof, as well common to all men, as peculiar either to the unregenerate, or the regenerate.^t

Q. 95. Of what use is the moral law to all men?

A. The moral law is of use to all men, to inform them of the holy nature and will of God,^u and of their duty binding them to walk accordingly;^w to convince them of their disability to keep it, and of the sinful pollution of their nature, hearts, and lives;^x to humble them in the sense of their sin and misery,^y and thereby help them to ^yRom. iii. 9, 23. What then? Are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin.—For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. Rom. vii. 9, 13. When the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.—That sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

a clearer sight of the need they have of Christ,^z and of the perfection of his obedience.^a

Q. 96. What particular use is there of the moral law to unregenerate men?

A. The moral law is of use to unregenerate men, to awaken their consciences to flee from the wrath to come,^b and to drive them to Christ;^c or, upon their continuance in the estate and way of sin, to leave them inexcusable,^d and under the curse thereof.^e

Q. 97. What special use is there of the moral law to the regenerate?

A. Although they that are regenerate and believe in Christ, be delivered from the moral law as a covenant of works,^f so as thereby they are neither justified^g nor con-

^zGal. iii. 21, 22. *Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law. tables of stone;^m and are recorded in the twentieth chapter of Exodus: the first four commandments containing our duty to God, and the other six our duty to man.ⁿ

Q. 99. What rules are to be observed for the right understanding of the ten commandments?

A. For the right understanding of the ten commandments, these rules are to be observed:—

1. That the law is perfect, and bindeth every one to full conformity in the whole man unto the righteousness thereof, and unto entire obedience for ever; so as to require the utmost perfection of every duty, and to forbid the least degree of every sin.^o

2. That it is spiritual, and so reacheth the understanding, will, affections, and all other powers of the soul; as well as words, works, and gestures.^p

98. ^mDeut. x. 4. And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandments, which the LORD spake unto you in the mount, out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly: and the LORD gave them unto me. See Ex. xxxiv. 1-4.

ⁿMatt. xxii. 37-40. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

99. ^oPsa. xix. 7. The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple. James ii. 10. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. Matt. v. 21, 22. Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

^pRom. vii. 14. For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin. Deut. vi. 5. And thou shalt love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. Matt. xxii. 37-39. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Matt. xii. 36, 37. But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned. See Matt. v. 27-48.

3. That one and the same thing, in divers respects, is required or forbidden in several commandments.^a

4. That as, where a duty is commanded, the contrary sin is forbidden;^r and, where a sin is forbidden, the contrary duty is commanded:^s so, where a promise is annexed, the contrary threatening is included;^t and, where a threatening is annexed, the contrary promise is included.^u

5. That what God forbids, is at no time to be done;^w

^aCol. iii. 5. Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry. 1 Tim. vi. 10. So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain; which taketh away the life of the owners thereof. Amos viii. 5. Saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel great and falsifying the balance by deceit?

^rIsa. lviii. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the LORD, honorable; and shalt honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words. Matt. xv. 4-6. For God commanded, saying, Honor thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; And honor not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Q. 100. What special things are we to consider in the ten commandments?

A. We are to consider in the ten commandments, the preface, the substance of the commandments themselves, and the several reasons annexed to some of them the more to enforce them.

Q. 101. What is the preface to the ten commandments?

A. The preface to the ten commandments is contained in these words, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.^d Wherein God manifesteth his sovereignty, as being Jehovah, the eternal, immutable, and almighty God;^e having his being in and of himself,^f and giving being to all his words^g and works:^h and that he is a God in covenant, as with Israel of old, so with all his people;ⁱ who, as he brought them out of their bondage in Egypt, so he delivered us from our spiritual thralldom:^k and that therefore we are bound to take him for our God alone, and to keep all his commandments.^l

Q. 102. What is the sum of the four commandments which contain our duty to God?

A. The sum of the four commandments containing our duty to God, is to love the Lord our God with all our heart, and with all our soul, and with all our strength, and with all our mind.^m

Q. 103. Which is the first commandment?

A. The first commandment is, *Thou shalt have no other gods before me.*ⁿ

Q. 104. What are the duties required in the first commandment?

A. The duties required in the first commandment are, the knowing and acknowledging of God to be the only true God, and our God;^o and to worship and glorify him accordingly,^p by thinking,^q meditating,^r remembering,^s ^l1 Pet. i. 15-18. But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation; Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy. And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear: Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers. Q. 119. What are the sins forbidden in the fourth commandment?

A. The sins forbidden in the fourth commandment are, all omissions of the duties required,^f all careless, negligent, and unprofitable performing of them, and being weary of them;^g all profaning the day by idleness, and doing that which is in itself sinful;^h and by all needless works, words, and thoughts, about our worldly employments and recreations.ⁱ

Q. 120. What are the reasons annexed to the fourth commandment, the more to enforce it?

A. The reasons annexed to the fourth commandment, the more to enforce it, are taken from the equity of it, God allowing us six days of seven for our own affairs, and reserving but one for himself, in these words, six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work;^k from God's challenging a special propriety in that day, the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God;^l from the example of God, who in six days made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: and from that blessing which

God put upon that day, not only in sanctifying it to be a day for his service, but in ordaining it to be a means of blessing to us in our sanctifying it, wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it.^m

Q. 121. Why is the word “remember” set in the beginning of the fourth commandment?

A. The word remember is set in the beginning of the fourth commandment,ⁿ partly, because of the great benefit of remembering it, we being thereby helped in our preparation to keep it;^o and, in keeping it, better to keep all the rest of the commandments,^p and to continue a thankful remembrance of the two great benefits of creation and redemption, which contain a short abridgment of religion:^q and partly because we are ready to forget it,^r for that there

Q. 125. Why are superiors styled "father" and "mother"?

A. Superiors are styled father and mother, both to teach them in all duties towards their inferiors, like natural parents, to express love and tenderness to them, according to their several relations;^g and to work inferiors to a greater willingness and cheerfulness in performing their duties to their superiors, as to their parents.^h

Q. 126. What is the general scope of the fifth commandment?

A. The general scope of the fifth commandment is the performance of those duties which we mutually owe in our several relations, as inferiors, superiors, or equals.ⁱ

And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

Q. 146. Which is the tenth commandment?

A. The tenth commandment is, *Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbor's.*²

Q. 147. What are the duties required in the tenth commandment?

A. The duties required in the tenth commandment are, such a full contentment with our own condition,^a and such a charitable frame of the whole soul towards our neighbor, as that all our inward motions and affections touching him, tend unto and further all that good which is his.^b

Q. 148. What are the sins forbidden in the tenth commandment?

A. The sins forbidden in the tenth commandment are, discontentment with our own estate;^c envying,^d and grieving at the good of our neighbor,^e together with all inordinate motions and affections to any thing that is his.^f

A. The Spirit of God maketh the reading, but especially the preaching of the Word, an effectual means of enlightening,^l convincing and humbling sinners;^m of driving them

John iii. 18. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten Son of God.

ⁱProv. viii. 33-35. Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not. Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors. For whoso findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favor of the LORD. Luke xiii. 24. Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

154. ^kMatt. xxviii. 19, 20. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Acts ii. 42, 46. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.—And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart. See 1 Cor. i. 21; Eph. v. 19, 20.

155. ^lPsa. xix. 8. The commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes. Acts xxvi. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God.

^mJer. xxiii. 28, 29. The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the LORD. Is not my word like as a fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? Heb. iv. 12. The word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than any twoodged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. 1 Cor. xiv. 24, 25. But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all: And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.

out of themselves, and drawing them unto Christ;ⁿ of conforming them to his image,^o and subduing them to his will;^p of strengthening them against temptations and corruptions;^q of building them up in grace,^r and establishing their hearts in holiness and comfort through faith unto salvation.^s

Q. 156. Is the Word of God to be read by all?

A. Although all are not permitted to read the Word publicly to the congregation,^t yet all sorts of people are ⁿActs ii. 37, 41. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?—Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls. See Acts viii. 27-38.

^o2 Cor. iii. 18. But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

^p2 Cor. x. 4, 5. (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;) Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ. See Rom. vi. 17, 18.

^qPsa. xix. 11. Moreover by them is thy servant warned. Col. i. 28. Whom we preach, warning every man. Eph. vi. 16, 17. Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. See Matt. iv. 4, 7, 10.

^rEph. iv. 11, 12. And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ. Acts xx. 32. And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. 2 Tim. iii. 15, 16. And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness.

^sRom. xvi. 25. Now to him that is of power to establish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began. 1 Thess. iii. 2, 13. And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow laborer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith.—To the end he may establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. See Rom. x. 14-17.

156. ^tDeut. xxxi. 9, 11. And Moses wrote this law, and delivered it unto the priests the sons of Levi, which bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and unto all the elders of Israel.—When all Israel is come bound to read it apart by themselves,^u and with their families:^w to which end, the holy Scriptures are to be translated out of the original into vulgar languages.^x

Q. 157. How is the Word of God to be read?

A. The Holy Scriptures are to be read with an high and reverent esteem of them;^y with a firm persuasion that they are the very Word of God,^z and that he only can to appear before the LORD thy God in the place which he shall choose, thou shalt read this law before all Israel in their hearing.^u See Neh. ix. 3-5.

^uDeut. xvii. 18, 19. And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book out of that which is before the priests of Levites: And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life. Isa. xxxiv. 16. Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read. John v. 39. Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. Rev. i. 3. Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein.

^wDeut. vi. 6, 7. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shall talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. Psal. lxxviii. 5, 6. For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children: That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born; who should arise and declare them to their children.

^x1 Cor. xiv. 18, 19. I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all: Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue. See verses 2-29.

157. ^yNeh. viii. 5. And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up. Isa. lxvi. 2. But to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word. Psal. xix. 10. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.

^z2 Pet. i. 19-21. We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts: Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost. 1 Thess. ii. 13. For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

enable us to understand them;^a with desire to know, believe, and obey, the will of God revealed in them;^b with diligence,^c and attention to the matter and scope of them;^d with meditation,^e application,^f self-denial,^g and prayer.^h ^aPsa. cxix. 18. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law. Luke xxiv. 45. Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures.

^cActs xvii. 11. These [Bereans] were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

^dActs viii. 30, 34. And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself or some other man? Matt. xiii. 23. But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

^ePsa. i. 2. But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. Psa. cxix. 97. O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day.

^f2 Chron. xxxiv. 21. Go, inquire of the LORD for me, and for them that are left in Israel and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out upon us, because our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD, to do after all that is written in this book. Rom. iv. 23, 24. Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him; But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead. Rom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. See 1 Cor. x. 6-11.

^gProv. iii. 5. Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. Job. xxiii. 12. Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food. John iv. 32, 34. But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.—Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

^hNeh. viii. 6, 8. And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God. And all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD with their faces to the ground. So they read in the book in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading. Psa. cxix. 18. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

Q. 158. By whom is the Word of God to be preached?

A. The Word of God is to be preached only by such as are sufficiently gifted,ⁱ and also duly approved and called to that office.^k

Q. 159. How is the Word of God to be preached by those that are called thereunto?

A. They that are called to labor in the ministry of the Word are to preach sound doctrine,^l diligently,^m in season, and out of season;ⁿ plainly,^o not in the enticing words of man's wisdom but in demonstration of the Spirit, and of power;^p faithfully,^q making known the whole counsel of God;^r wisely,^s applying themselves to the neces-

158. ^k1 Tim. iii. 2, 6. A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behavior, given to hospitality, apt to teach.—Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil. 2 Tim. ii. 2. And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also. Mal. ii. 7. For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts.

^lRom. x. 15. And how shall they preach except they be sent? 1 Cor. xii. 28, 29. And God hath set some in the church, first apostles secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues. Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles? 1 Tim. iv. 14. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

159. ^lTit. ii. 1, 7, 8. But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:—In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity, Sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

ⁿ2 Tim. iv. 2. Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season.

^o1 Cor. xiv. 9. Except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air. See verses 10-19.

^p1 Cor. ii. 4. And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power.

^qJer. xxiii. 28. He that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. 1 Cor. iv. 1, 2. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

^rActs xx. 27. For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

sities and capacities of the hearers;^t zealously,^u with fervent love to God,^w and the souls of his people;^x sincerely,^y aiming at his glory,^z and their conversion,^a edification,^b and salvation.^c

Q. 160. What is required of those that hear the Word preached?

A. It is required of those that hear the Word preached, ^tLuke xii. 42. And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household to give them their portion of meat in due season? 1 Cor. iii. 2. I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able. See Heb. v. 12-14.

^w2 Cor. v. 13, 14. For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause. For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead. See Phil i. 15-17.

^xCol. iv. 12. Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saleteth you, always laboring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God. 2 Cor. xii. 15. And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved. See 1 Thess. iii. 12, 13.

^y2 Cor. iv. 2. But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. See 2 Cor. ii. 17.

^zJohn vii. 18. He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. 1 Thess. ii. 4. But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

^a1 Cor. ix. 19-22. For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more. And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law. To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.

^b2 Cor. xii. 19. But we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying. Eph. iv. 12. For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ.

160. ^dPsa. lxxxiv. 1, 2, 4. How amiable are thy tabernacles, O LORD of hosts! My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the LORD.—Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. See Psa. xxvii. 4; Prov. viii. 34.

^eLuke viii. 18. Take heed therefore how ye hear. 1 Pet. ii. 1, 2. Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby. See James i. 21.

^fPsa. cxix. 18. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law. Eph. vi. 17, 18. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit.

^gActs xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

^hRom. i. 16, 17. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith.

ⁱ2 Thess. ii. 10. They received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

^lActs xvii. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind.

^m1 Thess. ii. 13. For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God.

ⁿHeb. ii. 1. Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

^oDeut. vi. 6, 7. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down and when thou risest up.

^qLuke viii. 15. But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it and bring forth fruit with patience. James i. 25. But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

Q. 161. How do the Sacraments become effectual means of salvation?

A. The Sacraments become effectual means of salvation, not by any power in themselves, or any virtue derived from the piety or intention of him by whom they are administered; but only by the working of the Holy Ghost, and the blessing of Christ by whom they are instituted.^r

Q. 162. What is a Sacrament?

A. A Sacrament is an holy ordinance instituted by Christ in his Church,^s to signify, seal, and exhibit^t unto those that are within the covenant of grace,^u the benefits of his

161. ^r1 Pet. iii. 21. The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Acts viii. 13, 23. Then Simon himself believed also; and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.—For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity. 1 Cor. iii. 7. So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. 1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

162. ^sMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Matt. xxvi. 26, 27. And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it.

^tRom. iv. 11. And he [Abraham] received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. 1 Cor. xi. 24, 25. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

^uEx. xii. 48. And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the LORD, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof. Matt. xv. 24, 27. But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.—And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. Rom. xv. 8, 9. Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers: And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. Rom. ix. 8. The children of the promise are counted for the seed.

mediation;^w to strengthen and increase their faith and all other graces;^x to oblige them to obedience;^y to testify and cherish their love and communion one with another,^z and to distinguish them from those that are without.^a ^wActs ii. 38. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. Acts xxii. 16. And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord. 1 Cor. x. 16. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ.

^xJohn vi. 56, 57. He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him. As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father, so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me. Gal. iii. 27. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. See Rom. iv. 11.

^yDeut. x. 16. Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and be no more stiffnecked. Deut. xxx. 6. And the LORD thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live. Rom. vi. 3, 4. Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. 1 Cor. v. 6-8. Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us: Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

^z1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. 1 Cor. x. 17. For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread. See Eph. iv. 3-5.

^aLev. xx. 26. And ye shall be holy unto me: for I the LORD am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine, Josh. v. 9. And the LORD said unto Joshua, This day have I rolled away the reproach of Egypt from off you. Wherefore the name of the place is called Gilgal unto this day. Isa. lii. 1, 11. Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.—Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the LORD. 1 Cor. x. 21. Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

Q. 163. What are the parts of a Sacrament?

A. The parts of a Sacrament are two: the one, an outward and sensible sign used according to Christ's own appointment; the other, an inward and spiritual grace thereby signified.^b

Q. 164. How many Sacraments hath Christ instituted in his Church under the New Testament?

A. Under the New Testament Christ hath instituted in his Church only two Sacraments, Baptism, and the Lord's Supper.^c

Q. 165. What is Baptism?

A. Baptism is a Sacrament of the New Testament, wherein Christ hath ordained the washing with water in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost,^d to be a sign and seal of ingrafting into himself,^e of remission of sins by his blood,^f and regeneration by his Spirit;^g of adoption,^h and resurrection unto everlasting life:ⁱ and whereby the parties baptized are solemnly ad-

Q. 166. Unto whom is Baptism to be administered?

A. Baptism is not to be administered to any that are out of the visible Church, and so strangers from the covenant of promise, till they profess their faith in Christ, and obedience to him;^m but infants descending from parents, either both or but one of them, professing faith in Christ, and obedience to him, are in that respect within the covenant, and are to be baptized.ⁿ

Q. 167. How is our Baptism to be improved by us?

A. The needful but much neglected duty of improving our Baptism, is to be performed by us all our life long, especially in the time of temptation, and when we are present at the administration of it to others,^o by serious and thankful consideration of the nature of it, and of the ends for which Christ instituted it, the privileges and benefits conferred and sealed thereby, and our solemn vow made therein;^p by being humbled for our sinful defilement, our

Q. 168. What is the Lord's Supper?

A. The Lord's Supper is a Sacrament of the New Testament,^y wherein, by giving and receiving bread and wine according to the appointment of Jesus Christ, his death is showed forth; and they that worthily communicate, feed upon his body and blood, to their spiritual nourishment and growth in grace;^z have their union and communion with him confirmed;^a testify and renew their thankfulness^b and engagement to God,^c and their mutual love and fellowship each with other, as members of the same mystical body.^d

Q. 169. How hath Christ appointed bread and wine to be given and received in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper?

A. Christ hath appointed the ministers of his Word in the administration of this Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, to set apart the bread and wine from common use by the word of institution, thanksgiving, and prayer; to take and break the bread, and to give both the bread and the wine to the communicants: who are by the same appointment to take and eat the bread, and to drink the wine; in body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.—That there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another. And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honored, all the members rejoice with it. Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular. See verses 14-24.

thankful remembrance that the body of Christ was broken and given, and his blood shed for them.^e

Q. 170. How do they that worthily communicate in the Lord's Supper feed upon the body and blood of Christ therein?

A. As the body and blood of Christ are not corporally or carnally present in, with, or under the bread and wine in the Lord's Supper;^f and yet are spiritually present to the faith of the receiver, no less truly and really than the elements themselves are to their outward senses;^g so they that worthily communicate in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, do therein feed upon the body and blood of Christ, not after a corporal or carnal, but in a spiritual manner; yet truly and really,^h while by faith they receive and apply unto themselves Christ crucified, and all the benefits of his death.ⁱ

Q. 177. Wherein do the Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper differ?

A. The Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper differ, in that Baptism is to be administered but once, with water, to be a sign and seal of our regeneration and ingrafting into Christ,^q and that even to infants;^r whereas the Lord's Supper is to be administered often, in the elements of bread and wine, to represent and exhibit Christ as spiritual nourishment to the soul,^s and to con-

In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ: Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead. See Rom. iv. 11. Matt. xxvi. 27, 28. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.

^oMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 1 Cor. xi. 23. For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread. 1 Cor. iv. 1. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.

^pMatt. xxviii. 20. Teaching them [all nations] to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. 1 Cor. xi. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.

177. ^qMatt. iii. 11. I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire. Gal. iii. 27. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. Titus iii. 5. Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

^rActs ii. 38, 39. Repent, and be baptized every one of you.—For the promise is unto you, and to your children. 1 Cor. vii. 14. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

^s1 Cor. xi. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. John vi. 51. firm our continuance and growth in him,¹ and that only to such as are of years and ability to examine themselves.²

Q. 178. What is Prayer?

A. Prayer is an offering up of our desires unto God,^w in the name of Christ,^x by the help of his Spirit;^y with confession of our sins,^z and thankful acknowledgment of his mercies.^a

Q. 179. Are we to pray unto God only?

A. God only being able to search the hearts,^b hear the requests,^c pardon the sins,^d and fulfill the desires of all;^e and only to be believed in,^f and worshiped with religious worship:^g prayer, which is a special part thereof,^h is to be made by all to him alone,ⁱ and to none other.^k

Q. 180. What is it to pray in the name of Christ?

A. To pray in the name of Christ, is, in obedience to his command, and in confidence on his promises, to ask mercy for his sake:^l not by bare mentioning of his name;^m but by drawing our encouragement to pray, and our boldness, strength, and hope of acceptance in prayer, from Christ and his mediation.ⁿ

ⁿHeb. iv. 14-16. Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession. For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. See 1 John v. 13-15.

Q. 181. Why are we to pray in the name of Christ?

A. The sinfulness of man, and his distance from God by reason thereof, being so great, as that we can have no access into his presence without a mediator;^o and there being none in heaven or earth appointed to, or fit for, that glorious work but Christ alone;^p we are to pray in no other name but his only.^q

Q. 182. How doth the Spirit help us to pray?

A. We not knowing what to pray for as we ought, the Spirit helpeth our infirmities, by enabling us to understand both for whom, and what, and how prayer is to be made; and by working and quickening in our hearts (although not in all persons, nor at all times in the same measure) those apprehensions, affections, and graces, which are requisite for the right performance of that duty.^r

Q. 183. For whom are we to pray?

A. We are to pray for the whole Church of Christ upon propagated throughout the world,^c the Jews called,^d the fullness of the Gentiles brought in;^e the Church furnished with all gospel officers and ordinances,^f purged from corruption,^g countenanced and maintained by the civil magistrate:^h that the ordinances of Christ may be purely dispensed, and made effectual to the converting of those that are yet in their sins, and the confirming, comforting, and building up of those that are already converted:ⁱ that Christ would rule in our hearts here,^k and hasten the time

^c2 Thess. iii. 1. Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you.

^dRom. x. 1. Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

^eRom. xi. 25. For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in. Psal. lxxvii. 1, 2. God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; Selah. That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.

^fMatt. ix. 38. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest.

^gEph. v. 26, 27. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word, That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. Mal. i. 11. For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

^h1 Tim. ii. 1, 2. I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. Isa. xlix. 23. And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD: for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

ⁱ2 Cor. iv. 2. Nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but, by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. Acts xxvi. 18. Q. 192. What do we pray for in the third petition?

A. In the third petition, (which is, Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven)ⁿ acknowledging that by nature we and all men are not only utterly unable and unwilling to know and do the will of God,^o but prone to rebel against his Word,^p to repine and murmur against his providence,^q and wholly inclined to do the will of the flesh, and of the devil:^r we pray that God would by his Spirit take away from ourselves and others all blindness,^s weakness,^t indis-

^lRev. xxii. 20. He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus. 2 Tim. ii. 12. If we suffer, we shall also reign with him.

^mPsa. xlv. 3, 4. Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty. And in thy majesty ride prosperously, because of truth and meekness and righteousness; and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things. Isa. lxiv. 1, 2. Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence, As when the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence!

192. ⁿMatt. vi. 10.

^o1 Cor. ii. 14. The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

^pRom. viii. 7. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

^qMatt. xx. 11, 12. And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house, Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day. Psa. lxxiii. 3. I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

^rEph. ii. 2, 3. Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience: Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

^sEph. i. 17, 18. That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him: The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints.

^tEph. iii. 16. That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man.

^yPsa. cxliii. 2. Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress; so our eyes wait upon the LORD our God, until that he have mercy upon us. Micah vi. 8. He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?

^zPsa. c. 2. Serve the LORD with gladness: come before his presence with singing.

^aIsa. xxxviii. 3. Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. Eph. vi. 6. Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart.

^bPsa. cxix. 4. Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.

^d2 Cor. i. 12. Our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world.

^ePsa. cxix. 112. I have inclined my heart to perform thy statutes always, even unto the end. Rom. ii. 7. To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, eternal life.

^fPsa. ciii. 20-22. Bless the LORD, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word. Bless ye the LORD, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.—Bless the LORD, O my soul. Dan. vii. 10. Thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him.

Q. 193. What do we pray for in the fourth petition?

A. In the fourth petition, (which is, Give us this day our daily bread)^a acknowledging that in Adam, and by our own sin, we have forfeited our right to all the outward blessings of this life, and deserve to be wholly deprived of them by God, and to have them cursed to us in the use of them;^b and that neither they of themselves are able to sustain us,ⁱ nor we to merit,^k or by our own industry to procure them;^l but prone to desire,^m get,ⁿ and use them unlawfully:^o we pray for ourselves and others, that both they and we, waiting upon the providence of God from day to day in the use of lawful means, may of his free gift, and as to his fatherly wisdom shall seem best, enjoy a competent portion of them,^p and have the same continued and blessed unto us in our holy and comfortable use 193. ^aMatt. vi. 11.

^bGen. iii. 17. And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life. Lam. iii. 22. It is of the LORD's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not. See Deut. xxviii. 15-68.

ⁱDeut. viii. 3. And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the LORD doth man live.

^pGen. xxviii. 20, 21. And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on, So that I come again to my father's house in peace; then shall the LORD be my God. Eph. iv. 28. Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth. Psal. xc. 17. And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us; and establish of them,^q and contentment in them;^r and be kept from all things that are contrary to our temporal support and comfort.^s

Q. 194. What do we pray for in the fifth petition?

A. In the fifth petition, (which is, Forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors)^t acknowledging that we and all others are guilty both of original and actual sin, and thereby become debtors to the justice of God; and that neither we nor any other creature can make the least satisfaction for that debt:^u we pray for ourselves and others, that God of his free grace would, through the obedience and satisfaction of Christ apprehended and applied by faith, acquit us both from the guilt and punishment of sin,^v accept us in his Beloved,^x continue his favor and grace to us,^y pardon our daily failings,^z and fill us with

ADOPTED 1729.

Question 1. What is the chief end of man?

ANSWER. Man's chief end is to glorify God,^a and to enjoy him for ever.^b

^aRom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. 1 Cor. x. 31. Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

^bPs. lxxiii. 25, 26. Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee. My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

Q. 2. What rule hath God given to direct us how we may glorify and enjoy him?

A. The Word of God which is contained in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments,^c is the only rule to direct us how we may glorify and enjoy him.^d ^cLuke xxiv. 27, 44. And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me. 2 Pet. iii. 2, 15, 16. That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour.—And account that the long suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you; as also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

^d2 Tim. iii. 16, 17. All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. Luke xvi. 31. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead. Gal. i. 8, 9. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed. John xv. 11. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

Q. 3. What do the Scriptures principally teach?

A. The Scriptures principally teach, what man is to believe concerning God,^e and what duty God requires of man.^f

^eJohn v. 39. Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. John xx. 31. But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name. 1 John i. 3, 4. That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

^fRom. xv. 4. For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope. 1 Cor. x. 11. Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

Q. 4. What is GOD?

A. God is a Spirit,^g infinite, eternal, and unchangeable, in his being,^h wisdom,ⁱ power,^k holiness,^l justice, goodness, and truth.^m ^gJohn iv. 24. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

^hEx. iii. 14. And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. Ps. cxlv. 3. Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable. Ps. xc. 2. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. James i. 17. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

ⁱRom. xi. 33. O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

^lRev. iv. 8. And they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

^mEx. xxxiv. 6, 7. And the LORD passed by before him and proclaimed, The LORD, The LORD God, merciful and gracious, long suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty.

Q. 5. Are there more Gods than one?

A. There is but one only,ⁿ the living and true God.^o ⁿDeut. vi. 4. Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God is one LORD. 1 Cor. viii. 4. We know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

^oJer. x. 10. But the LORD is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation. John xvii. 3. And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.

Q. 6. How many persons are there in the Godhead?

A. There are three persons in the Godhead; the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost;ⁿ and these three are one God, the same in substance, equal in power and glory.^q ^pMatt. iii. 16, 17. And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: And lo, a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Matt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. 2 Cor. xiii. 14. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

^qJohn i. 1. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. John v. 18. Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God. Acts v. 3, 4. But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? Why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God. Heb. i. 3. Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person.

Q. 7. What are the decrees of God?

A. The decrees of God are, his eternal purpose, according to the counsel of his will, whereby, for his own glory, he hath foreordained whatsoever comes to pass.^r ^rRom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. Eph. i. 11. In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will. Acts ii. 23. Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain.

Q. 8. How doth God execute his decrees?

A. God executeth his decrees in the works of creation and providence.^s ^sRev. iv. 11. Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. Dan. iv. 35. And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? Isa. xl. 26. Lift up you eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth,

Q. 9. What is the work of Creation?

A. The work of creation is, God's making all things of nothing, by the word of his power,^t in the space of six days, and all very good.^u ^tGen. i. 1. In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. Heb. xi. 3. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear. Ps. xxxiii. 9. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast.

^uGen. i. 31. And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

Q. 10. How did God create man?

A. God created man male and female, after his own image,^w in knowledge,^x righteousness, and holiness,^y with dominion over the creatures.^z

^yEph. iv. 24. And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.

^zGen. i. 28. And God said unto them, . . . have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

Q. 11. What are God's works of providence?

A. God's works of providence are, his most holy,^a wise,^b and powerful preserving and governing all his creatures, and all their actions.^c ^aPs. cxlv. 17. The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

^bPs. civ. 24. O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all.

^cHeb. i. 3. And upholding all things by the word of his power. Neh. ix. 6. Thou, even thou, art LORD alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshipeth thee. Matt. x. 30. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

Q. 12. What special act of providence did God exercise towards man, in the estate wherein he was created?

A. When God had created man, he entered into a covenant of life with him, upon condition of perfect obedience; forbidding him to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, upon pain of death.^d ^dGal. iii. 12. And the law is not of faith; but, The man that doeth them shall live in them. Gen. ii. 17. But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

Q. 13. Did our first parents continue in the estate wherein they were created?

A. Our first parents, being left to the freedom of their own will, fell from the estate wherein they were created, by sinning against God.^e ^eRom. v. 12. As by one man sin entered into the world. Gen. iii. 6. And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her: and he did eat.

Q. 14. What is sin?

A. Sin is any want of conformity unto, or transgression of, the law of God.^f

^fRom. iv. 15. For where no law is, there is no transgression. James ii. 10. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. James iv. 17. Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin. 1 John iii 4. Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

Q. 15. What was the sin whereby our first parents fell from the estate wherein they were created?

A. The sin whereby our first parents fell from the estate wherein they were created, was their eating the forbidden fruit.^g ^gGen. iii. 12, 13. And the man said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat. And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

Q. 16. Did all mankind fall in Adam's first transgression?

A. The covenant being made with Adam, not only for himself, but for his posterity,^h all mankind, descending from him by ordinary generation,ⁱ sinned in him, and fell with him, in his first transgression.^k ^hGen. i. 28. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

^tActs xvii. 26. And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation.

^k1 Cor. xv. 21, 22. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

Q. 17. Into what estate did the fall bring mankind?

A. The fall brought mankind into an estate of sin and misery.^l ^lRom. v. 12, 13. Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned: For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

Q. 18. Wherein consists the sinfulness of that estate whereinto man fell?

A. The sinfulness of that estate whereinto man fell, consists in, the guilt of Adam's first sin, the want of original righteousness, and the corruption of his whole nature, which is commonly called original sin; together with all actual transgressions which proceed from it.^m ^mRom. v. 18, 19. Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life. For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous. Eph. ii. 1. And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins. Rom. viii. 7. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

Q. 19. What is the misery of that estate whereinto man fell?

A. All mankind, by their fall, lost communion with God,ⁿ are under his wrath and curse,^o and so made liable to all the miseries of this life, to death itself, and to the pains of hell for ever.^p ⁿGen. iii. 8, 24. And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God amongst the trees of the garden. — So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.

^oEph. ii. 3. Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

^pRom. vi. 23. For the wages of sin is death. Mark ix. 47, 48. And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire: where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

Q. 20. Did God leave all mankind to perish in the estate of sin and misery?

A. God, having out of his mere good pleasure, from all eternity, elected some to everlasting life,^a did enter into a covenant of grace, to deliver them out of the estate of sin and misery, and to bring them into an estate of salvation by a Redeemer.^r ^qEph. i. 4. According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love.

^rTit. i. 2. In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began. Tit. iii. 7. That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. John xvii. 6. I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

Q. 21. Who is the Redeemer of God's elect?

A. The only Redeemer of God's elect is the Lord Jesus Christ,^s who, being the eternal Son of God, became man,^t and so was, and continueth to be God, and man, in two distinct natures, and one person,^u for ever.^w ^s1 Tim. ii. 5. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.

^tJohn i. 14. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

^uRom. ix. 5. Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen. Col. ii. 9. For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.

^wHeb. xiii. 8. Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.

Q. 22. How did Christ, being the Son of God, become man?

A. Christ, the Son of God, became man, by taking to himself a true body^x and a reasonable soul,^y being conceived by the power of the Holy Ghost, in the womb of the Virgin Mary, and born of her,^z yet without sin.^y ²Heb. ii. 14. Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is the devil.

³Matt. xxvi. 38. Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me. Luke ii. 52. And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

²Luke i. 31, 35. And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

⁴Heb. iv. 15. For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

Q. 23. What offices doth Christ execute as our Redeemer?

A. Christ, as our Redeemer, executeth the offices of a prophet,^b of a priest,^c and of a king,^d both in his estate of humiliation and exaltation.

^bActs iii. 22. For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

^cHeb. v. 5, 6. So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee. As he saith also in another placé, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

^dPs. ii. 6. Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion. John i. 49. Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel.

Q. 24. How doth Christ execute the office of a prophet?

A. Christ executeth the office of a prophet, in revealing to us, by his Word^e and Spirit,^f the will of God for our salvation.

^eJohn i. 18. No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him. Heb. i. 1, 2. God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds.

^fJohn xiv. 26. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you. John xvi. 13. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth.

Q. 25. How doth Christ execute the office of a priest?

A. Christ executeth the office of a priest, in his once offering up of himself a sacrifice to satisfy divine justice,^a and reconcile us to God,^b and in making continual intercession for us.ⁱ

^aHeb. ix. 28. So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many. Rom. iii. 26. To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus. Rom. x. 4. For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

^bHeb. ii. 17. Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

ⁱHeb. vii. 25. Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

Q. 26. How doth Christ execute the office of a king?

A. Christ executeth the office of a king, in subduing us to himself,^k in ruling and defending us,^l and in restraining and conquering all his and our enemies.

^kPs. cx. 3. Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power.

^lActs ii. 36. Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ. Acts xviii. 9, 10. Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

Q. 27. Wherein did Christ's humiliation consist?

A. Christ's humiliation consisted in his being born, and that in a low condition,^m made under the law,ⁿ undergoing the miseries of this life,^o the wrath of God,^p and the cursed death of the cross;^q in being buried, and continuing under the power of death for a time.^r ^mLuke ii. 7. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn. Phil. ii. 7. But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men.

ⁿGal. iv. 4. But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law.

^oIsa. liii. 3. He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

²Matt. xxvii. 46. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

³Gal. iii. 13. Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree. Phil. ii. 8. And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

⁴1 Cor. xv. 3, 4. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures.

Q. 28. Wherein consisteth Christ's exaltation?

A. Christ's exaltation consisteth in his rising again from the dead on the third day,^s in ascending up into heaven, in sitting at the right hand of God the Father,^t and in coming to judge the world at the last day.^u ^s1 Cor. xv. 4. He rose again the third day.

^tEph. i. 20. He raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places.

^uActs xvii. 31. Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

Q. 29. How are we made partakers of the redemption purchased by Christ?

A. We are made partakers of the redemption purchased by Christ, by the effectual application of it to us^w by his Holy Spirit.^x ^wJohn i. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. John iii. 5, 6. Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

^xTit. iii. 5, 6. According to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost, which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

Q. 30. How doth the Spirit apply to us the redemption purchased by Christ?

A. The Spirit applieth to us the redemption purchased by Christ, by working faith in us, and thereby uniting us to Christ in our effectual calling.^y ^yEph. iv. 15, 16. Grow up into him all things, which is the head, even Christ: From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love. Gal. ii. 20. I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

Q. 31. What is effectual calling?

A. Effectual calling is the work of God's Spirit,^z whereby, convincing us of our sin and misery,^a enlightening our minds in the knowledge of Christ,^b and renewing our wills,^c he doth persuade and enable us to embrace Jesus Christ, freely offered to us in the gospel.^d ^z2 Thess. ii. 13. Because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth.

^aActs ii. 37. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

^bActs xxvi. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

^cEzek. xxxvi. 26, 27. A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. Phil. ii. 13. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

^dJohn vi. 37, 44, 45. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

Q. 32. What benefits do they that are effectually called partake of in this life?

A. They that are effectually called do in this life partake of justification,^e adoption,^f sanctification, and the several benefits which, in this life, do either accompany or flow from them.^g

^fEph. i. 5. Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will.

^g1 Cor. i. 30. But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption.

Q. 33. What is justification?

A. Justification is an act of God's free grace, wherein he pardoneth all our sins,^h and accepteth us as righteous in his sight,ⁱ only for the righteousness of Christ imputed to us,^k and received by faith alone.^l

ⁱ2 Cor. v. 21. For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him. Rom. iii. 24. Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus.

^kRom. iv. 6. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works. Rom. v. 18. By the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.

^lGal. ii. 16. Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law; for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

Q. 34. What is adoption?

A. Adoption is an act of God's free grace,^m whereby we are received into the number, and have a right to all the privileges, of the sons of God.ⁿ

^m1 John iii. 1. Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God.

ⁿJohn i. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name. Rom. viii. 17. And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ.

X Q. 35. What is sanctification?

A. Sanctification is the work of God's free grace,^o whereby we are renewed in the whole man after the image of God,^p and are enabled more and more to die unto sin, and live unto righteousness.^q ^o1 Pet. i. 2. Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ.

^pEph. iv. 24. Put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.

^qRom. vi. 6. Our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

Q. 36. What are the benefits which in this life do accompany or flow from justification, adoption, and sanctification?

A. The benefits which in this life do accompany or flow from justification, adoption, and sanctification, are, assurance of God's love, peace of conscience, joy in the Holy Ghost,^r increase of grace,^s and perseverance therein to the end.^t

^rRom. v. 1, 2, 5. Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ: By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.—And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us. Rom. xiv. 17. For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

^sJohn i. 16. And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

^tPhil. i. 6. Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ. 1 Pet. i. 5. Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

Q. 37. What benefits do believers receive from Christ at death?

A. The souls of believers are at their death made perfect in holiness,^u and do immediately pass into glory;^v and their bodies, being still united to Christ,^x do rest in their graves, till the resurrection.^y ^uRev. xiv. 13. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them. Rev. xix. 8. And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

^vLuke xxiii. 43. And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee To day shalt thou be with me in paradise. Acts vii. 55, 59. But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God.—And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus receive my spirit. Phil. i. 23. For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better. 2 Cor. v. 8. We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

^x1 Thess. iv. 14. Even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

^yJohn v. 28. The hour is coming, in which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice.

Q. 38. What benefits do believers receive from Christ at the resurrection?

A. At the resurrection, believers, being raised up in glory,^z shall be openly acknowledged and acquitted in the day of judgment,^a and made perfectly blessed in the full enjoying of God to all eternity.^b ²¹ 1 Cor. xv. 43. It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory.

^a Matt. x. 32. Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven. Matt. xxv. 34. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

^b Psa. xvi. 11. In thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

Q. 39. What is the duty which God requireth of man?

A. The duty which God requireth of man is obedience to his revealed will.^c ^c Mic. vi. 8. He hath showed thee, O man, what 's good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Luke x. 28. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right; this do and thou shalt live.

Q. 40. What did God at first reveal to man for the rule of his obedience?

A. The rule which God at first revealed to man for his obedience, was the moral law.^d ^d Rom. ii. 14, 15. For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves: which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another.

Q. 41. Wherein is the moral law summarily comprehended?

A. The moral law is summarily comprehended in the ten commandments.^e ^e Deut. x. 4. And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandments, which the LORD spake unto you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly: and the LORD gave them unto me. Matt. xix. 17. If thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

Q. 42. What is the sum of the ten commandments?

A. The sum of the ten commandments is, to love the Lord our God, with all our heart, with all our soul, with all our strength, and with all our mind; and our neighbor as ourselves.^f

^f Matt. xxii. 37-40. Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. . And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Q. 43. What is the preface to the ten commandments?

A. The preface to the ten commandments is in these words, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.^g

Q. 44. What doth the preface to the ten commandments teach us?

A. The preface to the ten commandments teacheth us, that because God is the Lord, and our God, and Redeemer, therefore we are bound to keep all his commandments.^h ^hDeut. xi. 1. Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, alway. 1 Pet. i. 17-19. And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear: Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot.

Q. 45. Which is the first commandment?

A. The first commandment is, *Thou shalt have no other gods before me.*ⁱ ⁱEx. xx. 3.

Q. 46. What is required in the first commandment?

A. The first commandment requireth us to know^k and acknowledge God to be the only true God, and our God;^l and to worship and glorify him accordingly.^m ^k1 Chron. xxviii. 9. And thou, Solomon my son, know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart and with a willing mind.

^lDeut. xxvi. 17. Thou hast avouched the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice.

^mPs. xcv. 6, 7. O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. Matt. iv. 10. For it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

Q. 47. What is forbidden in the first commandment?

A. The first commandment forbiddeth the denying,ⁿ or not worshiping and glorifying, the true God as God,^o and our God;^p and the giving of that worship and glory to any other, which is due to him alone.^q

ⁿPs. xiv. 1. The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God.

^oRom. i. 20, 21. So that they are without excuse: Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God.

^pPs. lxxxi. 11. But my people would not hearken to my voice; and Israel would none of me.

^qRom. i. 25. Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshiped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

Q. 48. What are we specially taught by these words, "before me," in the first commandment?

A. These words, before me, in the first commandment teach us, that God, who seeth all things, taketh notice of, and is much displeased with, the sin of having any other God.^r ^rPs. cxxxix. 1-3. O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me. Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off. Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways. Deut. xxx. 17, 18. But if thine heart turn away, so that thou wilt not hear, but shalt be drawn away, and worship other gods, and serve them; I denounce unto you this day, that ye shall surely perish.

Q. 49. Which is the second commandment?

A. The second commandment is, Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.^s

Q. 50. What is required in the second commandment?

A. The second commandment requireth the receiving, observing, and keeping pure and entire, all such religious worship and ordinances as God hath appointed in his word.^t ^tDeut. xii. 32. What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shall not add thereto, nor diminish from it. Matt. xxviii. 20. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.

Q. 51. What is forbidden in the second commandment?

A. The second commandment forbiddeth the worshiping of God by images,^u or any other way not appointed in his Word.^w ^uRom. i. 22, 23. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

^wCol. ii. 18. Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshiping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind.

Q. 52. What are the reasons annexed to the second commandment?

A. The reasons annexed to the second commandment are, God's sovereignty over us, his propriety in us,^z and the zeal he hath to his own worship.^y ^yPs. xlv. 11. For he is thy Lord; and worship thou him. Ps. c. 3. Know ye that the LORD he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

^zEx. xxxiv. 14. For thou shalt worship no other god: for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God. 1 Cor. x. 22. Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he?

Q. 53. Which is the third commandment?

A. The third commandment is, Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.^z ^zEx. xx. 7.

Q. 54. What is required in the third commandment?

A. The third commandment requireth the holy and reverent use of God's names, titles, attributes,^a ordinances,^b word,^c and works.^d ^aPs. xxix. 2. Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name. Rev. xv. 3, 4. Great and marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints. Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name?

^bEcc. v. 1. Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil.

^cPs. cxxxviii. 2. I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.

^dPs. civ. 24. O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all.

Q. 55. What is forbidden in the third commandment?

A. The third commandment forbiddeth all profaning or abusing of anything whereby God maketh himself known.^e ^eLev. xix. 12. And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the LORD. Matt. v. 34, 35. Swear not at all: neither by heaven; for it is God's throne: Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem; for it is the city of the great King.

Q. 56. What is the reason annexed to the third commandment?

A. The reason annexed to the third commandment is, that however the breakers of this commandment may escape punishment from men, yet the Lord our God will not suffer them to escape his righteous judgment.^f ^fDeut. xxviii. 59. Then the LORD will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.

Q. 57. Which is the fourth commandment?

A. The fourth commandment is, Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work: but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it.^g ^gEx. xx. 8-11.

Q. 58. What is required in the fourth commandment?

A. The fourth commandment requireth the keeping holy to God such set times as he hath appointed in his Word; expressly one whole day in seven, to be a holy Sabbath to himself.^h ^hLev. xix. 30. Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the LORD. Deut. v. 12. Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the LORD thy God hath commanded thee.

Q. 59. Which day of the seven hath God appointed to be the weekly Sabbath?

A. From the beginning of the world to the resurrection of Christ, God appointed the seventh day of the week to be the weekly Sabbath;ⁱ and the first day of the week, ever since, to continue to the end of the world, which is the Christian Sabbath.^k ⁱGen. ii. 3. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made. Ex. xvi. 23. And he said unto them, This is that which the LORD hath said, To morrow is the rest of the holy sabbath unto the LORD.

^kActs xx. 7. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow. 1 Cor. xvi. 1, 2. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him. Rev. i. 10. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day.

Q. 60. How is the Sabbath to be sanctified?

A. The Sabbath is to be sanctified by a holy resting all that day, even from such worldly employments and recreations as are lawful on other days;^l and spending the whole time in the public and private exercises of God's worship,^m except so much as is to be taken up in the works of necessity and mercy.ⁿ

^lLev. xxiii. 3. Six days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the LORD in all your dwellings.

^mIsa. lviii. 13, 14. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the LORD, honorable; and shalt honor him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words: Then shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

ⁿMatt. xii. 11, 12. And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days. Mark ii. 27. And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath.

Q. 61. What is forbidden in the fourth commandment?

A. The fourth commandment forbiddeth the omission, or careless performance, of the duties required, and the profaning the day by idleness, or doing that which is in itself sinful,^o or by unnecessary thoughts, words, or works, about our worldly employments or recreations.^p ^oEzek. xxiii. 38. Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

^pJer. xvii. 21. Thus saith the LORD; Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem. Luke xxiii. 56. And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day according to the commandment.

Q. 62. What are the reasons annexed to the fourth commandment?

A. The reasons annexed to the fourth commandment are, God's allowing us six days of the week for our own employments,^q his challenging a special propriety in the seventh,^r his own example,^s and his blessing the Sabbath-day.^t ^qEx. xxxi. 15, 16. Six days may work be done; but in the seventh is the sabbath of rest, holy to the LORD: whosoever doeth any work in the sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death. Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant.

^rLev. xxiii. 3. Six days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the LORD in all your dwellings.

^sEx. xxxi. 17. It is a sign between me and the children of Israel for ever: for in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed.

^tGen. ii. 3. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it.

Q. 63. Which is the fifth commandment?

A. The fifth commandment is, Honor thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.^u ^uEx. xx. 12.

Q. 64. What is required in the fifth commandment?

A. The fifth commandment requireth the preserving the honor, and performing the duties, belonging to every one in their several places and relations, as superiors,^w inferiors,^x or equals.^y ^wLev. xix. 32. Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honor the face of the old man, and fear thy God: I am the LORD. Eph. vi. 1, 5. Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.—Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ. Rom. xiii. 1. Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

^xEph. vi. 9. And ye, masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him.

^yRom. xii. 10. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another.

Q. 65. What is forbidden in the fifth commandment?

A. The fifth commandment forbiddeth the neglecting of, or doing anything against, the honor and duty which belongeth to every one in their several places and relations.^z ^zRom. xiii. 7, 8. Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor. Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

Q. 66. What is the reason annexed to the fifth commandment?

A. The reason annexed to the fifth commandment is, a promise of long life and prosperity (as far as it shall serve for God's glory, and their own good) to all such as keep this commandment.^a ^aEph. vi. 2, 3. Honor thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise; That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

ⁱCol. iii. 5. Mortify . . . inordinate affections, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry.

Q. 82. Is any man able perfectly to keep the commandments of God?

A. No mere man, since the fall, is able, in this life, perfectly to keep the commandments of God;^k but doth daily break them, in thought, word, and deed.^l ^kRom. viii. 8. So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

^lRom. iii. 9. 10. For we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin; As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one. James iii. 2. For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

Q. 83. Are all transgressions of the law equally heinous?

A. Some sins in themselves,^m and by reason of several aggravations, are more heinous in the sight of God than others.ⁿ

^mPs. xix. 13. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me.

ⁿMatt. xi. 24. But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee. Luke xii. 10. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven. Heb. x. 29. Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

Q. 84. What doth every sin deserve?

A. Every sin deserveth God's wrath and curse, both in this life, and that which is to come.^o ^oGal. iii. 10. For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them. James ii. 10. For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all. Matt. xxv. 41. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.

Q. 85. What doth God require of us, that we may escape his wrath and curse, due to us for sin?

A. To escape the wrath and curse of God, due to us for sin, God requireth of us faith in Jesus Christ, repentance unto life,^p with the diligent use of all the outward means whereby Christ communicateth to us the benefits of redemption.^q ^pActs xx. 21. Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

^q2 Pet. i. 10. Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure. Heb. ii. 3. How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him. 1 Tim. iv. 16. Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

Q. 86. What is faith in Jesus Christ?

A. Faith in Jesus Christ is a saving grace,^r whereby we receive^s and rest upon him alone for salvation,^t as he is offered to us in the gospel.^u ^rActs xvi. 31. And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house. Heb. x. 39. But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

³John i. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name.

⁴Phil. iii. 9. And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith.

^uRev. xxii. 17. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

Q. 87. What is repentance unto life?

A. Repentance unto life is a saving grace,^w whereby a sinner, out of a true sense of his sin,^x and apprehension of the mercy of God in Christ,^y doth, with grief and hatred of his sin, turn from it unto God,^z with full purpose of, and endeavor after, new obedience.^a ^w2 Cor. vii. 10. For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

^xActs ii. 37. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

^yLuke i. 77-79. To give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their sins, Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us, To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

^zJer. xxxi. 18, 19. I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus: Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the LORD my God. Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

^aRom. vi. 18. Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

Q. 88. What are the outward and ordinary means whereby Christ communicateth to us the benefits of redemption?

A. The outward and ordinary means whereby Christ communicateth to us the benefits of redemption are, his ordinances, especially the Word, Sacraments, and Prayer;^b all which are made effectual to the elect for salvation.

^bActs ii. 41, 42. Then they that gladly received his word were baptized. And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread and in prayers.

Q. 89. How is the Word made effectual to salvation?

A. The Spirit of God maketh the reading, but especially the preaching, of the Word, an effectual means of convincing and converting sinners,^c and of building them up in holiness and comfort^d through faith unto salvation.^e

^cNeh. viii. 8. So they read in the book in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading. Jas. i. 21. Receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

^dActs xx. 32. I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified. Rom. xv. 4. That we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

^e2 Tim. iii. 15. From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

Q. 90. How is the Word to be read and heard, that it may become effectual to salvation?

A. That the Word may become effectual to salvation we must attend thereunto with diligence,^f preparation,^g and prayer;^h receive it with faithⁱ and love,^k lay it up in our hearts,^l and practice it in our lives.^m ^fDeut. vi. 6, 7. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

^g1 Pet. ii. 1, 2. Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby.

^hPs. cxix. 18. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

ⁱRom. i. 16. I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.

^k2 Thess. ii. 10. With all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

^lPs. cxix. 11. Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.

^mJames i. 25. Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

Q. 91. How do the Sacraments become effectual means of salvation?

A. The Sacraments become effectual means of salvation, not from any virtue in them, or in him that doth administer them;ⁿ but only by the blessing of Christ, and the working of his Spirit in them that by faith receive them.^o

ⁿ1 Pet. iii. 21. The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Rom. ii. 28, 29. He is not a Jew, which is one outwardly. But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly.

^o1 Cor. xii. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

Q. 92. What is a Sacrament?

A. A Sacrament is a holy ordinance instituted by Christ; wherein, by sensible signs, Christ and the benefits of the new covenant are represented, sealed, and applied to believers.^p ^pMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Matt. xxvi. 26-28. And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. Rom. iv. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised.

Q. 93. Which are the Sacraments of the New Testament?

A. The Sacraments of the New Testament are Baptism,^q and the Lord's Supper.^r

^qActs x. 47, 48. Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we? And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord.

^r1 Cor. xi. 23-26. For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.

Q. 94. What is Baptism?

A. Baptism is a Sacrament, wherein the washing with water, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost,^s doth signify and seal our engraft-ing into Christ, and partaking of the benefits of the covenant of grace,^t and our engagement to be the Lord's.^u ^tMatt. xxviii. 19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost John iii. 5. Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

^uRom. vi. 3, 5. Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?—For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection.

^uGal. iii. 27. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.

Q. 95. To whom is Baptism to be administered?

A. Baptism is not to be administered to any that are out of the visible Church, till they profess their faith in Christ, and obedience to him;^w but the infants of such as are members of the visible Church, are to be baptized.^x ^wActs xviii. 8. And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

^xGen. xvii. 7, 10. And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.—This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee: Every man child among you shall be circumcised. Acts ii. 38, 39. Then Peter said unto them, Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. 1 Cor. vii. 14. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

Q. 96. What is the Lord's Supper?

A. The Lord's Supper is a Sacrament, wherein, by giving and receiving bread and wine, according to Christ's appointment, his death is showed forth;^y and the worthy receivers are, not after a corporal and carnal manner, but by faith, made partakers of his body and blood, with all his benefits, to their spiritual nourishment and growth in grace.^z ^y1 Cor. xi. 23-26. For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread: And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.

²Acts iii. 21. Whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things. 1 Cor. x. 16. The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

Q. 97. What is required to the worthy receiving of the Lord's Supper?

A. It is required of them that would worthily partake of the Lord's Supper, that they examine themselves, of their knowledge to discern the Lord's body, of their faith to feed upon him, of their repentance, love, and new obedience; lest coming unworthily, they eat and drink judgment to themselves.^a ^a1 Cor. xi. 27, 31, 32. Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.—For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.—But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world. Rom. vi. 17, 18. But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you. Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

Q. 98. What is Prayer?

A. Prayer is an offering up of our desires unto God,^b for things agreeable to his will,^c in the name of Christ,^d with confession of our sins,^e and thankful acknowledgment of his mercies.^f ^bPs. x. 17. LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the humble: thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear. Ps. cxlv. 19. He will fulfil the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them.

^c1 John v. 14. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

^dJohn xvi. 23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

^e1 John i. 9. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

^fPhil. iv. 6. Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

Q. 99. What rule hath God given for our direction in Prayer?

A. The whole Word of God is of use to direct us in prayer;^g but the special rule of direction is that form of prayer which Christ taught his disciples, commonly called The Lord's Prayer.^h ^gRom. viii. 26. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. Ps. cxix. 170. Let my supplication come before thee: deliver me according to thy word.

^hMatt. vi. 9-13.

Q. 100. What doth the preface of The Lord's Prayer teach us?

A. The preface of The Lord's Prayer, which is, Our Father which art in heaven, teacheth us to draw near to God with all holy reverence and confidence, as children to a father, able and ready to help us;ⁱ and that we should pray with and for others.^k ⁱLuke xi. 13. If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him? Rom. viii. 15. Ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

^k1 Tim. ii. 1, 2. I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; For kings, and for all that are in authority.

Q. 101. What do we pray for in the first petition?

A. In the first petition, which is, Hallowed be thy name, we pray that God would enable us, and others, to glorify him in all that whereby he maketh himself known,^l and that he would dispose all things to his own glory.^m ^lPs. lxxvii. 1-3. God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; Selah. That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations. Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee.

^mRom. xi. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen. Rev. iv. 11. Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

Q. 102. What do we pray for in the second petition?

A. In the second petition, which is, Thy kingdom come, we pray that Satan's kingdom may be destroyed,ⁿ and that the kingdom of grace may be advanced,^o ourselves and others brought into it, and kept in it,^p and that the kingdom of glory may be hastened.^q

ⁿPs. lxxviii. 1. Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him. John xii. 31. Now is the judgment of this world; now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

^oMatt. ix. 37, 38. The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest.

^p2 Thess. iii. 1. Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you. Rom. x. 1. Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

^qRev. xxii. 20. Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

Q. 103. What do we pray for in the third petition?

A. In the third petition, which is, Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven, we pray, that God, by his grace, would make us able and willing to know, obey, and submit to his will in all things,^r as the angels do in heaven.^s ^rMatt. xxvi. 39. Nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt. Phil. i. 9-11. And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment; That ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ; Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

^sPs. ciii. 20, 21. Bless the LORD, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word. Bless ye the LORD, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.

Q. 104. What do we pray for in the fourth petition?

A. In the fourth petition, which is, Give us this day our daily bread, we pray, that of God's free gift, we may receive a competent portion of the good things of this life,^t and enjoy his blessing with them.^u ^tProv. xxx. 8, 9. Give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me: Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain. 1 Tim. vi. 6-8. But godliness with contentment is great gain.

For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.

^uProv. x. 22. The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it.

Q. 105. What do we pray for in the fifth petition?

A. In the fifth petition, which is, And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors, we pray, that God, for Christ's sake, would freely pardon all our sins;^w which we are the rather encouraged to ask, because by his grace we are enabled from the heart to forgive others.^x ^wPs. li. 1, 2, 7. Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving-kindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.—Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

^xMark xi. 25. And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. Matt. xviii. 35. So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

Q. 106. What do we pray for in the sixth petition?

A. In the sixth petition, which is, And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, we pray, that God would either keep us from being tempted to sin,^y or support and deliver us when we are tempted.^z ^yMatt. xxvi. 41. Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. Ps. xix. 13. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

^zJohn xvii. 15. I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. 1 Cor. x. 13. There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

Q. 107. What doth the conclusion of The Lord's Prayer teach us?

A. The conclusion of The Lord's Prayer, which is, For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen, teacheth us to take our encouragement in prayer from God only,^a and in our prayers to praise him, ascribing kingdom, power, and glory to him;^b and in testimony of our desire and assurance to be heard, we say, Amen.^c ^aDan. ix. 18, 19. For we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies. O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, for thine own sake, O my God; for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

^bPhil. iv. 6. In everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. 1 Chron. xxix. 11-13. Thine, O LORD, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O LORD, and thou art exalted as head above all. Both riches and honor come of thee, and thou reignest over all; and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength unto all. Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name.

^c1 Cor. xiv. 16. How shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest? Rev. xxii. 20, 21. He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

EXODUS XX.

God spake all these words, saying, I am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

I. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.

II. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth; thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I, the LORD thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

III. Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain: for the LORD will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.

IV. Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work: but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the LORD thy God; in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: for in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day; wherefore the LORD blessed the Sabbath-day and hallowed it.

V. Honor thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

VI. Thou shalt not kill.

VII. Thou shalt not commit adultery.

VIII. Thou shalt not steal.

IX. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.

X. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbor's.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

MATTHEW VI.

OUR Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

THE APOSTLES' CREED.

I BELIEVE in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth: And in Jesus Christ his only Son, our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; he descended into hell;* the third day he rose again from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Ghost; the holy Catholic Church; the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.

THE FORM OF GOVERNMENT

ADOPTED, 1788; AMENDED, 1805-1939.

PRELIMINARY PRINCIPLES.*

THE Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, in presenting to the Christian public the system of union, and the form of government and discipline which they have adopted, have thought proper to state, by way of introduction, a few of the general principles by which they have been governed in the formation of the plan. This, it is hoped, will, in some measure, prevent those rash misconstructions, and uncandid reflections, which usually proceed from an imperfect view of any subject; as well as make the several parts of the system plain, and the whole perspicuous and fully understood.

They are unanimously of opinion:

I. That "God alone is Lord of the conscience; and hath left it free from the doctrine and commandments of men, which are in any thing contrary to his word, or

*NOTE.—This introductory chapter, with the exception of the first sentence, was first drawn up by the Synod of New York and Philadelphia, and prefixed to the Form of Government, etc., as published by that body in 1788. In that year, after arranging the plan on which the Presbyterian Church is now governed, the Synod was divided into four Synods, and gave place to the General Assembly which met for the first time in 1789.

“beside it in matters of faith or worship”: Therefore they consider the rights of private judgment, in all matters that respect religion, as universal and unalienable: they do not even wish to see any religious constitution aided by the civil power, further than may be necessary for protection and security, and, at the same time, be equal and common to all others.

II. That, in perfect consistency with the above principle of common right, every Christian Church, or union or association of particular churches, is entitled to declare the terms of admission into its communion, and the qualifications of its ministers and members, as well as the whole system of its internal government which Christ hath appointed: that, in the exercise of this right they may, notwithstanding, err, in making the terms of communion either too lax or too narrow; yet, even in this case, they do not infringe upon the liberty, or the rights of others, but only make an improper use of their own.

III. That our blessed Saviour, for the edification of the visible Church, which is his body, hath appointed officers, not only to preach the gospel and administer the Sacraments; but also to exercise discipline, for the preservation both of truth and duty; and, that it is incumbent upon these officers, and upon the whole Church, in whose name they act, to censure or cast out the erroneous and scandalous; observing, in all cases, the rules contained in the Word of God.

IV. That truth is in order to goodness; and the great touchstone of truth, its tendency to promote holiness; according to our Saviour's rule, “by their fruits ye shall know them.” And that no opinion can be either more pernicious or more absurd, than that which brings truth and falsehood upon a level, and represents it as of no consequence what a man's opinions are. On the contrary, they are persuaded that there is an inseparable connection between faith and practice, truth and duty. Otherwise it would be of no consequence either to discover truth, or to embrace it.

V. That while under the conviction of the above principle, they think it necessary to make effectual provision, that all who are admitted as teachers, be sound in the faith; they also believe that there are truths and forms, with respect to which men of good characters and principles may differ. And in all these they think it the duty both of private Christians and societies, to exercise mutual forbearance towards each other.

VI. That though the character, qualifications, and authority of church officers, are laid down in the Holy Scriptures, as well as the proper method of their investiture and institution; yet the election of the persons to the exercise of this authority, in any particular society, is in that society.

VII. That all church power, whether exercised by the body in general, or in the way of representation by delegated authority, is only ministerial and declarative; that is to say, that the Holy Scriptures are the only rule of faith and manners; that no church judicatory ought to pretend to make laws, to bind the conscience in virtue of their own authority; and that all their decisions should be founded upon the revealed will of God. Now though it will easily be admitted, that all synods and councils may err, through the frailty inseparable from humanity; yet there is much greater danger from the usurped claim of making laws, than from the right of judging upon laws already made, and common to all who profess the gospel; although this right, as necessity requires in the present state, be lodged with fallible men.

VIII. Lastly, that, if the preceding Scriptural and rational principles be steadfastly adhered to, the vigor and strictness of its discipline will contribute to the glory and happiness of any Church. Since ecclesiastical discipline must be purely moral or spiritual in its object, and not attended with any civil effects, it can derive no force whatever, but from its own justice, the approbation of an impartial public, and the countenance and blessing of the great Head of the Church universal.

CHAPTER II.

OF THE CHURCH.

I. JESUS CHRIST, who is now exalted far above all principality and power,^a hath erected, in this world, a kingdom, which is his Church.^b

II. The universal Church consists of all those persons, in every nation, together with their children, who make profession of the holy religion of Christ, and of submission to his laws.^c

III. As this immense multitude cannot meet together in one place, to hold communion, or to worship God, it is reasonable, and warranted by Scripture example, that they should be divided into many particular churches.^d

IV. A particular church consists of a number of professing Christians, with their offspring, voluntarily associ^aEph. i. 20, 21. When he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come. Psal. lxxviii. 18. Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

^bPsal. ii. 6. Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion. Dan. vii. 14.—There was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. Eph. i. 22, 23. And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

^cRev. v. 9. And hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation. Acts ii. 39. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. 1 Cor. i. 2, compared with 2 Cor. ix. 13.

ated together, for divine worship and godly living, agreeably to the Holy Scriptures;^e and submitting to a certain form of government.^f

OF THE OFFICERS OF THE CHURCH.

I. OUR blessed Lord, at first, collected his Church out of different nations,^g and formed it into one body,^h by the mission of men endued with miraculous gifts which have long since ceased.ⁱ

II. The ordinary and perpetual officers in the Church are Bishops or Pastors;^j the representatives of the people, usually styled Ruling Elders;^k and Deacons.^l ^eActs ii. 41, 47. Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.—Praising God, and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved. I Cor. vii. 14. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. Acts ii. 39. Mark x. 14, compared with Matt. xix. 13, 14, and Luke xviii. 15, 16.

^fHeb. viii. 5. Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern showed to thee in the mount. Gal. vi. 16. And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

^gPsa. ii. 8. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Rev. vii. 9. After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands.

^h1 Cor. x. 17. For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread. See also Eph. iv. 16. Col. i. 18.

OF BISHOPS OR PASTORS.

THE pastoral office is the first in the Church, both for dignity and usefulness.^m The person who fills this office hath, in Scripture, obtained different names expressive of his various duties. As he has the oversight of the flock of Christ, he is termed bishop.^{*n} As he feeds them with spiritual food, he is termed pastor.^o As he serves Christ in his church, he is termed minister.^p As it is his duty to be grave and prudent, and an example of the flock, and to govern well in the house and kingdom of Christ, he is termed presbyter or elder.^q As he is the messenger of God, he is termed the angel of the church.^r As he is sent to declare the will of God to sinners, and to beseech them to be reconciled to God through Christ, he is termed ambassador.^s And, as he dispenses the manifold grace of God, and the ordinances instituted by Christ, he is termed steward of the mysteries of God.^t ⁿActs xx. 28. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, [bishops] to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

^oJer. iii. 15. And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. 1 Pet. v. 2-4.

^p1 Cor. iv. 1. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. 2 Cor. iii. 6. Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament.

^q1 Pet. v. 1. The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed. See also Tit. i. 5. 1 Tim. v. 1, 17, 19.

^rRev. ii. 1. Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write. Rev. 1. 20.—The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches. See also Rev. iii. 1, 7. Mal. ii. 7.

^s2 Cor. v. 20. Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. Eph. vi. 20.

^tLuke xii. 42. Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season? 1 Cor. iv. 1. Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.

*As the office and character of the gospel minister is particularly and fully described in the Holy Scriptures, under the title of bishop and as this term is peculiarly expressive of his duty as an overseer of the flock, it ought not to be rejected.

CHAPTER V.

OF RULING ELDERS.

RULING elders are properly the representatives of the people, chosen by them for the purpose of exercising government and discipline, in conjunction with pastors or ministers.^u This office has been understood, by a great part of the Protestant Reformed Churches, to be designated in the Holy Scriptures, by the title of governments, and of those who rule well, but do not labor in the word and doctrine.^v

CHAPTER VI.

OF DEACONS.

THE Scriptures clearly point out deacons as distinct officers in the Church,^w whose business it is to take care of the poor, and to distribute among them the collections which may be raised for their use.^x To them also may be properly committed the management of the temporal affairs of the Church.^y ^u1 Tim. v. 17. Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honor, especially they who labor in the word and doctrine. Rom. xii. 7, 8. Acts xv. 25.

And in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration. Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables, ^yActs vi. 3, 5, 6. Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.—And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch: whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

CHAPTER VII.

OF ORDINANCES IN A PARTICULAR CHURCH.

THE ordinances established by Christ, the Head, in a particular church, which is regularly constituted with its proper officers,^z are prayer,^a singing praises,^b reading,^c expounding and preaching the Word of God;^d administering Baptism and the Lord's Supper;^e public solemn fasting and thanksgiving,^f catechizing,^g making collections

^z1 Cor. xiv. 26, 33, 40. Let all things be done unto edifying.—For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.—Let all things be done decently and in order.

^aActs vi. 4. But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word. 1 Tim. ii. 1.

For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread: and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. Compared with 1 Cor. x. 16.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF CHURCH GOVERNMENT, AND THE SEVERAL KINDS OF JUDICATORIES.

I. It is absolutely necessary that the government of the Church be exercised under some certain and definite form.^k And we hold it to be expedient, and agreeable to Scripture and the practice of the primitive Christians, that the Church be governed by congregational, presbyterial, and synodical assemblies. In full consistency with this belief, we embrace, in the spirit of charity, those Christians who differ from us, in opinion, or in practice, on these subjects.^l

II. These assemblies ought not to possess any civil jurisdiction, nor to inflict any civil penalties.^m Their power ^h1 Cor. xvi. 1-4. Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye. Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come. And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem. And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me. Gal. ii. 10. Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do.

ⁱHeb. xiii. 17. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you. 1 Thess. v. 12, 13. And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labor among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you; and to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.

^j2 Cor. xiii. 14. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen. Eph. i. 2. Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

^kEzek. xliii. 11, 12. Show them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. This is the law of the house.

^lActs xv. 5, 6. But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them and to command them to keep the law of Moses. And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

^mLuke xii. 13, 14. And one of the company said unto him, Master, is wholly moral or spiritual, and that only ministerial and declarative.ⁿ They possess the right of requiring obedience to the laws of Christ; and of excluding the disobedient and disorderly from the privileges of the Church. To give efficiency, however, to this necessary and scriptural authority, they possess the powers requisite for obtaining evidence and inflicting censure. They can call before them any offender against the order and government of the Church; they can require members of their own society to appear and give testimony in the cause; but the highest punishment to which their authority extends, is to exclude the contumacious and impenitent from the congregation of believers.^o

III. In these assemblies only members thereof who are personally present are entitled to vote.

CHAPTER IX.

OF THE CHURCH SESSION.

I. THE church session consists of the pastor or pastors and ruling elders, of a particular congregation.^p

II. Of this judicatory, two elders, if there be so many, with the pastor, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum; unless the elders number nine or more, when one third of the elders, with the pastor, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum.

But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican. Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 1 Cor. v. 4, 5. III. The pastor of the congregation shall always be the moderator of the session; except when, for prudential reasons, it may appear advisable that some other minister should be invited to preside; in which case the pastor may, with the concurrence of the session, invite such other minister as they may see meet, belonging to the same presbytery, to preside in that case. The same expedient may be adopted in case of the sickness or absence of the pastor.

IV. It is expedient, at every meeting of the session, more especially when constituted for judicial business, that there be a presiding minister. When, therefore, a church is without a pastor, the moderator of the session shall be, either the minister appointed for that purpose by the presbytery, or one invited by the session to preside on a particular occasion. But where it is impracticable, without great inconvenience, to procure the attendance of such a moderator, the session may proceed without it.

V. In congregations where there are two or more pastors, they shall, when present, alternately preside in the session.

VI. The church session is charged with maintaining the spiritual government of the congregation;^a for which purpose, they have power to inquire into the knowledge^r and Christian conduct of the members of the church; to call before them offenders and witnesses, being members of their own congregation, and to introduce other witnesses, where it may be necessary to bring the process to issue, and when they can be procured to attend; to receive members into the church upon profession of faith in Jesus Christ, upon presentation of satisfactory certificate of church membership, or, in the absence of such certificate upon the part of persons coming from other churches, upon re-affirmation of faith in Jesus Christ; to admonish, to rebuke, to suspend or exclude from the Sacraments, those who are found to deserve censure;^s to concert the best measures for promoting the spiritual interests of the congregation; to supervise the Sabbath-school and the various societies or agencies of the congregation; and to appoint delegates to the higher judicatories of the Church.^t

VII. Subject to the provisions of the Directory for Worship, the session shall have and exercise exclusive authority over the worship of the congregation, including the musical service; and shall determine the times and places of preaching the Word and all other religious services. They shall also have exclusive authority over the uses to which the church buildings may be put, but may temporarily delegate the determination of such uses to the body having management of the temporal affairs of the church, subject to the superior authority and direction of the session.

VIII. The pastor has power to convene the session when he may judge it requisite;^u and he shall always convene them when requested to do so by any two of the elders. The session shall also convene when directed so to do by the presbytery.

IX. Every session shall keep a fair record of its proceedings; which record shall be, at least once in every year, submitted to the inspection of the presbytery.

X. Every church session shall keep registers or rolls of persons admitted to or suspended from the Lord's Table; and of the deaths, and other removals of church members; but the names of members shall be placed upon or removed from the rolls of the church only by order of the session, and in accordance with the provisions of the Book of Disci-

CHAPTER X.

OF THE PRESBYTERY.

I. THE Church being divided into many separate congregations, these need mutual counsel and assistance, in order to preserve soundness of doctrine, and regularity of discipline, and to enter into common measures for promoting knowledge and religion, and for preventing infidelity, error, and immorality.^v Hence arise the importance and usefulness of presbyterial and synodical assemblies.^w

II. A presbytery consists of all the ministers, in number not less than five, and one ruling elder from each congregation, within a certain district; but in exceptional cases a presbytery may be organized within the boundaries of existing presbyteries, in the interests of ministers and churches speaking other than the English language, or of those of a particular race; but in no case without their consent; and the same rule shall apply to synods.

III. Every congregation, which has a stated pastor, has a right to be represented by one elder; and every collegiate church by two or more elders, in proportion to the number of its pastors.

^vThe church of Jerusalem consisted of more than one, as is manifest both before and after the dispersion, from Acts vi. 1, 6. Acts ix. 31. Acts xxi. 20. Acts ii. 41, 46, 47, and iv. 4. These congregations were under one presbyterial government, proved from Acts xv. 4. Acts xi. 22, 30. Acts xxi. 17, 18. Acts vi. 1-7. That the church of Ephesus had more congregations than one, under a presbyterial government, appears from Acts xix. 18-20. 1 Cor. xvi. 8, 9, 19, compared with Acts xviii. 19, 24, 26. Acts xx. 17, 18, 25, 28, 30, 31, 36, 37. Rev. ii. 1-6

^w1 Tim. iv. 14. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. Acts xv. 2, 4, 6, 22.—And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.—And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

IV. Every vacant congregation, which is regularly organized, shall be entitled to be represented by a ruling elder in presbytery.

V. Every elder not known to the presbytery, shall produce a certificate of his regular appointment from the church which he represents.^x

VI. Any three ministers, and as many elders as may be present belonging to the presbytery, being met at the time and place appointed, shall be a quorum competent to proceed to business.^y

VII. The presbytery has power to receive and issue all appeals, complaints, and references, that are regularly brought before it from church sessions,^z provided, that cases may be transmitted to Judicial Commissions as prescribed in the Book of Discipline;^a to examine and license candidates for the holy ministry;^b to ordain, ^xActs xv. 1-6. 1 Cor. xiv. 26, 33, 40.—Let all things be done unto edifying.—For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.—Let all things be done decently and in order.

^yActs xiv. 26, 27. And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled. And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles. Compared with Acts xi. 18. When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

^zActs xv. 5, 6, 19, 20. But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses. And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.—Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God: but that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

^aActs xviii. 24, 27. And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.—And when he was disposed to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him. Compare Acts xix. 1-7.

^b1 Tim. iv. 14. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. Acts xiii. 2, 3. And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

install, remove, and judge ministers;^c to examine and approve or censure the records of church sessions; to resolve questions of doctrine or discipline seriously and reasonably proposed;^d to condemn erroneous opinions which injure the purity or peace of the Church;^e to visit particular churches, for the purpose of inquiring into their state, and redressing the evils that may have arisen in them;^f to unite or divide congregations, at the request of the people, or to form or receive new congregations, and, in general, to order whatever pertains to the spiritual welfare of the churches under their care.^g The presbytery may appoint a General Council, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XXVI of the Form of Government; provided, that judicial cases shall be referred only to Judicial Commissions.

VIII. It shall be the duty of the presbytery to keep a full and fair record of their proceedings, and to report to the synod, every year, censures, ordinations, the receiving or dismissing of members, the removal of members by death, the union or division of congregations, or the formation of new ones, and, in general, all the important changes which may have taken place within their bounds in the course of the year.

^eActs xv. 22-24. Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely Judas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren: and they wrote letters by them after this manner; The apostles and elders and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia: forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment.

^fActs xx. 17. And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church. Acts vi. 2. Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, it is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables. Acts xv. 30. So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch; and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle.

IX. The presbytery shall meet on its own adjournment; and when any emergency shall require a meeting sooner than the time to which it stands adjourned, the moderator, or, in case of his absence, death, or inability to act, the stated clerk, shall, with the concurrence, or at the request of two ministers and two elders, the elders being of different congregations, call a special meeting. For this purpose he shall send a circular letter, specifying the particular business of the intended meeting, to every minister belonging to the presbytery, and to the session of every vacant congregation, in due time previous to the meeting; which shall not be less than ten days. And nothing shall be transacted at such special meeting besides the particular business for which the judicatory has been thus convened.

X. At every meeting of presbytery, a sermon shall be delivered, if convenient; and every particular session shall be opened and closed with prayer.

XI. Ministers in good standing in other presbyteries, or in any sister churches, who may happen to be present, may be invited to sit with the presbytery, as corresponding members. Such members shall be entitled to deliberate and advise, but not to vote in any decisions of the presbytery.

XII. When two or more presbyteries unite in employing a minister to labor among the vacant churches of these presbyteries, he may perform all the offices of a pastor in any of the vacant churches within the bounds of the presbyteries so employing him when authorized by the presbytery in which he is laboring, but of which he is not a member.

XIII. That the spiritual and temporal welfare of the ministers and churches under its jurisdiction may be properly maintained, every Presbytery shall elect, in such manner as it may determine, a Committee on Ministerial Relations composed of two or more members; provided, however, that the election of this committee shall, in time and in effect, take precedence over all other Presbyterian elections and appointments. Direct access to this committee shall be had at all times by all ministers in the Presbytery, and by all ruling elders in the Presbytery in active service, in all matters relating to the spiritual or temporal welfare of the churches in which severally they hold office. Ordinarily a Presbytery shall assign to this Committee the supervision of the vacant churches within its bounds.

CHAPTER XI. OF THE SYNOD.*

I. As a presbytery is a convention of the bishops and elders within a certain district; so a synod is a convention of the bishops and elders within a larger district, including at least three presbyteries. The synod may be composed, at its own option, with the consent of a majority of its presbyteries, either of all the bishops and an elder from each congregation in its district, with the same modifications as in the presbytery, or of equal delegations of bishops and elders, elected by the presbyteries on a basis and in a ratio determined in like manner by the synod itself and its presbyteries.

II. Any seven ministers, belonging to the synod, who shall convene at the time and place of meeting, with as many elders as may be present, shall be a quorum to transact synodical business; provided not more than three of the said ministers belong to one presbytery.

III. The same rule, as to corresponding members, which was laid down with respect to the presbytery, shall apply to the synod.

IV. The synod has power to receive and issue all appeals, complaints, and references, that are regularly brought before it from the presbyteries, and to decide finally in such cases all questions that do not affect the doctrine or Constitution of the Church, provided, that cases may be transmitted to Judicial Commissions as prescribed in the Book of Discipline; to review the records of presbyteries, and approve or censure them; to redress whatever has been done by presbyteries contrary to order; to take effectual care that presbyteries observe the Constitution of the Church; to erect new presbyteries, and to unite or divide those which were before erected, subject to the approval of the General Assembly; generally, to take such order with respect to the presbyteries, sessions, and people under their care, as may be in conformity with the Word of God and the established rules, and may tend to promote the edification of the Church; and, finally, to propose to the General Assembly, for its adoption, such measures as may be of common advantage to the whole Church. The synod may appoint a General Council in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XXVI of the Form of Government; provided, that judicial cases shall be referred only to Judicial Commissions.

V. The synod shall convene at least once in each year; at the opening of which a sermon shall be delivered by the moderator, or, in case of his absence, by some other member; and every particular session shall be opened and closed with prayer.

VI. It shall be the duty of the synod to keep full and fair records of its proceedings, to submit them annually to the inspection of the General Assembly, and to report to the Assembly the number of its presbyteries, and of the members and alterations of the presbyteries.

VII. That the spiritual and temporal welfare of the ministers and churches under its jurisdiction may be properly maintained, every Synod shall select, in such manner as it may determine, a Committee on Ministerial Relations composed of not less than seven members; provided, however, that the selection of this Committee shall, in time and in effect, take precedence over all other Synodical elections and appointments. This committee on Ministerial Relations shall be so related to the corresponding committees in the Presbyteries of the Synod as to promote unity in action and efficiency in service. Ordinarily the Synod shall commit to this committee the supervision of the vacant churches within its bounds, subject, however, to the constitutional provisions relating to Presbyterian supervision and control.

CHAPTER XII.

OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.*

I. THE General Assembly is the highest judicatory of the Presbyterian Church. It shall represent, in one body, all the particular churches of this denomination; and shall bear the title of THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

II. The General Assembly shall consist of an equal delegation of bishops and elders from each presbytery, in the following proportion; viz: each presbytery consisting of not more than twenty-four ministers, shall send one minister and one elder; and each presbytery, consisting of more than twenty-four ministers, shall send one minister and one elder for each additional twenty-four ministers, or for each additional fractional number of ministers not less than twelve; and these delegates, so appointed, shall be styled, Commissioners to the General Assembly.

III. Any one hundred or more of these commissioners, one half of whom shall be ministers, being met on the day, and at the place appointed, shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

*The radical principles of Presbyterian church government and discipline are:—That the several different congregations of believers, taken collectively, constitute one Church of Christ, called emphatically the Church;—that a larger part of the church, or a representation of it, should govern a smaller, or determine matters of controversy which arise therein;—that, in like manner, a representation of the whole should govern and determine in regard to every part, and to all the parts united; that is, that a majority shall govern; and consequently that appeals may be carried from lower to higher judicatories, till they be finally decided by the collected wisdom and united voice of the whole Church. For these principles and this procedure, the example of the apostles, and the practice of the primitive Church, are considered as authority. See Acts xv. 1-29; xvi. 4, and the proofs adduced under the last three chapters.

IV. The General Assembly shall receive and issue all appeals, complaints, and references, that affect the doctrine or Constitution of the Church, and are regularly brought before it from the inferior judicatories, provided, that cases may be transmitted to Judicial Commissions of the General Assembly as prescribed in the Book of Discipline. The General Assembly shall review the records of every synod and approve or censure them; it shall give its advice and instruction, in all cases submitted to it, in conformity with the Constitution of the Church; and it shall constitute the bond of union, peace, correspondence and mutual confidence among all our churches. The General Assembly may appoint a General Council, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XXVI of the Form of Government; provided, that judicial cases shall be referred only to Judicial Commissions.

V. To the General Assembly also belongs the power of deciding in all controversies respecting doctrine and discipline; of reproofing, warning, or bearing testimony against error in doctrine, or immorality in practice, in any church, presbytery, or synod; of erecting new synods when it may be judged necessary; of superintending the concerns of the whole Church; of corresponding with foreign Churches, on such terms as may be agreed upon by the Assembly and the corresponding body: of suppressing schismatical contentions and disputations; and in general, of recommending and attempting reformation of manners, and the promotion of charity, truth, and holiness, through all the churches under their care.

VI. Before any overtures or enactments proposed by the Assembly to be established as rules regulative of the constitutional powers of presbyteries and synods, shall be obligatory upon the Church, it shall be necessary to transmit them to all the presbyteries, and to receive the returns of at least a majority of them, in writing, approving thereof, and such rules, when approved, shall be appended to the Constitution of the Church.

VII. The General Assembly shall meet at least once in every year. On the day appointed for that purpose the Moderator of the last Assembly, if present, shall open the meeting with a sermon, or if the Moderator be a ruling elder, with an appropriate address, and he shall preside until a new Moderator be chosen. In the absence of the Moderator, some other minister or ruling elder shall be chosen to perform the duties above specified. No commissioner shall have a right to deliberate or vote in the Assembly until his name shall have been enrolled by the Clerk, and his commission examined and filed among the papers of the Assembly.

VIII. Each session of the Assembly shall be opened and closed with prayer. And the whole business of the Assembly being finished, and the vote taken for dissolving the present Assembly, the Moderator shall say from the chair,—“By virtue of the authority delegated to me, “by the Church, let this General Assembly be dissolved, “and I do hereby dissolve it, and require another General Assembly, chosen in the same manner, to meet at “on the day of A. D. ”—after which he shall pray and return thanks, and pronounce on those present the apostolic benediction.

CHAPTER XIII.

OF ELECTING AND ORDAINING RULING ELDERS AND DEACONS.

I. HAVING defined the officers of the Church, and the judicatories by which it shall be governed, it is proper here to prescribe the mode in which ecclesiastical rulers should be ordained to their respective offices, as well as some of the principles by which they shall be regulated in discharging their several duties.

II. Every congregation shall elect persons to the office of ruling elder, and to the office of deacon, or either of them, in the mode most approved and in use in that congregation.^h In all cases the persons elected must be members in full communion in the church in which they are to exercise their office.

III. When any person shall have been elected to either of these offices, and shall have declared his (her) willingness to accept thereof, he (she) shall be set apart in the following manner:

IV. After sermon, the minister shall state, in a concise manner, the warrant and nature of the office of ruling elder or deacon, together with the character proper to be sustained, and the duties to be fulfilled by the officer elect; having done this, he shall propose to the candidate, in the presence of the congregation, the following questions: viz.

1. Do you believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice?

2. Do you sincerely receive and adopt the Confession of Faith of this Church, as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures?

3. Do you approve of the government and discipline of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America?

4. Do you accept the office of ruling elder (or deacon as the case may be) in this congregation, and promise faithfully to perform all the duties thereof?

5. Do you promise to study the peace, unity, and purity of the Church?

The elder, or deacon elect, having answered these questions in the affirmative, the minister shall address to the members of the church the following questions: viz.

Do you, the members of this church, acknowledge and receive this brother (sister) as a ruling elder (or deacon), and do you promise to yield him (her) all that honor, encouragement and obedience in the Lord, to which his (her) office, according to the Word of God, and the Constitution of this Church, entitles him (her)?

The members of the church having answered this question in the affirmative, by holding up their right hands, the minister shall proceed to set apart the candidate, by prayer, to the office of ruling elder (or deacon, as the case may be), and shall give to him (her) and to the congregation, an exhortation suited to the occasion.

V. Where there is an existing session, it is proper that the members of that body, at the close of the service, and in the face of the congregation, take the newly ordained elder by the hand, saying in words to this purpose,—“We give you the right hand of fellowship, to take part of this office with us.”

VI. The offices of ruling elder and deacon are both perpetual, and cannot be laid aside at pleasure. No person can be divested of either office but by deposition. Yet an elder or deacon may become, by age or infirmity, incapable of performing the duties of his office; or he may, though chargeable with neither heresy nor immorality, become unacceptable, in his official character, to a majority of the congregation to which he belongs. In either of these cases, he may, as often happens with respect to a minister, cease to be an acting elder or deacon.

VII. Whenever a ruling elder or deacon, from either of these causes, or from any other, not inferring crime, shall be incapable of serving the church to edification, the session shall take order on the subject, and state the fact, together with the reasons of it, on their records, provided always, that nothing of this kind shall be done without the concurrence of the individual in question, unless by the advice of presbytery.

VIII. If any particular church, by a vote of members in full communion, shall prefer to elect ruling elders or deacons for a limited time in the exercise of their functions, this may be done; provided, the full time be not less than three years, and the session or board of deacons be made to consist of three classes, one of which only shall be elected every year; and provided, that elders, once ordained, shall not be divested of the office when they are not re-elected, but shall be entitled to represent that particular church in the higher judicatories, when appointed by the session or the presbytery.

IX. Deaconesses may be elected to office in a manner similar to that appointed for deacons, and set apart by prayer. They shall be under the supervision of the session, and their duties shall be indicated by that body.

CHAPTER XIV.

OF LICENSING CANDIDATES OR PROBATIONERS TO PREACH THE GOSPEL.

I. THE Holy Scriptures require that some trial be previously had of them who are to be ordained to the ministry of the gospel, that this sacred office may not be degraded by being committed to weak or unworthy men; and that the churches may have an opportunity to form a better judgment respecting the talents of those by whom they are to be instructed and governed. For this purpose presbyteries shall license probationers to preach the gospel, that, after a competent trial of their talents, and receiving from the churches a good report, they may, in due time, ordain them to the sacred office.

II. Every candidate for licensure shall be taken on trials by that presbytery to which he most naturally belongs; and he shall be considered as most naturally belonging to that presbytery within the bounds of which he has ordinarily resided. But in case any candidate should find it desirable to put himself under the care of a presbytery at a distance from that to which he most naturally belongs, he may be received by said presbytery, on his producing a letter of dismissal as a candidate for licensure from the presbytery within the bounds of which he has commonly resided.

III. It is proper and requisite that a candidate applying to a presbytery to be licensed to preach the gospel be a communicant member of a particular church within the bounds of said presbytery and for a prior period of at least six months. Said application shall be filed with the Stated Clerk of the presbytery through the session of the particular church and with its approval, and shall be in his hands at least three months prior to consideration, during which time a close and particular examination shall be made of the character and conduct of the candidate, of his physical, mental and educational qualifications and of the motives which have influenced him to desire the sacred office. Before receiving license to preach the candidate shall have been under presbyterial care for at least one year. Exceptions to any one or more of these requirements may be made only by a three-fourths vote of the members of presbytery present and the reasons for each exception shall be spread in full upon the minutes of the presbytery for transmission to and review by the synod.

IV. Every candidate for licensure before reception must appear in person before the presbytery and give satisfactory evidence as to his real piety and as to the motives which influenced him to desire the sacred office. Presbytery shall examine annually in person or by letter all candidates under its care concerning their Christian experience and progress in study, and their fidelity to the doctrines of the Church. It shall also advise with them concerning their courses of study and the institutions which they are to attend.

V. Because it is highly reproachful to religion and dangerous to the Church to trust the holy ministry to weak and ignorant men, the presbytery shall require a candidate for licensure to show evidence of having received a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university. He shall also give evidence of having successfully pursued two years of study in a recognized Presbyterian theological seminary or shall offer an educational equivalent, judged satisfactory by the presbytery. He shall be examined in the Bible in the vernacular, theology, ecclesiastical history, New Testament Greek, and Hebrew. If the examination in theology be unsatisfactory to one-fourth of the presbyters present they may demand a further examination in writing on questions proposed by them and by the presbytery, questions and answers to be filed by the presbytery. Candidates who show themselves well qualified in all other respects may be excused from the examination in Greek and Hebrew, upon the presentation of certificates of creditable work in these subjects from the institutions in which they have studied or by the consent of three-fourths of the members of presbytery present.

VI. In order to make trial of his talents to explain and vindicate and practically to enforce the doctrines of the gospel, the presbytery shall require of the candidate for licensure: (1) a short thesis on some theological subject; (2) an exposition of several verses of Scripture; (3) a sermon. The sermon, if the presbytery think proper, may be delivered in the presence of a congregation. These or other similar exercises at the discretion of the presbytery shall be exhibited until the presbytery shall obtain satisfaction as to the candidate's piety, knowledge and aptness to teach in the churches.

VII. That the most effectual measures may be taken to guard against the admission of unprepared men into the sacred office, if the presbytery believes that a candidate ought to be licensed to preach although he does not meet all the educational requirements prescribed in Sections V and VI preceding, the presbytery shall consult the synod to whose jurisdiction it belongs or a duly authorized and empowered committee of the same, giving in writing as recorded in its minutes the reasons why the presbytery regards the case as one in which an exception ought to be made. If the synod or a duly authorized and empowered committee of the same, after careful investigation gives approval with the reasons for the same, the presbytery may confer licensure. If the synod or its committee disapproves of licensure, the synod or its committee shall transmit to the presbytery in writing its reasons, which, when the presbytery has received, heard, read in full, and given due consideration thereto, the presbytery may, with the consent of three-fourths of the members of presbytery present, confer licensure; provided, the presbytery spread in full upon its minutes the reasons against the granting of licensure received from the synod or from its committee, together with the presbytery's answer thereto.

VIII. If the presbytery be satisfied with the trials of a candidate for licensure, it shall then proceed to license him in the following manner, the moderator shall propose to him the following questions: viz.

1. Do you believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice?

2. Do you sincerely receive and adopt the Confession of Faith of this Church, as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures?

3. Do you promise to study the peace, unity, and purity of the Church?

4. Do you promise to submit yourself, in the Lord, to the government of this presbytery, or of any other presbytery in the bounds of which you may be called?

IX. The candidate having answered these questions in the affirmative, and the moderator having offered up a prayer suitable to the occasion, he shall address himself to the candidate to the following purpose: "In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by that authority which he hath given to the Church for its edification, we do license you to preach the gospel, wherever God in his providence may call you: and for this purpose, may the blessing of God rest upon you, and the Spirit of Christ fill your heart. Amen."; and record shall be made of the licensure in the following or like form; viz.

At the day of the presbytery of having received testimonials in favor of of his having gone through a regular course of literature; of his good moral character; and of his being in the communion of the Church; proceeded to take the usual parts of trial for his licensure; and he having given satisfaction as to his accomplishments in literature; as to his experimental acquaintance with religion; and as to his proficiency in divinity and other studies; the presbytery did, and hereby do, express their approbation of all these parts of trial: and he having adopted the Confession of Faith of this Church, and satisfactorily answered the questions appointed to be put to candidates to be licensed; the presbytery did, and hereby does, license him, the said _____ to preach the gospel of Christ as a probationer for the holy ministry, within the bounds of this presbytery, or wherever else he shall be orderly called.

X. When any candidate for licensure shall have occasion, while his trials are going on, to remove from the bounds of his own presbytery into those of another, it shall be considered as regular for the latter presbytery, on his producing proper testimonials from the former, to take up his trials at the point at which they were left, and conduct them to a conclusion, in the same manner as if they had been commenced by themselves.

XI. In like manner, when any candidate, after licensure, shall, by the permission of his presbytery, remove without its limits, an extract of the record of his licensure, accompanied with a presbyterial recommendation, signed by the clerk, shall be his testimonials to the presbytery under whose care he shall come.

XII. When a licentiate shall have been preaching for a considerable time, and his services do not appear to be edifying to the churches, the presbytery may, if it think proper, recall his license.

CHAPTER XV.

OF THE ELECTION AND ORDINATION OF BISHOPS OR PASTORS, AND EVANGELISTS

I. WHEN any probationer shall have preached so much to the satisfaction of any congregation, as that the people appear prepared to elect a pastor, the session shall take measures to convene them for this purpose: and it shall always be a duty of the session to convene them, when a majority of the persons entitled to vote in the case, shall, by a petition, request that a meeting may be called.

II. When such a meeting is intended, the session shall solicit the presence and counsel of some neighboring minister to assist them in conducting the election contemplated, unless highly inconvenient on account of distance; in which case they may proceed without such assistance.

III. On a Lord's Day, immediately after public worship, it shall be intimated from the pulpit, that all the members of that congregation are requested to meet on ensuing, at the church, or usual place for holding public worship; then and there, if it be agreeable to them, to proceed to the election of a pastor for that congregation.

IV. On the day appointed, the minister invited to preside, if he be present, shall, if it be deemed expedient, preach a sermon; and after sermon he shall announce to the people, that he will immediately proceed to take the votes of the electors of that congregation, for a pastor, if such be their desire: and when this desire shall be expressed by a majority of voices, he shall then proceed to take votes accordingly. In this election, no person shall be entitled to vote who refuses to submit to the censures of the Church, regularly administered; or who does not contribute his just proportion, according to his own engagements, or the rules of that congregation, to all its necessary expenses.

V. When the votes are taken, if it appear that a large minority of the people are averse from the candidate who has a majority of votes, and cannot be induced to concur in the call, the presiding minister shall endeavor to dissuade the congregation from prosecuting it further. But if the people be nearly, or entirely, unanimous; or if the majority shall insist upon their right to call a pastor, the presiding minister, in that case, after using his utmost endeavors to persuade the congregation to unanimity, shall proceed to draw a call, in due form, and to have it subscribed by the electors; certifying at the same time, in writing the number and circumstances of those who do not concur in the call: all which proceedings shall be laid before the presbytery, together with the call.

VI. The call and certification thereof shall be in the following or like form: viz.

The congregation of _____ being, on sufficient grounds, well satisfied of the ministerial qualifications of you, _____ and having good hopes from our past experience of your labors, that your ministrations in the Gospel will be profitable to our spiritual interests, do earnestly call and desire you to undertake the pastoral office in said congregation; promising you in the discharge of your duty all proper support, encouragement and obedience in the Lord. And that you may be free from worldly care and avocations, we promise and oblige ourselves to pay you the sum of _____ yearly in regular payments during the time of your being and continuing the regular pastor of this church, together with free use of the manse and _____ vacation each year. And we agree to pay or to continue to pay monthly or quarterly in advance to the Board of Pensions a sum equivalent to seven and one half per cent of said salary.

In testimony whereof, we have respectively subscribed our names this _____ day of _____ A.D. _____ at the request and on behalf of the congregation.

I, _____ hereby certify that I presided over a duly called and regular meeting of the congregation of _____ held _____ for the election of a pastor; that the Rev. _____ was elected pastor by a _____ vote of said congregation; that the persons whose names are subscribed to the call were appointed for the purpose by the congregation; that were appointed commissioners to prosecute the call; and that the call was in all respects prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Moderator of Meeting.

VII. But if any congregation shall choose to subscribe their call by their elders and deacons, or by their trustees, or by a select committee, they shall be at liberty to do so. But it shall, in such case, be fully certified to the presbytery, by the minister, or other person who presided, that the persons signing have been appointed for that purpose by a public vote of the congregation; and that the call has been, in all other respects, prepared as above directed.

VIII. When a call shall be presented to any minister or candidate, it shall always be viewed as a sufficient petition from the people for his installment. The acceptance of a call, by a minister or candidate, shall always be considered as a request, on his part, to be installed at the same time. And when a candidate shall be ordained in consequence of a call from any congregation, the presbytery shall, at the same time, if practicable, install him pastor of that congregation.

IX. The call, thus prepared, shall be presented to the presbytery, under whose care the person called shall be; that, if the presbytery think it expedient to present the call to him, it may be accordingly presented: and no minister or candidate shall receive a call but through the hands of the presbytery. No change shall be made in any of the provisions of the call without the consent of the presbytery. Either the minister, or the congregation in meeting regularly assembled, shall have power to bring such a question to the attention of presbytery.

X. If the call be to a licentiate of another presbytery, in that case the commissioners deputed from the congregation to prosecute the call, shall produce, to that judicatory, a certificate from their own presbytery, regularly attested by the moderator and clerk, that the call has been laid before them, and that it is in order. If that presbytery present the call to their licentiate, and he be disposed to accept it, they shall then dismiss him from their jurisdiction, and require him to repair to that presbytery, into the bounds of which he is called; and there to submit himself to the usual trials preparatory to ordination.

XI. Trials for ordination, especially in a different presbytery from that in which the candidate was licensed, shall consist of a careful examination as to his acquaintance with experimental religion; as to his knowledge of philosophy, theology, ecclesiastical history, the Greek and Hebrew languages, and such other branches of learning as to the presbytery may appear requisite; and as to his knowledge of the Constitution, the rules and principles of the government and discipline of the Church; together with such written discourse, or discourses, founded on the Word of God, as to the presbytery shall seem proper.^p The presbytery, being fully satisfied with his qualifications for the sacred office, shall appoint a day for his ordination, which ought to be, if convenient, in that church of which he is to be the minister. It is also recommended that a fast day be observed in the congregation previous to the day of ordination.^q

XII. The day appointed for ordination being come and the presbytery convened, a member of the presbytery, previously appointed to that duty, shall preach a sermon adapted to the occasion. The same, or another member appointed to preside, shall afterwards briefly recite from the pulpit, in the audience of the people, the proceedings of the presbytery preparatory to this transaction: he shall point out the nature and importance of the ordinance; and endeavor to impress the audience with a proper sense of the solemnity of the transaction.

Then, addressing himself to the candidate, he shall propose to him the following questions: viz.

1. Do you believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice?^r

2. Do you sincerely receive and adopt the Confession of Faith of this Church, as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures?^s

3. Do you approve of the government and discipline of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America?^t

4. Do you promise subjection to your brethren in the Lord?^u

5. Have you been induced, as far as you know your own heart, to seek the office of the holy ministry from love to God, and a sincere desire to promote his glory in the gospel of his Son?^v

6. Do you promise to be zealous and faithful in maintaining the truths of the gospel, and the purity and peace of the Church; whatever persecution or opposition may arise unto you on that account?^w

7. Do you engage to be faithful and diligent in the exercise of all private and personal duties, which become you as a Christian and a minister of the gospel; as well as in all relative duties, and the public duties of your office; endeavoring to adorn the profession of the gospel by your conversation; and walking with exemplary piety before the flock over which God shall make you overseer?^x

8. Are you now willing to take the charge of this congregation, agreeably to your declaration at accepting their call? And do you promise to discharge the duties of a pastor to them, as God shall give you strength?^y

XIII. The candidate having answered these questions in the affirmative, the presiding minister shall propose to the people the following questions:—

^r2 Tim. iii. 16. Eph. ii. 20. ^s2 Tim. i. 13. ^tSee letter s at ove.
^u1 Pet. v. 5. ^v1 Cor. ii. 2. ^w2 Cor. iv. 5. ^xActs xx. 17 to 31.
^ySee the epistles to Timothy and Titus throughout. ^y1 Pet. v. 2.

1. Do you, the people of this congregation, continue to profess your readiness to receive whom you have called to be your minister?

2. Do you promise to receive the word of truth from his mouth, with meekness and love; and to submit to him in the due exercise of discipline?^z

3. Do you promise to encourage him in his arduous labor, and to assist his endeavors for your instruction and spiritual edification?^a

4. And do you engage to continue to him, while he is your pastor, that competent worldly maintenance which you have promised; and whatever else you may see needful for the honor of religion, and his comfort among you?^b

XIV. The people having answered these questions in the affirmative, by holding up their right hands, the candidate shall kneel down in the most convenient part of the church. Then the presiding minister shall, by prayer,^c and with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery,^d according to the apostolic example, solemnly ordain him to the holy office of the gospel ministry. Prayer being ended, he shall rise from his knees; and the minister who presides shall first, and afterward all the members of the presbytery in their order, take him by the right hand, saying, in words to this purpose, "We give you the right hand "of fellowship, to take part of this ministry with us."^e After which the minister presiding, or some other appointed for the purpose, shall give a solemn charge in the name of God, to the newly ordained bishop,^f and to the people,^g to persevere in the discharge of their mutual duties, and shall then, by prayer, recommend them both to the grace of God, and his holy keeping, and finally, after singing a psalm, shall dismiss the congregation with the usual blessing. And the presbytery shall duly record the transaction.

XV. As it is sometimes desirable and important that a candidate who has not received a call to be the pastor of a particular congregation, should, nevertheless, be ordained to the work of the gospel ministry, as an evangelist to preach the gospel, administer sealing ordinances, and organize churches, in frontier or destitute settlements; in this case, the last of the preceding questions shall be omitted, and the following used as a substitute: viz.

Are you now willing to undertake the work of an evangelist; and do you promise to discharge the duties which may be incumbent on you in this character as God shall give you strength?

XVI. Ministers connected with other denominations applying for membership in a presbytery, shall submit satisfactory evidence of possessing the qualifications of character and scholarship required of candidates and licentiates of this Church; shall be examined in theology, and at the discretion of presbytery in other subjects, and shall answer in the affirmative questions 1 to 8, contained in section xii. of this chapter.

CHAPTER XVI.

OF TRANSLATION, OR REMOVING A MINISTER FROM ONE CHARGE TO ANOTHER.

I. No bishop shall be translated from one church to another, nor shall he receive any call for that purpose, but by the permission of the presbytery.

II. Any church, desiring to call a settled minister from his present charge, shall, by commissioners properly authorized, represent to the presbytery the ground on which they plead his removal. The presbytery, having maturely considered their plea, may, according as it appears more or less reasonable, either recommend to them to desist from prosecuting the call, or may order it to be delivered to the minister to whom it is directed. If the parties be not prepared to have the matter issued at that presbytery, a written citation shall be given to the minister and his congregation, to appear before the presbytery at their next meeting. This citation shall be read from the pulpit in that church, by a member of the presbytery appointed for that purpose, immediately after public worship; so that at least two Sabbaths shall intervene betwixt the citation and the meeting of the presbytery at which the cause of translation is to be considered. The presbytery being met, and having heard the parties, shall, upon the whole view of the case, either continue him in his former charge, or translate him, as they shall deem to be most for the peace and edification of the Church; or refer the whole affair to the synod at their next meeting, for their advice and direction.

“ III. When the congregation calling any settled minister is within the limits of another presbytery, that congregation shall obtain leave from the presbytery to which they belong, to apply to the presbytery of which he is a member; and that presbytery, having cited him and his congregation as before directed, shall proceed to hear and issue the cause. If they agree to the translation, they shall release him from his present charge; and having given him proper testimonials, shall require him to repair to that presbytery, within the bounds of which the congregation calling him lies, that the proper steps may be taken for his regular settlement in that congregation: and the presbytery to which the congregation belongs, having received an authenticated certificate of his release, under the hand of the clerk of that presbytery, shall proceed to install him in the congregation, as soon as convenient. Provided always, that no bishop or pastor shall be translated without his own consent previously obtained.

IV. When any minister is to be settled in a congregation, the installment, which consists in constituting a pastoral relation between him and the people of that particular church, may be performed either by the presbytery, or by a committee appointed for that purpose, as may appear most expedient: and the following order shall be observed therein:

V. A day shall be appointed for the installment at such time as may appear most convenient, and due notice thereof given to the congregation.

^VI. When the presbytery, or committee, shall be convened and constituted, on the day appointed, a sermon shall be delivered by some one of the members previously appointed thereto; immediately after which, the bishop who is to preside shall state to the congregation the design of their meeting, and briefly recite the proceedings of the presbytery relative thereto. And then, addressing himself to the minister to be installed, shall propose to him the following or similiar questions:

1. Are you now willing to take the charge of this congregation, as their pastor, agreeably to your declaration at accepting their call?

2. Do you conscientiously believe and declare, as far as you know your own heart, that in taking upon you this charge, you are influenced by a sincere desire to promote the glory of God, and the good of his Church?

3. Do you solemnly promise, that, by the assistance of the grace of God, you will endeavor faithfully to discharge all the duties of a pastor to this congregation, and will be careful to maintain a deportment in all respects becoming a minister of the gospel of Christ, agreeably to your ordination engagements?

To all these having received satisfactory answers, he shall propose to the people the same or like questions as those directed under the head of ordination; which, having been also satisfactorily answered, by holding up the right hand in testimony of assent, he shall solemnly pronounce and declare the said minister to be regularly constituted the pastor of that congregation. A charge shall then be given to both parties, as directed in the case of ordination; and, after prayer, and singing a psalm adapted to the transaction, the congregation shall be dismissed with the usual benediction.

VII. It is highly becoming, that, after the solemnity of the installment, the heads of families of that congregation who are then present, or at least the elders, and those appointed to take care of the temporal concerns of that church, should come forward to their pastor, and give him their right hand, in token of cordial reception and affectionate regard.

CHAPTER XVII.

OF RESIGNING A PASTORAL CHARGE.

I. When any minister shall labor under such grievances in his congregation, as that he shall desire leave to resign his pastoral charge, the presbytery shall cite the congregation to appear, by their commissioners, at their next meeting, to show cause, if any they have, why the presbytery should not accept the resignation. If the congregation fail to appear, or if their reasons for retaining their pastor be deemed by the presbytery insufficient, he shall have leave granted to resign his pastoral charge, of which due record shall be made; and that church shall be held to be vacant, till supplied again, in an orderly manner, with another minister: and if any congregation shall desire to be released from their pastor, a similar process, mutatis mutandis, shall be observed.

II. When any minister shall resign his charge by reason of age or incapacity for further labor, and the congregation shall be moved by affectionate regard for his person and gratitude for his ministry among them, to desire that he should continue to be associated with them in an honorary relation, they may, at a regularly called meeting, elect him as pastor emeritus, with or without salary, but with no pastoral authority or duty. This action shall be subject to the approval of presbytery, and shall take effect upon the formal dissolution of the pastoral relation.

CHAPTER XVIII.

OF MISSIONS.

WHEN vacancies become so numerous in any presbytery that they cannot be supplied with the frequent administration of the Word and ordinances, it shall be proper for such presbytery, or any vacant congregation within their bounds, with the leave of the presbytery, to apply to any other presbytery, or to any synod, or to the General Assembly, for such assistance as they can afford. And, when any presbytery shall send any of their ministers or probationers to distant vacancies, the missionary shall be ready to produce his credentials to the presbytery or presbyteries, through the bounds of which he may pass, or at least to a committee thereof, and obtain their approbation. And the General Assembly may, of their own knowledge, send missions to any part to plant churches, or to supply vacancies: and, for this purpose, may direct any presbytery to ordain evangelists, or ministers without relation to particular churches: provided always that such missions be made with the consent of the parties appointed; and that the judicatory sending them, make the necessary provision for their support and reward in the performance of this service.

CHAPTER XIX.

OF MODERATORS.

I. It is equally necessary in the judicatories of the Church, as in other assemblies, that there should be a moderator or president; that the business may be conducted with order and despatch.

II. The moderator is to be considered as possessing, by delegation from the whole body, all authority necessary for the preservation of order; for convening and adjourning the judicatory; and directing its operations according to the rules of the Church. He is to propose to the judicatory every subject of deliberation that comes before them. He may propose what appears to him the most regular and speedy way of bringing any business to issue. He shall prevent the members from interrupting each other; and require them, in speaking, always to address the chair. He shall prevent a speaker from deviating from the subject; and from using personal reflections. He shall silence those who refuse to obey order. He shall prevent members who attempt to leave the judicatory without leave obtained from him. He shall, at a proper season, when the deliberations are ended, put the question and call the votes. If the judicatory be equally divided, he shall possess the casting vote. If he be not willing to decide, he shall put the question a second time; and if the judicatory be again equally divided, and he decline to give his vote, the question shall be lost. In all questions he shall give a concise and clear statement of the object of the vote; and the vote being taken shall then declare how the question is decided. And he shall likewise be empowered, on any extraordinary emergency, to convene the judicatory, by his circular letter, before the ordinary time of meeting. He shall also serve until his successor be inducted into office, and may perform such administrative duties as may be assigned to him by the judicatory.

III. The moderator of the presbytery shall be chosen from year to year, or at every meeting of the presbytery, as the presbytery may think best. The moderator of the synod, and of the General Assembly, shall be chosen at each meeting of those judicatories: and the moderator, or, in case of his absence, another member appointed for the purpose, shall open the next meeting with a sermon, and shall hold the chair till a new moderator be chosen. In case the moderator of any judicatory, above the church session, shall be a ruling elder, he may open the next meeting with an address; but any acts, appropriate only to an ordained minister of the gospel, shall be performed by a minister appointed by such ruling elder.

CHAPTER XX.

OF CLERKS.

EVERY judicatory shall choose a clerk, to record their transactions, whose continuance shall be during pleasure. It shall be the duty of the clerk, besides recording the transactions, to preserve the records carefully; and to grant extracts from them, whenever properly required: and such extracts, under the hand of the clerk, shall be considered as authentic vouchers of the fact which they declare, in any ecclesiastical judicatory, and to every part of the Church.

CHAPTER XXI.

OF VACANT CONGREGATIONS ASSEMBLING FOR PUBLIC WORSHIP.

I. CONSIDERING the great importance of weekly assembling the people, for the public worship of God, in order thereby to improve their knowledge; to confirm their habits of worship, and their desire of the public ordinances; to augment their reverence for the most high God; and to promote the charitable affections which unite men most firmly in society: it is recommended, that every vacant congregation meet together, on the Lord's Day, at one or more places, for the purpose of prayer, singing praises, and reading the Holy Scriptures, together with the works of such approved divines, as the presbytery within whose bounds they are may recommend, and they may be able to procure; and that the elders or deacons be the persons who shall preside, and select the portions of Scripture, and of the other books to be read; and to see that the whole be conducted in a becoming and orderly manner.

II. Every presbytery shall assign to a committee the supervision of the vacant churches within its bounds. This committee shall, in consultation with the representatives of the vacant church, nominate a moderator for the session, and arrange for the supply of the pulpit.

The committee and the church shall also cooperate in seeking and securing a pastor.

III. Ministers and Licentiates connected with the presbyteries of this Church shall be the only persons to be employed as regular supplies in vacant churches, except in cases of federated churches. It shall be the duty of ministers not engaged in regular church work to render service in vacant congregations within the bounds of their respective presbyteries, unless excused by act of presbytery. Ministers of other denominations in correspondence with this General Assembly may be employed as occasional supplies.

IV. When the pulpit of any congregation has been vacant for a longer period than twelve months, the appointment of ministers for the pulpit shall be made by the presbytery, and shall continue to be so made until a pastor has been elected by the congregation and duly installed by the presbytery.

V. Every Synod shall assign to a committee the general supervision of the vacant churches within its bounds. This committee shall be empowered to cooperate with and coordinate the work of the committees of the constituent presbyteries charged with the supervision of vacant churches subject, however, to the constitutional provisions relating to presbyterial supervision and control.

CHAPTER XXII.

OF COMMISSIONERS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

I. THE commissioners to the General Assembly shall always be appointed by the presbytery from which they come, at its last stated meeting, immediately preceding the meeting of the General Assembly; provided, that there be a sufficient interval between that time and the meeting of the Assembly, for their commissioners to attend to their duty in due season; otherwise, the presbytery may make the appointment at any stated meeting, not more than seven months preceding the meeting of the Assembly. And as much as possible to prevent all failure in the representation of the presbyteries, arising from unforeseen accidents to those first appointed, it may be expedient for each presbytery, in the room of each commissioner, to appoint also an alternate commissioner to supply his place, in case of necessary absence.

II. Each commissioner, before his name shall be enrolled as a member of the Assembly, shall produce from his presbytery, a commission under the hand of the moderator and clerk, in the following, or like form: viz.

“The presbytery of being met at
 “on the day of doth hereby appoint “bishop of the congregation of [or “ruling elder in the congregation of as the case “may be;”] (to which the presbytery may, if they think proper, make a substitution in the following form) “or in “case of his absence, then bishop of the congre“gation of [or ruling elder in the congre“gation of as the case may be:] to be a commis“sioner, on behalf of this presbytery, to the next General “Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United “States of America, to meet at on the “day of A.D. or wherever, and whenever
 “the said Assembly may happen to sit; to consult, vote, “and determine, on all things that may come before that “body, according to the principles and constitution of “this Church, and the Word of God. And of his dili“gence herein, he is to render an account at his return.

“Signed by order of the Presbytery,

“Clerk.”

And the presbytery shall make record of the appointment.

III. In order, as far as possible, to procure a respectable and full delegation to all our judicatories, it is proper that the expenses of ministers and elders in their attendance on these judicatories, be defrayed by the bodies which they respectively represent.

CHAPTER XXIII.

OF THE ORGANIZATIONS OF THE CHURCH. THEIR RIGHTS AND DUTIES.

I. THE members of a particular church or particular churches may associate together, and may associate with themselves other regular members of the congregation or congregations, under regular forms of association, for the conduct of a special work for missionary or other benevolent purposes, or for the purpose of instruction in religion and development in Christian nurture.

II. Where special organizations of the character above indicated exist in a particular church, they shall be under the immediate direction, control, and oversight of the session of said church; where they cover the territory included within a presbytery or synod, they shall be responsible to the judicatory having jurisdiction; and where they cover territory greater than a synod, they shall be responsible to the General Assembly.

III. The names or titles of special organizations may be chosen by themselves, and the organizations shall have power to adopt each its own constitution and to elect its own officers, subject always to the powers of review and control vested by the Constitution in the several judicatories of the Church.

IV. Whenever the functions of the special organizations shall include the collecting and distributing of moneys for benevolent work, it shall be done always subject to the power of oversight and direction vested by the Constitution in the session and in the higher judicatories.

CHAPTER XXIV.

OF AMENDMENTS.

I. AMENDMENTS or alterations of the Form of Government, Book of Discipline, and Directory for Worship, may be proposed by the General Assembly to the presbyteries, but shall not be obligatory on the Church unless a majority of all the presbyteries approve thereof in writing.

II. Amendments or alterations of the Confession of Faith, and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, may be proposed to the presbyteries by the General Assembly, but shall not be obligatory on the Church unless they shall be approved in writing by two thirds of all the presbyteries, and agreed to and enacted by the General Assembly next ensuing, and the written votes of the presbyteries shall be returned to that Assembly.

III. Before any amendments or alterations of the Confession of Faith, or the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, proposed by the General Assembly, shall be transmitted to the presbyteries, the General Assembly shall appoint—to consider the subject—a committee of ministers and ruling elders, in number not less than fifteen, of whom not more than two shall be from any one synod, and the committee shall report its recommendations to the General Assembly next ensuing, for action.

IV. No alterations of the provisions contained in this chapter for amending or altering the Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, or of this fourth section, shall be made, unless an Overture from the General Assembly, submitting the proposed alterations shall be transmitted to all the presbyteries, and be approved in writing by two thirds of their number, and be agreed to and enacted by the General Assembly.

V. It shall be obligatory on the General Assembly to transmit to the presbyteries, for approval or disapproval, any Overture respecting amendments or alterations provided for in this chapter, which shall be submitted to the same General Assembly by one third of all the presbyteries. In such cases the Overture shall be formulated and transmitted by the General Assembly receiving the same to the presbyteries for their action, subject, as to all subsequent proceedings, to the provisions of the foregoing sections.

VI. Whenever it shall appear to the General Assembly that any proposed amendments or alterations of the Form of Government, Book of Discipline, and Directory for Worship, shall have received a majority vote of all the presbyteries, the General Assembly shall declare such amendments or alterations to have been adopted, and the same shall immediately go into effect.

VII. Nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to affect the right of two thirds of the presbyteries to propose amendments or alterations of the Confession of Faith, and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, or of the General Assembly to agree to and enact the same.

CHAPTER XXV.

OF THE BOARD OF DEACONS.

I. THE Board of Deacons consists of the pastor, or pastors, and deacons of a particular congregation.

II. Of this board, two deacons, if there be as many in the congregation, with the pastor, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum.

III. The moderator of the Board of Deacons shall be the pastor, or, in his absence, a deacon appointed by him. The Board shall elect from its membership its own secretary and treasurer.

IV. The Board of Deacons shall have charge of the poor of the congregation, and may perform such other administrative, charitable and community duties, the disbursement of charitable funds included, as may be determined upon, after consultation with and action by the session. The Board of Deacons shall report to the session all disbursements.

V. The Board of Deacons shall report annually to the session upon all business transacted, and its minutes shall be reviewed at least annually by the session, subject to the supervisory authority of the presbytery.

VI. The deacons may be entrusted in addition with the care and management of the temporalities of the Church, and when so entrusted they shall report at least annually upon the same to the session, being subject also to the supervisory authority of the presbytery.

CHAPTER XXVI.

OF GENERAL COUNCILS.

I. A GENERAL Council is hereby established, with authority and duties as herein specified.

II. The General Council, subject to the authority of the General Assembly shall assume and discharge the following duties: To supervise the spiritual and material interests of the Boards of the Church; to correspond with and advise the General Councils of presbyteries and synods; to prepare and submit annually to the General Assembly the Budget for the permanent benevolent and missionary Agencies of the Church including self-supporting synods and presbyteries; to consider between annual meetings of the General Assembly cases of serious embarrassment or emergency concerning the benevolent and missionary work of the Church, and to provide direct methods of relief.

III. The General Council, subject to the authority of the General Assembly, shall also make suitable provision for the discharge of such duties as the following:

The coördination of the missionary and benevolent programs of the Church, as proposed by its Boards; the promotion of Christian benevolence and stewardship throughout the Church; the cultivation of sound methods of Church finance and the development in all congregations as well as presbyteries and synods of the highest possible spiritual efficiency.

IV. The General Council shall discharge such other duties as the General Assembly shall from time to time require and authorize.

V. The General Council shall be composed of the following members: the Moderator of the General Assembly; the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly; the retiring Moderator of the General Assembly and his nearest living predecessor; one representative from each of the Boards of the Church, who shall be nominated annually by the Board to be represented, and who shall be elected by the Assembly for a term of one year; and fifteen members at large elected by the General Assembly in such manner as it may determine—five chosen for three years, five chosen for two years, and five chosen for one year; and thereafter five each year for a term of three years. Of the five, two shall be ministers, two shall be men who are ruling elders and one shall be a woman in full communion of the church, who may be a ruling elder.

No member elected from the church-at-large, having served for two consecutive three-year terms, shall be eligible for re-election until after an interim of at least one year.

VI. The Moderator of the General Assembly shall be the chairman of the General Council, who shall enter upon his duties immediately after the election of the new members by the Assembly. The General Council shall elect from its members a vice chairman who shall serve for one year. The chairman and vice chairman shall serve without salary.

VII. The General Council shall elect a secretary. His duties, term of office, and salary shall be determined by the General Council, subject to the approval of the General Assembly.

VIII. The General Council shall keep a record of its proceedings and shall submit to each General Assembly for approval a report of all business transacted.

IX. The General Council shall be authorized to adopt rules for the conduct of its business, not inconsistent with the authority herein granted or the laws of the Church.

X. A presbytery or a synod may elect from the ministers and ruling elders composing it a General Council, which shall consist of not less than five members for a presbytery and not less than fifteen members for a synod. The membership shall be divided, in each case, as equally as practicable, between ministers and ruling elders. No members, salaried officer or employee of a missionary or benevolent Board or organization, under the direction of the judicatory concerned, shall be a member. Vacancies may be filled by the moderator of the judicatory until the next regular meeting. The term of service shall be three years and the members shall be divided into three classes, one of which shall be elected annually. A quorum of the General Council of a presbytery shall be three ministers and as many elders as may be present; a quorum of the General Council of a synod shall be seven ministers and as many elders as may be present. Less than a quorum may adjourn to a fixed date.

XI. A presbytery or a synod shall elect the chairman of its General Council, and the stated clerk of the electing judicatory shall be the secretary of the Council. Stated Clerks of these judicatories, when secretaries of their General Councils, shall not be members of the Councils.

XII. General Councils shall handle and consider only such administrative business as may be referred to them by the electing judicatories as indicated in the succeeding sections, and shall have no power of initiating action except as hereinafter provided. No judicial business shall be referred to a General Council.

XIII. The proceedings of a General Council shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution and Rules of the Church. The Council may sit in private whenever deemed advisable, and all business transacted shall be held as private unless definitely voted otherwise.

XIV. The General Council of a presbytery may have the following general powers when voted by the electing presbytery: to prepare the docket of business for the meeting of the presbytery, with the assistance of the Stated Clerk; to consider and report upon all proposals and appeals for moneys; to correspond with the General Councils of synods and the General Assembly, and to present to the churches the budget of the missionary and benevolent causes and Agencies as adopted by the General Assembly. It may have also the following specific powers, when voted by the presbytery: to receive and dismiss ministers, in good standing, who are without pastoral charge, in the intervals between regular meetings; to receive under care of presbytery licentiates or candidates for the ministry from other presbyteries; to install ministers, to organize or to dissolve churches, and to adjust difficulties in particular churches, after appropriate action by presbytery. The General Council shall report at each regular meeting of presbytery every item of business transacted by it. Its decisions shall be operative, wherever power has been conferred, but may be reviewed and reversed by presbytery.

XV. The General Council of a synod may have the following powers, when specifically voted by the electing synod: to prepare the docket of business for the meeting of the synod, with the assistance of the stated clerk; to correspond with the General Councils of presbyteries and the General Assembly; to carry out the directions of synod with respect to the presbyteries, sessions and people under the care of synod; to inquire into conditions existing in any presbytery; but it shall not receive power to erect, unite or divide presbyteries, and, in consultation with the presbyteries or the General Councils of the presbyteries under the synod, to have charge of the budget of the benevolent and missionary causes and Agencies within the synod. The General Council shall report at each regular meeting of synod every item of business transacted by it. Its decisions shall be operative wherever power has been conferred, but may be reviewed and reversed by synod.

XVI. General Councils shall meet on their own appointment and adjournment, and at the call of the electing judicatory, but shall not meet during the regular meetings of the electing judicatory, unless specifically authorized so to do by the judicatory. The minutes shall be submitted annually to the electing judicatory for review, and shall be referred, for the purpose, to the Committee on Bills and Overtures or similar committees. The expenses of the General Councils shall be provided for by the electing judicatories.

XVII. Nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to prevent either a presbytery or a synod from electing, at its own discretion, special commissions for specific administrative or executive purposes, which shall be subject to the limitations and regulations as to powers contained in this chapter, so far as they apply, and also to the Constitution of the Church. Such special commissions shall report whenever the electing judicatories shall require.

CHAPTER XXVII.

OF THE INCORPORATION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, SYNODS, PRESBYTERIES AND CHURCHES, AND THEIR MEMBERS, OFFICERS AND MEETINGS, AND OF CHURCH PROPERTY.

I. THE General Assembly shall always maintain a corporation so as to enable it to receive, hold and transfer property, and to facilitate the management of its temporal affairs, in such manner as may be directed by the General Assembly from time to time.

II. Each Presbytery and each Synod shall cause a corporation to be formed and maintained under the laws of the state where it is located, so as to enable it to receive, hold and transfer property, and to facilitate the management of its temporal affairs, in such manner as may be directed by the Presbytery or the Synod from time to time.

III. Each particular church shall cause a corporation to be formed and maintained under the laws of the state where it is located, so as to enable it to receive, hold and transfer property, and to facilitate the management of its temporal affairs.

IV. All communicant members of a particular church of the full age of twenty-one years, in good and regular standing, and all other persons of full age who are regular contributors to the maintenance and support of the church and its benevolences, in accordance with the plan of giving adopted by said church, shall be entitled to vote at all particular church corporation meetings.

V. The duties of trustees of a particular church corporation shall be confined exclusively to the management of the temporal affairs of said particular church corporation.

VI. At least two thirds of the trustees of a particular church corporation shall be communicant members of said church.

VII. Unless otherwise provided for, all particular church corporation meetings shall be called by giving public notice thereof from the pulpit, on the two successive Sundays next preceding such meeting.

VIII. Voting by proxy shall not be permitted, except in those states where voting by proxy in religious corporations is expressly authorized by statute.

IX. Whenever hereafter a particular church is formally dissolved by the presbytery, or has become extinct by reason of the dispersal of its members, the abandonment of its work, or other cause, such property as it may have, both real and personal, shall be held, used and applied for such uses, purposes and trusts as the presbytery may direct, limit and appoint, in conformity with the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

X. A particular church shall not mortgage its property in any amount without the written permission of the presbytery transmitted through the session of the particular church.

THE BOOK OF DISCIPLINE.

ADOPTED, 1788, 1884; AMENDED, 1885-1931.

OF DISCIPLINE: ITS NATURE, PURPOSE AND SUBJECTS.

1. Definition.—Discipline is the orderly exercise of that authority, and the application of those principles and laws which the Church of our Lord Jesus Christ has derived from the Word of God, and has appointed for the instruction, training and control of its members, officers, congregations and judicatories.

2. How Exercised.—Discipline is exercised through the established judicatories of the Church, and may be used either in the general sense of administrative discipline, or in the restricted sense of judicial discipline.

3. Administrative Discipline.—Administrative discipline is the general and orderly exercise of ecclesiastical authority in the preservation and application of the whole system of government of the Church.

4. Purpose of Administrative Discipline.—Administrative discipline has for its purpose the preservation of the whole government of the Church by the maintenance of its purity, growth and spiritual influence, by the proper exercise of its authority, and by the protection of the rights of its members, officers, congregations, and judicatories.

5. Judicial Discipline.—Judicial discipline is the special and orderly exercise of that authority which Jesus Christ has invested in His Church for the prevention and correction of offenses.

6. Purpose of Judicial Discipline.—The purpose of judicial discipline is to vindicate the authority and honor of Jesus Christ by the maintenance of the truth, the removal of scandal, the censure for offenses, the spiritual good of offenders, and the promotion of the purity and edification of the Church. Its exercise, in such a manner as to secure this purpose, requires much prudence and discretion. Judicatories, therefore, should take into consideration all the circumstances which may give a different character to conduct, and render it more or less offensive; and which may require different action, in similar cases, at different times, for the attainment of the same purpose.

7. Subjects of Discipline.—All baptized persons, being covenant members of the Church and under its care, are subject to administrative discipline, and entitled to the benefits thereof. Judicial discipline relates only to those who have been received into communicant membership, and are charged with an offense.

8. Offense.—An offense is anything, in the doctrine, principles, or practice of a Church member, officer or judicatory, which is contrary to the Word of God or to those expositions of its teachings as to faith and practice which are contained in the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

9. Kinds of Cases.—Every case in which there is a charge of an offense against a Church member or officer, shall be the subject of judicial discipline and shall be known, in its original and appellate stages, as a judicial case. Every other case shall be the subject of administrative discipline and shall be known in its original and appellate stages as a nonjudicial or administrative case.

CHAPTER II.

OF JURISDICTION.

1. Original Jurisdiction.—The several judicatories exercise original jurisdiction within their respective spheres, but when a lower judicatory neglects or is unable to exercise proper discipline in a particular administrative or judicial case, the higher judicatory shall assume jurisdiction in the case, and either issue specific instructions to the lower judicatory as to its disposition, or conclude the matter itself.

Original jurisdiction, in its relation to ministers belongs to the presbytery; in relation to all other persons, to the session.

2. Dismissed Members.—A member receiving a certificate of dismissal shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the session of the church issuing such certificate until actually received by another church, but without the right to deliberate or vote in a church meeting, or exercise the functions of any office. If a member returns the certificate, within a year from its date, the session shall make record of the fact, but shall not thereby restore the member to the exercise of the functions of any office previously held in that church. As soon as a certificate of dismissal is received by the session of any church, this church shall notify the session issuing the certificate, of its reception.

3. Dismissed Ministers.—A minister dismissed from a presbytery shall be subject to its jurisdiction until he actually becomes a member of another presbytery. The granting of a letter of dismissal to a minister shall terminate his right to deliberate and vote as a member of the presbytery from which he is dismissed, and he shall not thereafter be counted in the basis of that presbytery's representation in the General Assembly. If he should return the certificate of dismissal within a year from its date, the presbytery shall make record of the fact, and restore him to the full privileges of membership.

4. Certificate Shall be Specific.—A certificate of dismissal given by a session to a member, or by a presbytery to a minister, licentiate, or candidate for licensure, shall specify the particular body to which the person is recommended. In the case of a minister, licentiate, or candidate for licensure, no other presbytery than the one designated shall receive him.

5. When a Church Becomes Extinct.—If a church becomes extinct, the presbytery with which it was connected shall take possession of its records and have jurisdiction over its members, and grant them letters of dismission to some other church. It shall also determine any case of discipline begun by the session and not concluded.

6. When a Presbytery Becomes Extinct.—If a presbytery becomes extinct, the synod with which it was connected shall have jurisdiction over its churches and members, and may transfer them to any presbytery within its bounds. It shall also determine any case of discipline begun by the presbytery and not concluded.

CHAPTER III.

OF PRELIMINARY DETAILS OF JUDICIAL PROCESS IN JUDICIAL DISCIPLINE.

1. Definition.—Judicial process is the orderly succession of legal proceedings, in accordance with those principles and rules which have been established by the Church for the conduct of a judicial case.

2. Basis of Judicial Process.—Judicial process against an alleged offender shall not be instituted unless some responsible person under the jurisdiction of a judicatory of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America undertakes to sustain the charge; or unless a judicatory finds it necessary for the purpose of judicial discipline to investigate the alleged offense.

When an offense has been committed under such circumstances that it is impossible for the offender to be prosecuted to conviction, judicial process should not be instituted until God in His righteous providence shall give further light.

3. Personal Vindication.—A person who may consider himself injured by a rumor, more or less current, may request an investigation for his own vindication. If a judicatory finds it proper to grant the request, it may elect a judicial commission to make such investigation, and make report in writing: and a record thereafter made may conclude the matter.

4. Who May Prosecute.—Prosecution for an alleged offense may be instituted by an injured person; by a private person, or persons, not an injured party; or by a judicatory. When the prosecution is not instituted by a judicatory, the person, or persons, who institute the prosecution, must conduct it through all its stages on their own responsibility.

5. Original Parties.—The original and only parties in judicial process are the accuser or prosecutor, and the accused or defendant. The accuser may be either a private individual or individuals, who personally assume the responsibility of the prosecution, or, when the prosecution is initiated by a judicatory, the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. These parties shall be known in the appellate judicatories as the appellant and appellee.

6. Prosecution by Injured Party.—In a case of alleged personal injury, where the injured party is the accuser, judicial process shall not be allowed unless those means of reconciliation have been tried, which are required by our Lord, Matthew xviii, 15-17: "If thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church." In all cases of personal prosecution, the charge must be accompanied by an averment that this course prescribed by our Lord has been faithfully tried.

If, however the nature and circumstances of the offense are such that the interests of religion require a judicial investigation, the settlement of the matter between the parties shall not preclude a judicatory from so investigating it.

7. Prosecution by Judicatory or Private Party.—

When the judicial process is initiated by a judicatory, or by a private person other than the injured party, the course prescribed by our Lord in Matthew xviii, 15-17, shall not be required. In all such cases, however, effort should be made by private conference with the accused, to avoid, if possible, the necessity of actual judicial process.

8. Prosecuting Committee.—When the judicial process is initiated by a judicatory, it shall appoint one or more of its own members a committee to conduct the prosecution in all its stages in whatever judicatory, until the final issue be reached: provided, that any appellate judicatory before which the case is pending shall, if desired by the prosecuting committee, appoint one or more of its own members to assist in the prosecution, upon the nomination of the prosecuting committee.

9. Character of Accuser.—Great caution ought to be exercised in receiving accusations from any person who is known to indulge a malignant spirit toward the accused, or who is not of good character, or who is himself under censure or judicial process, or who is personally interested in any respect in the conviction of the accused, or who is known to be litigious, rash, or highly imprudent.

10. Warning to Voluntary Prosecutor.—Any private person who personally assumes the responsibility of a prosecution, shall be warned before the charges are presented, that, if he fails to show reasonable grounds for the charges, he must himself be censured as a slanderer of the brethren, in proportion to the malignancy or rashness which may appear in the prosecution.

11. Time Limit.—Prosecution for an alleged offense shall commence within one year from the time of its alleged commission, or from the date when it is reported to the judicatory which has jurisdiction thereof.

12. Judicial Committee.—In every judicial process, if deemed expedient by the judicatory, a committee may be appointed, which shall be called the Judicial Committee. It shall be the duty of this committee, without entering into the merits of the case, to examine all the papers, documents, and records submitted to it and to ascertain whether all the steps have thus far been taken which are required by this Book of Discipline, and whether there is contained in them probable grounds for an accusation; to decide whether if charges formulated on the basis of the papers, documents, and records are proved they will constitute an offense, subjecting the accused to discipline; to ascertain the respectability and credibility of those witnesses whose names are attached to the papers, documents and records; to review the charges and specifications when presented in order that their form may be in strict conformity to the provisions of Chapter IV, Section 1, of this Book of Discipline.

A Judicial Committee may also be appointed in all judicatories having appellate jurisdiction, to which shall be referred all papers and questions of a judicial nature, and whose duty it shall be to recommend to the judicatory answers to judicial questions and orders of procedure in all judicial cases. The members of Judicial Committees shall not be debarred by such appointment from sitting and voting as members of the judicatory.

CHAPTER IV.

OF CHARGES AND SPECIFICATIONS.

1. Form of Charge.—Every charge must be presented to the judicatory in writing, and must set forth the alleged offense with the specifications of the facts relied upon to sustain the charge. Each specification shall declare, as far as possible, the time, place, and circumstances of the commission of the alleged offense, and shall be accompanied with the names of the witnesses and the titles of the records and documents to be cited for its support.

2. When More Than One Charge.—A charge shall not allege more than one offense. Several charges against the same person, however, with the specifications under each of them, may be presented to the judicatory at one and the same time, and may, in the discretion of the judicatory, be tried together. But, when several charges are tried at the same time, a vote on each charge must be separately taken.

CHAPTER V.

OF THE TRIAL IN GENERAL.

1. The Trial.—Before entering upon a trial the judicatory of jurisdiction shall decide whether it shall itself try the judicial case in its judicial capacity, or refer the judicial case for hearing and decision to a judicial commission elected by it.

2. Announcement by the Moderator.—When the trial is about to begin, whether in a judicatory or in a judicial commission, the moderator thereof shall solemnly announce that the judicatory or judicial commission is about to pass to the consideration of the business assigned for trial, and shall enjoin the members to recollect and regard their high character as judges of a judicatory of the Church of Jesus Christ, and the solemn duty in which they are about to act. This announcement shall also be made during the course of the trial at the opening of each session of the judicatory or judicial commission.

3. Grounds of Challenge.—No member of a judicatory or judicial commission shall sit in judgment upon a judicial case who is personally interested in the issue thereof, who is closely related to either party, who has been active for or against either party in the matter embraced in the charge, who is at personal variance with either party, or who has prejudged the case. Any member may be challenged by either party, provided such challenge be made at the first meeting of the judicatory or judicial commission, and the question of the allowance of the challenge shall be determined by the remaining members of the judicatory or judicial commission.

4. Charge Presented and Citations Issued.—When a judicatory or judicial commission enters on the consideration of an alleged offense, the charge and specifications shall be formally presented and read; and nothing more shall be done at that meeting, unless by consent of both parties, than to furnish the accused with a copy of the charge and specifications, together with the names of all the witnesses then known, and the titles of the records and documents that may be offered, to support each specification; and to cite all concerned to appear at a subsequent meeting of the judicatory or judicial commission, to be held not less than ten days after the service of the citations. The citations shall be signed, in the name of the judicatory or judicial commission, by the moderator, and clerk thereof; who shall also furnish citations for such witnesses as either party shall name. Citations shall be issued only to members of this Church, other persons can only be requested to attend. The accused shall not be required to disclose the names of his witnesses.

5. Witnesses from Other Jurisdictions.—When it is necessary in the trial of a case to summon witnesses who are under the jurisdiction of another judicatory of the Church, such a judicatory shall, on the application of the judicatory trying the case, issue a citation to such witness to appear at the place of trial and give evidence as may be required. A witness so cited shall be entitled to receive from the party calling him all necessary expenses incurred in attendance at the trial.

6. Service of Citations.—Citations shall be served personally, unless the person to be cited cannot be found, in which case the citation shall be sent to his last known place of residence by registered mail. Before proceeding to trial, it must appear that the citations have been served.

7. Second Citations.—If an accused person or a witness, who is a member of the Church, fails to obey a citation, a second citation shall be issued accompanied by a notice that, if he does not appear at the time appointed, unless providentially hindered, he shall be considered guilty of disobedience and contempt, and shall for such offense be censured by the judicatory or judicial commission. If an accused person does not appear after a second citation, the judicatory or judicial commission may proceed to trial and judgment in his absence; in which case it shall appoint some person or persons to represent him as counsel. The time allowed for appearance, on any citation subsequent to the first, shall be determined by the judicatory or judicial commission with proper regard for all the circumstances.

8. Refusal of Witness to Appear.—A member of this Church, summoned as a witness, and refusing to appear, or, having appeared, refusing to testify, shall be censured according to the circumstances of the case for his contumacy.

9. Counsel.—Each of the parties in a judicial case shall be entitled to appear and be represented by counsel. No person shall be eligible to act as counsel who is not a minister or ruling elder in the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. No person having acted as counsel in a judicial case shall sit as a judge therein. The counsel of the prosecutor in a judicial case where prosecution is initiated by a judicatory shall be the prosecuting committee authorized to be appointed by Chapter III, Section 8, of this Book of Discipline, and such other persons as may be appointed under the provisions of that section to assist the prosecuting committee in an appellate judicatory or judicial commission. No persons shall accept any fee or other emolument for any service rendered as counsel.

10. Objections and Pleas.—At the meeting when the citations are returnable, the accused shall appear, or, if unable to be present, must appear by counsel. He may file objections and be heard on the regularity of the organization, on the jurisdiction of the judicatory or judicial commission, on the right of any member to sit in the trial of the case, on the sufficiency of the charges and specifications in form or in legal effect, or any other substantial objection affecting the order or regularity of the proceeding. The judicatory or judicial commission shall determine all such preliminary objections, and may dismiss the case, or permit, in the furtherance of justice, amendments to the specifications or charges which do not change their general nature. If the proceedings are found in order, and the charges and specifications are considered sufficient to put the accused on his defense, he shall be called upon to plead "guilty," or "not guilty," to the same, which shall be entered on the record. If the plea be "guilty," the judicatory shall proceed to judgment; but if the plea be "not guilty," or if the accused decline to answer, a plea of "not guilty" shall be entered on the record and the trial proceed.

11. Presentation of Witnesses and Arguments, and the Rendering of Judgment.—Witnesses shall be examined in the presence of the accused, except in cases where the accused fails to appear after due citation. Each party shall have the right to cross-examine the witnesses of the other side; after which new witnesses and other evidence, in rebuttal only, may be introduced by either party. Evidence discovered during the progress of the trial, may be admitted, in behalf of either party, under such regulations, as to notice of the names of witnesses and the nature of the proof, as the judicatory shall deem reasonable and proper. When the testimony is closed the parties themselves shall be heard. The judicatory or judicial commission shall then go into private session, the parties, their counsel, and all other persons not members of the body, being excluded, when, after careful deliberation, the judicatory or judicial commission shall proceed to vote on each specification and on each charge separately, and judgment shall be rendered accordingly.

The judicatory or judicial commission shall then determine what degree of censure shall be inflicted.

12. Who May Vote.—No member of a judicatory or judicial commission who has not been present during the whole of the trial, shall be allowed to vote upon any question arising therein or upon the final judgment, except by the unanimous consent of the judicatory or judicial commission, and of the parties. When a trial is in progress, the roll shall be called upon reconvening after each recess or adjournment, and the names of the absentees shall be noted.

13. Announcement of Verdict.—At the conclusion of the trial, the moderator of the judicatory or judicial commission shall formally announce the verdict for each charge separately; and if the defendant be adjudged guilty, he shall announce to the parties in the case the degree of censure to be imposed. He shall give such further publicity to this announcement as the judicatory or judicial commission may direct. It shall be in order at once, in any judicatory except the highest, for either party to give notice of appeal.

14. Record of a Judicial Case.—The charge and specifications, the plea, and the judgment, shall be entered on the minutes of the judicatory or judicial commission. The minutes shall also exhibit all the acts and orders of the judicatory or judicial commission relating to the case, with the reasons therefor, together with the notice of appeal, and the reasons therefor, if any shall have been filed; all of which, together with the evidence in the case duly filed and authenticated by the clerk of the judicatory or judicial commission, shall constitute the record of the case; and in case of a removal thereof by appeal, the lower judicatory shall transmit the record to the higher. Nothing which is not contained in the record shall be taken into consideration by the higher judicatory except as provided in Chapter VIII, Section 14, of this Book of Discipline.

15. Copies of Record.—The parties shall be allowed copies of the record at their own expense; and, on the final disposition of a case in a higher judicatory, the record of the case, with the judgment, shall be transmitted to the judicatory in which the case originated.

16. Exceptions.—Exceptions may be taken by either of the original parties in a trial, to any part of the rulings or proceedings, except in the judicatory of last resort, and shall be entered on the record.

17. Questions as to Procedure.—Questions as to order or evidence, arising in the course of a trial, shall, after the parties have had an opportunity to be heard, be decided by the moderator, subject to an appeal to the judicatory or judicial commission, to be determined without debate. All such decisions shall be entered upon the record of the case.

18. Closed Sessions.—In all cases of judicial process, the judicatory or judicial commission may at any stage of the trial, determine, by a vote of two thirds of the members present, to sit with closed doors.

19. Temporary Suspension.—A judicatory or judicial commission shall, if the edification of the Church demands it, require an accused person to refrain from approaching the Lord's Table, or from the exercise of office, or both, until final action in the case shall be taken; provided, that in all cases a speedy investigation or trial shall be had.

CHAPTER VI.

OF SPECIAL RULES IN JUDICIAL PROCESS AGAINST A MINISTER.

1. Necessity of Faithfulness.—As the honor and success of the gospel depend, in great measure, on the character of its ministers, each presbytery should watch over their personal and professional conduct with the greatest care and impartiality, in order that they may neither be screened from the hand of justice and have their offenses lightly censured, nor have judicial process instituted against them on slight grounds.

2. Party to Divorce.—If a minister becomes a party to a suit for divorce, or marries a divorced woman, the presbytery to which he belongs shall make an investigation of the facts in the case, including the record in the civil court or courts, and the findings of the presbytery shall be spread upon its records.

3. Investigation of Rumors Against Character.—A minister against whose character rumors are in circulation shall not be granted a certificate of dismissal by presbytery until a full and complete investigation of these rumors has been made, and his innocence established.

4. Offense Unknown to His Presbytery.—When a minister is accused of an offense, at such a distance from his presbytery that it is not likely to come to its knowledge, it shall be the duty of the presbytery within whose bounds the alleged offense was committed, if it shall be satisfied that there is probable ground for judicial process to notify his presbytery thereof, and of the nature of the offense; and his presbytery, on receiving such notice, shall, if it appears that the honor of religion requires it, proceed to the trial of the case.

5. Contumacy.—If a minister accused of an offense refuses to appear by himself or counsel, after being twice duly cited, he shall, for his contumacy, be immediately suspended from his office; and if, after another citation, he still refuses to appear by himself or counsel, he shall be deposed as contumacious, and suspended or excommunicated from the communion of the Church. Record shall be made of the judgment and of the charges under which judicial process was instituted against him, and the censure shall be made public.

6. Heresy and Schism.—Heresy and schism may be of such a nature as to call for deposition; but errors ought to be carefully considered, whether they strike at the vitals of religion and are industriously spread, or whether they arise from the weakness of the human understanding, and are not likely to do much injury.

7. Acts of Infirmary.—If the presbytery or judicial commission finds, on trial, that the matter complained of amounts to no more than such acts of infirmity as may be amended and the people satisfied, so that little or nothing remains to hinder the usefulness of the offender, it shall take all prudent measures to remove the evil.

CHAPTER VII.

OF CASES WITHOUT FULL JUDICIAL PROCESS.

1. Judgment Without Full Judicial Process.—If a person commits an offense in the presence of the judicatory, or comes forward as his own accuser and makes known his offense, the judicatory may proceed to judgment without full judicial process, giving the offender an opportunity to be heard; and in the case first named he may demand a delay of at least ten days before judgment. The record must show the nature of the offense, as well as the judgment and the reasons therefor, and an appeal may be taken from the judgment, in which case the judicatory becomes an original party, and shall appoint one or more of its members, or other persons under its jurisdiction, to defend its action in the higher judicatory.

2. Erasure of Name.—(a) Church Members.—When a church member against whom no charges are pending shall inform the session that he is fully persuaded that he has no right to come to the Lord's Table, the session shall confer with him on the subject, and may, should he continue of the same mind, and his attendance on the other means of grace be regular, excuse him from attendance on the Lord's Supper; and, after fully satisfying themselves that his judgment is not the result of mistaken views, shall erase his name from the roll of communicants, and make record of their action in the case. If a church member renounces the communion of the Church by joining another, without a regular dismissal, although such conduct is disorderly, the session shall take no other action in the case than record the fact, and order his name to be erased from the roll.

When a church member so removes from the bounds of the particular church of which he is a member that the session is unable after due and diligent search to ascertain his place of residence, the session may erase his name, after two years of such absence, from the roll of active communicant members of the church. The session may restore an erased name to the roll of communicant members whenever fully satisfied that such action is justified.

(b) Ministers.—When a minister, not otherwise chargeable with an offense, renounces the jurisdiction of this Church, by abandoning the ministry, or becoming independent, or joining another body not deemed heretical or schismatic, without a regular dismissal, the presbytery shall take no other action than to record the fact and to erase his name from the roll. If charges are pending against him, he may be tried thereon. If a minister shall absent himself from the sessions of the presbytery of which he is a member for a period of three years, and shall neglect to report to said presbytery concerning himself, his whereabouts and his work, and the presbytery after due and diligent search, shall be unable to ascertain his place of residence, the presbytery shall then have the authority without further action, and without prejudice to him, to erase his name from the roll. The presbytery may restore an erased name to the roll of presbytery whenever fully satisfied that such action is justified.

3. Suspension of Non-Resident Church Members.—A person, who has removed from the bounds of the church of which he is a member and has not attended upon or supported its worship for a period of two years, shall be advised by the session to apply for a regular certificate of dismissal, and failing to do so he may after due notice of intention be suspended from the communion of the Church until he shall satisfy the session of the propriety of his restoration.

4. Suspension of Resident Church Members.—

Any resident church member who shall persistently absent himself from the ordinances of the church for two years in a manner to be regarded as a serious injury to the cause of religion may, after diligent effort has been made by the session to restore him to active fulfilment of his membership, and he has been duly notified of its intention, be suspended from the communion of the Church until he shall satisfy the session of the propriety of his restoration.

5. Demitting the Ministry.—

If a minister, otherwise in good standing, shall make application to be released from the office of the ministry, he may, at the discretion of the presbytery, be put on probation, for one year at least, in such a manner as the presbytery may direct, in order to ascertain his motives and reasons for such a relinquishment. And if, at the end of this period, the presbytery is satisfied that he cannot be useful and happy in the exercise of his ministry, it may allow him to demit the office, and return to the condition of a private member in the Church, ordering his name to be stricken from the roll of the presbytery, and giving him a letter to any evangelical church with which he may desire to connect himself.

6. Joining Heretical Body.—When a minister renounces the jurisdiction of this Church by joining another denomination deemed heretical or schismatic, he shall be deposed, or excommunicated.

CHAPTER VIII.OF EVIDENCE.

1. Kinds of Evidence.—Evidence may be direct or circumstantial and may be oral, written, or printed. Great caution shall always be exercised by a judicatory or judicial commission in admitting circumstantial evidence, especially in the absence of the direct evidence of at least one credible witness.

2. Receiving Testimony.—Judicatories and judicial commissions ought to be very careful and impartial in receiving testimony. Not every person is competent, and not every competent person is credible as a witness.

3. Competency of Witnesses.—All persons, including the parties, are competent witnesses, except such as do not believe in the existence of God, or a future state of rewards and punishments, or have not sufficient intelligence to understand the obligation of an affirmation or an oath. Either party may challenge a witness for incompetency, and the judicatory or judicial commission shall decide the question. A husband or wife shall be a competent witness for or against the other, but shall not be compelled to testify.

4. Credibility of Witnesses.—The credibility of a witness or the degree of credit due his testimony, may be affected by relationship to either of the parties; by interest in the result of the trial; by want of proper age; by weakness of understanding; by infamy or malignity of character; by being under church censure; by general rashness or indiscretion; or by any other circumstances that appear to affect his veracity, knowledge, or interest in the case.

5. Proof of Charge.—A charge may be established by oral testimony, by matters of record or by other documents duly proved. The testimony of two witnesses, or the testimony of one witness accompanied with proof of corroborating circumstances equal to a second witness, shall be necessary in order to establish any charge. When there are several specifications under the same general charge, the proof of two or more of the specifications, each by different credible witnesses, shall be sufficient to establish the charge.

6. Separate Examination.—No witness to be examined, except a member of the judicatory or judicial commission, shall be present during the examination of another witness, if either party object.

7. Examination of Witnesses.—Witnesses shall be examined first by the party producing them; then cross-examined by the opposite party; after which any member of the judicatory or judicial commission or either party may put additional interrogatories. Irrelevant or frivolous questions shall not be admitted, nor leading questions by the parties producing the witness, except under permission of the judicatory or judicial commission as necessary to elicit the truth.

8. Oath or Affirmation.—The oath to a witness shall be administered by the moderator in the following, or like, terms: “Do you solemnly promise, in the presence of the omniscient and heart-searching God, that you will declare the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, according to the best of your knowledge, in the matter in which you are called to testify, as you shall answer to the Great Judge of the quick and the dead?”

If a witness has conscientious scruples against taking an oath, he shall be affirmed in the following form: “Do you solemnly affirm that you will declare the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth in the matter in which you are called to testify?”

9. Record of Testimony.—The testimony given by a witness shall be faithfully recorded in question and answer form, and when thus recorded, shall be read to the witness in the presence of the judicatory or judicial commission, for his approbation and subscription if requested by either party and deemed necessary by the judicatory or judicial commission.

10. Records of a Judicatory.—The records of a judicatory or judicial commission, or any part of them, whether original or transcribed, if regularly authenticated by the moderator or the clerk, shall be deemed good and sufficient evidence in every other judicatory or judicial commission. Testimony taken by one judicatory or judicial commission, and regularly certified, shall be received by another judicatory or judicial commission, as no less valid than if it had been taken by itself.

11. Testimony Taken by a Commission.—Any judicatory or judicial commission, before which a case may be pending, shall have power, whenever the necessity of parties or of witnesses shall require it, to appoint, on the application of either party, a commission of ministers, or elders, or both, to examine witnesses; which commission, if the case requires it, may be persons within the jurisdiction of another judicatory. The commissioners so appointed shall take such testimony as may be offered by either party. The testimony shall be taken in accordance with the rules governing the judicatory or judicial commission, either orally or on written interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, duly settled by the judicatory or judicial commission, due notice having been given of the time when, and place where, the witnesses are to be examined. All questions, as to the relevancy or competency of the testimony so taken, shall be determined by the judicatory or judicial commission. The testimony properly authenticated by the signatures of the commissioners, shall be transmitted, in due time, to the clerk of the judicatory or judicial commission before which the case is pending.

12. A Member of the Judicatory as a Witness.—A member of the judicatory or judicial commission may be called upon to testify in a case which comes before it, but he shall not thereafter sit in judgment upon the case if either party makes objection, unless the judicatory or judicial commission shall determine otherwise.

13. New Evidence.—Any person convicted of an offense may afterwards, if the case has not been appealed, apply for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, and the judicatory or judicial commission, if satisfied that the evidence offered is highly important and could not with reasonable diligence have been presented sooner, may grant the application.

14. New Evidence in Appeal.—If, in the prosecution of an appeal, new evidence is offered, which, in the judgment of the appellate judicatory or judicial commission, has an important bearing on the case, it shall either refer the whole case to the lower judicatory for a new trial; or, with the consent of the parties, admit the evidence and proceed to hear and determine the case.

CHAPTER IX.

OF THE INFLICTION OF CHURCH CENSURES.

1. Degree of Church Censure.—In judicial discipline there are five degrees of Church censure, namely, admonition, rebuke, suspension, deposition, and excommunication, and when anyone of these censures shall apply, the judgment shall be pronounced by the moderator of the judicatory in the name and presence of the judicatory.

2. Execution of Judgment.—When a judicatory shall have completed the trial of an alleged offender, and shall have found him guilty, and the judgment shall have been pronounced, or when a judicatory shall have received the decision of a judicial commission elected by it, in which an alleged offender is found guilty, the judicatory unless it has received a written notice of appeal within ten days after the judgment has been rendered, shall proceed to execute the judgment.

3. Censure Imposed in Absence.—If a person, adjudged guilty, refuses or fails to present himself, the judicatory shall proceed with the pronouncement of the censure in such form and with such notice of its action as may seem to fit the case. Refusal of a guilty person to appear for censure may be deemed a further offense.

4. Pronouncement of Judgment.—The infliction of a particular censure, should always be preceded by a general pronouncement of judgment in the following or similar language:

“Whereas, you,, have, after due process of trial, been convicted by this judicatory of the sin of, the judgment of the judicatory is that you are deserving of the penalty of Now, therefore, for the good of your own soul, and the purity and peace of the Church of Jesus Christ, you are required to stand and receive the pronouncement of this penalty."

5. Admonition.—Admonition is the lowest degree of censure, and consists in tenderly reproving an offender, warning him of his guilt and danger, and exhorting him to be more watchful in the future.

6. Form of Admonition.—Admonition shall be pronounced in the following form: "Whereas, you,, have been convicted by sufficient proof (or are guilty by your own confession) of the sin of (here insert the offense), and by this sin have made yourself a disturber of the peace and purity of the Church of Jesus Christ, and have exposed yourself to the danger of being led still further into sin, we, therefore, the Presbytery (or session) of, in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, solemnly admonish you to put away from you the evil of your doings, to watch and pray that you enter not into temptation, and to avoid the very appearance of evil. As your strongest safeguard against future transgression, you are also admonished to be so steadfast and earnest in the service of the Lord that there will be no opportunity for sin to have dominion over you."

With this formal admonition such advice may be given the offender as may be deemed necessary, and prayer offered to Almighty God that He follow this act of discipline with His blessing.

7. Rebuke.—Rebuke is a higher degree of censure for a more aggravated offense, and consists in setting forth the character of the offense, with an adequate reproof for it.

8. Form of Rebuke.—Rebuke shall be pronounced in the following form: "Whereas, you,, have been convicted, by sufficient proof (or are guilty by your own confession) of the sin of (here insert the offense), and by this sin which you have committed have broken your solemn vows to Christ, brought re-proaches upon your Christian profession, and provoked the enemies of your Master to scoff at His holy religion, we, therefore, the Presbytery (or session) of, in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, express our condemnation of your sin, and rebuke you therefor. As one overtaken in a trespass you are enjoined to be more watchful in the future against departing from the path of faithfulness to your Divine Lord, to use diligently the means of grace as your safeguard, and to give the Church proofs of your unfeigned repentance."

With this formal rebuke such advice may be given the offender as may be deemed necessary, and prayer offered to Almighty God that He follow this act of discipline with His blessing.

9. Nature of Admonition and Rebuke.—The censures of admonition and rebuke terminate when inflicted, and the offender is under no disability, being in good and regular standing so far as his relationship to the Church is concerned.

10. Suspension.—Suspension, with respect to church members, is their temporary exclusion from sealing ordinances; with respect to church officers, it is their temporary exclusion from the exercise of their office, and, at the discretion of the judicatory, from sealing ordinances also. It may be either definite or indefinite as to its duration. Definite suspension is administered when the credit of religion, the honor of Christ, and the good of the delinquent demand it, even though the offender may have given satisfaction to the judicatory. Indefinite suspension is the exclusion of an offender from sealing ordinances, or from his office, until he exhibit signs of repentance, or until, by his conduct, the necessity of the highest censure be made manifest.

11. Form of Suspension.—When the judicatory has resolved to pass the sentence of suspension, the moderator shall pronounce the sentence in the following form:

"Whereas, you,, have been found guilty by sufficient proof (or are guilty by your own confession), of the sin of (here insert the offense) we, the Presbytery (or session) of, in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, do now declare you suspended from the communion of the Church (and from the exercise of your office)."

To this shall be added such advice, warning, or exhortation as may be judged necessary; and the whole shall be concluded with prayer to Almighty God, that He follow this act of discipline with His blessing. In general, such censure should be inflicted in the presence of the judicatory only; but, if the judicatory think it expedient to suspend the offender publicly, this solemn suspension may be in the presence of the church.

12. Failure of Suspended Person to Repent.—

When a suspended person has failed to manifest repentance for his offense, and has continued in obstinate impenitence not less than a year, it may become the duty of the judicatory to excommunicate him without further trial.

13. Suspended Pastor.—If a pastor is suspended from office, the presbytery shall, if no appeal from the censure of suspension is pending, declare his pulpit vacant.

14. Deposition.—Deposition is the censure by which the ordination of a church officer is set aside, and he is thus removed from his office.

15. Form of Deposition.—Deposition shall be pronounced in the following form: "Whereas, you,, have been convicted by sufficient proof (or are guilty by your own confession) of the sin of (here insert the offense), and by your sin and unfaithfulness have brought reproach on the cause of your Master, we, therefore, the Presbytery (or session) of, acting under the authority of Jesus Christ do hereby depose and exclude you from the office of a minister of the gospel (or ruling elder), and do prohibit you from exercising henceforth any of the powers and duties of that office."

16. Effect of Deposition on Minister.—If a minister is deposed without excommunication, the presbytery shall give him a letter to any church with which he may desire to connect himself, in which shall be stated his exact relation to the church. If he is a pastor, the pastoral relation shall then be dissolved, and the pulpit shall be declared vacant.

17. Notice of Deposition.—When deposition from the ministry has taken place, the presbytery shall immediately send notice thereof to all the presbyteries of the Church.

18. Excommunication.—Excommunication is the excision of an offender from the communion of the Church. This censure should not be executed except for such errors or violation of the law of God as are grossly inconsistent with the Christian profession, or for obstinate persistence in grave offenses, and not even then until all proper measures have failed to reclaim the offender. The design of excommunication is to operate upon the offender as a means of reclaiming him, to deliver the Church from the scandal of his offense, and to impress all by the example of his punishment.

19. Form of Excommunication.—When a judgment of excommunication is to be executed, with or without previous suspension, it is proper that the sentence be publicly pronounced against the offender. The moderator shall, therefore, at a regular meeting of the judicatory, make a brief statement of the several steps which have been taken, with respect to the offender, announcing that it has been found necessary to excommunicate him. He shall begin by showing (from Matt. xviii, 15, 16, 17, 18; I Cor. v. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5) the power of the Church to cast out unworthy members, and shall briefly explain the nature, use, and consequences of this censure. Then he shall pronounce the sentence in the following or like form, viz:

“Whereas, you,, have been, by sufficient proof, convicted of (here insert the sin), and after much admonition and prayer refuse to hear the Church, and have manifested no evidence of repentance; therefore, in the name and by the authority, of the Lord Jesus Christ, we, the Presbytery (or session) of, pronounce you to be excluded from the communion of this Church.”

Prayer shall then be made for the repentance and reformation of the excommunicated person, and for the establishment of all true believers.

The judicatory may omit the publication of the excommunication, when it judges that there is sufficient reason for such omission.

CHAPTER X.

OF RESTORATION OF THOSE UNDER CENSURE.

1. Restoration After Repentance.—Persons under the censure of suspension, deposition, or excommunication may be restored to their former rights and privileges in the Church upon satisfactory evidence of repentance and reformation either by the judicatory which inflicted the censure, or by a coordinate judicatory, upon the advice and consent of the judicatory of original jurisdiction.

2. Restoration by Higher Judicatory.—When a higher judicatory in the hearing and deciding of an appeal from a judgment of guilty in a lower judicatory reverses that judgment, it is in effect an acquittal, and the accused person is thereby automatically restored to good and regular standing in the Church and declaration of this fact shall be made in the lower judicatory.

3. After Definite Suspension.—In the case of definite suspension, where the conduct of the offender has been exemplary during the prescribed interval, and the honor of religion will permit, the judicatory shall proceed immediately upon the expiration of the period of censure to take steps toward his restoration.

4. After Indefinite Suspension.—When the judicatory shall be fully satisfied as to the reality of the repentance of any person under the censure of indefinite suspension, he shall be allowed to profess his repentance, and be restored to his former rights and privileges in the Church.

5. Form of Restoration from Suspension.—The form of restoration by the moderator to the offender in the presence of the judicatory shall be as follows:

“Whereas, you,, have been debarred from the communion of the Church (or in case of a church officer, ‘from the office of the gospel ministry, or eldership, or diaconate’), but have now manifested such repentance as satisfies the Church, we the Presbytery (or session) of, do hereby, in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, absolve you from the sentence of suspension, and do restore you to the full communion of the Church (or the exercise of your office and all the functions thereof).”

After which there shall be prayer and thanksgiving.

6. Form of Restoration after Excommunication.—When an excommunicated person shall be so affected by his state as to be brought to repentance, and desires to be readmitted to the privileges of the Church, the judicatory which excommunicated him, having obtained, and placed on record, sufficient evidence of his sincere repentance and deep contrition, shall proceed to restore him, recording, in explicit terms, the grounds on which such conclusion has been reached.

At a regular meeting of the judicatory, the moderator shall call upon the excommunicated person, and propose to him in the presence of the judicatory, the following questions:

Question:—“Do you, from a deep sense of your great wickedness, freely confess your sin; and do you acknowledge that you have been in justice and mercy cut off from the communion of the Church?”

Answer:—“I do.”

Question.—"Do you now voluntarily profess your sincere repentance and contrition for your sin and obstinacy; and do you humbly ask the forgiveness of God and His Church?"

Answer.—"I do."

Question.—"Do you sincerely promise, through divine grace, to live in all humbleness of mind and circumspection; and to endeavor to adorn by a holy life the doctrine of God our Saviour?"

Answer.—"I do."

Here the moderator shall give the penitent a suitable exhortation, encouraging and comforting him. Then he shall pronounce the sentence of restoration in the following words:

"Whereas, you,, have been excluded from the communion of the Church, but have now given satisfactory evidence of repentance; in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by His authority, we, the Presbytery (or session) of, do declare you absolved from the censure of excommunication formerly pronounced against you; and we do restore you to the communion of the Church, that you may be a partaker of all the benefits of the Lord Jesus, to your eternal salvation."

After which, he shall be commended to God in prayer.

7. Restoration after Deposition.—A minister, ruling elder, or deacon, deposed for immoral conduct shall not be restored even on the deepest sorrow for his sin, until after some considerable time of eminent and exemplary, humble and edifying conduct; and in no case shall he be restored, until it shall clearly appear that the restoration can be effected without injury to the cause of religion.

8. Form of Restoration after Deposition.—The restoration of a deposed minister, ruling elder, or deacon, after public confession has been made in a manner similar to that prescribed in the case of the removal of censure from an excommunicated person, shall be announced by the moderator in the following form:

"Whereas, you,, formerly a minister of this presbytery (or ruling elder, or deacon of this church), have been deposed from your office, but have now manifested such repentance as satisfies the Church; in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by His authority, we, the Presbytery of (or session of this church), do hereby declare you absolved from the censure of deposition formerly pronounced against you; and we do furthermore restore you to your office, and to the exercise of all the functions thereof, whenever you may be orderly called thereto."

After which there shall be prayer and thanksgiving, and the members of the judicatory shall extend to him the right hand of fellowship.

9. Ordination after Deposition.—When a deposed minister, ruling elder, or deacon has been absolved other than by reversal of judgment on appeal from the censure of deposition he cannot resume his former office in the Church without ordination.

CHAPTER XI.

OF DISSENTS AND PROTESTS.

1. Dissent.—A dissent is a declaration by one or more members expressing disagreement with an action or decision of a judicatory. It must be made at the particular session of the judicatory during which the action or decision dissented from is taken, and it shall be entered on the records of the judicatory.

2. Protest.—A protest is a more formal declaration, made by one or more members of a judicatory, bearing testimony against what is believed to be an irregular or erroneous proceeding, decision, or judgment, accompanied with the reasons therefor. It shall be entered at the particular session of the judicatory during which the action protested against is taken, and the reasons on which it is founded shall be transmitted to the clerk of the judicatory within ten days, except in the highest judicatory, when reasons shall be presented before the final adjournment of the judicatory.

3. Protest on Records.—If a protest is couched in decorous and respectful language, and is without offensive reflections or insinuations against the judicatory, it shall be entered on the records.

4. Answer to Protest.—The judicatory against whose action a protest is taken may prepare an answer which shall be entered on the records, to any protest which imputes to it principles or reasonings which its action does not import. Leave may thereupon be given to the person or persons protesting, if they desire it, to modify their protest; and the answer of the judicatory may also, in consequence, be modified. This shall end the matter.

5. What It Implies.—The admission of a protest by a judicatory does not justify the person protesting in disobedience and non-submission, but implies no more than a recognition of his right to satisfy his conscience.

6. Who May Dissent or Protest.—No one shall be allowed to dissent or protest who had not a right to vote on the question decided, and who did not vote against the decision; provided, that when a case has been decided by a judicial commission, any member of the judicatory to which the decision is reported, may enter his dissent or protest in the same manner as if the case had been tried before the judicatory itself, and he had voted thereon; and provided, that when a case has been decided by a judicial commission, sitting during an interval between the meetings of the electing judicatory, any member of such judicatory or of the commission may, within ten days after the rendering of the judgment by the commission, file his dissent from or protest against the judgment with the clerk of the commission; and the commission or any member thereof may, within twenty days after the rendering of the judgment, similarly file an answer to any protest; and the clerk of the commission shall enter upon the record all dissents, protests, and answers, or shall forward the same to the stated clerk of the electing judicatory to be so entered by him.

CHAPTER XII.

OF THE MODES IN WHICH THE PROCEEDINGS OF LOWER JUDICATORIES COME UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF HIGHER JUDICATORIES.

1. Modes.—Every action or decision of any judicatory or judicial commission acting for the judicatory, except the highest, shall be subject to the administrative or judicial discipline of a higher judicatory, and may be brought before it in one or other of the following ways: General Review and Control, or Complaint, when administrative discipline is to be exercised; and Reference or Appeal, when judicial discipline is to be exercised.

2. Rights of Members of a Lower Judicatory.—When the action or decision of a lower judicatory or a judicial commission acting for it is before a higher judicatory, the members of the lower judicatory shall not sit, deliberate, or vote thereon.

3. Publicity.—No party to a case of administrative or judicial discipline before a higher judicatory shall circulate, or cause to be circulated among the members of the judicatory, any written or printed arguments or briefs upon any matter in question, before the disposition of the question by the judicatory hearing the same, except at the request or direction of that judicatory.

I. IN ADMINISTRATIVE DISCIPLINE.

(a) General Review and Control.

4. General Review.—All proceedings of the church shall be reported to, and reviewed by, the session, and by its order incorporated with its records. Every judicatory above a session shall review, at least once a year, the records of the proceedings of the judicatory next below; and, if any lower judicatory shall fail to send up its records for this purpose, the higher judicatory shall order them to be produced, either immediately, or at a specified time, as circumstances may determine. A higher judicatory may also, at any time, require the next lower judicatory to produce its records, rolls, or other official documents.

5. Matter of Review.—In reviewing the records of a lower judicatory the higher judicatory shall examine, first, whether the proceedings have been correctly recorded; second, whether they have been regular, and, in accordance with the Constitution; and, third, whether they have been prudent, equitable, and for the edification of the Church.

6. Irregular Proceedings.—In most cases the higher judicatory may discharge its duty, by simply recording in its own proceedings, and in those under review, any approval, disapproval or correction which it may pass. But if irregular proceedings are found so disreputable and injurious as to require correction, the lower judicatory shall be required to take such corrective action and to report within a specified time, its obedience to the order: provided, however, that no decision in an administrative or judicial case shall be reversed, unless regularly taken up on complaint or appeal.

7. Notice of Irregular Proceedings.—If a higher judicatory is, at any time, well advised of any unconstitutional proceedings or neglect of duty on the part of a lower judicatory, it may take such cognizance thereof as is deemed necessary.

(b) Complaints

8. Definition.—A complaint is a written representation by one or more persons, subject to and submitting to the jurisdiction of a lower judicatory, to the next higher judicatory against a particular delinquency, action, or decision of such lower judicatory in the exercise of administrative discipline. When a case of administrative discipline has been decided by a Judicial Commission of a lower judicatory, sitting during an interval between the meetings of such judicatory, a complaint against the decision of the Judicial Commission may be entered and prosecuted before a higher judicatory, in the same manner as if the decision had been rendered by the lower judicatory.

9. Written Notice of Complaint.—Written notice of complaint shall be given, within ten days after the action was taken, to the clerk, or, in case of his death, absence, or disability, to the moderator of the lower judicatory.

10. Complaint Presented to the Higher Judicatory.—The complainant shall lodge his complaint and the reasons therefor with the clerk of the higher judicatory within thirty days after the written notice of complaint has been given to the lower judicatory. Upon request, the clerk of the higher judicatory is authorized to furnish copies of the complaint to the parties concerned, who shall bear the expense of the same.

11. Duty of the Lower Judicatory.—Within thirty days after the receipt of a written Notice of Complaint, the clerk of the lower judicatory shall lodge it with the records and all the papers pertaining to the case, with the clerk of the higher judicatory. For failure to do this the lower judicatory shall be censured by the higher judicatory, which shall have power to issue such orders pending the production of the records and papers, and the determination of the complaint, as may be necessary to preserve the rights of all the parties.

12. Duty of the Higher Judicatory.—When the higher judicatory finds that a complaint is in order, and that sufficient reasons for proceeding to its determination have been assigned, the judicatory, or a judicial commission duly elected by it, shall adopt the following procedure:

(1) The complaint, and the reasons therefor, shall be read.

(2) The record of the action against which the complaint is made, and so much of the record of the lower judicatory as may be pertinent, shall be read.

(3) The parties shall be heard, the complainants having the right of opening and closing the argument.

(4) Opportunity shall be given to the members of the higher judicatory or judicial commission to be heard.

(5) The vote shall then be taken without debate separately on each reason assigned in the complaint.

13. Effect of a Complaint.—The effect of a complaint if sustained, may be the reversal, in whole or in part, of the action or decision complained of. When a complaint is sustained, the lower judicatory shall be directed as to further proceedings in the case.

14. Parties.—The parties to a complaint shall be known in the higher judicatories as the complainant and the respondent—the latter being the judicatory complained of, which should always be represented by one or more of its members appointed for that purpose, who may be assisted by counsel.

15. Stay of Execution.—Whenever a complaint is entered by at least one third of the members recorded as present when the decision was made, or by one third of the whole membership of the judicatory, or by one third of the members of a judicial commission against a decision rendered by it in an administrative case during an interval between the meetings of the judicatory which elected it, the execution of the decision shall be stayed until the final issue of the case in a higher judicatory.

II. IN JUDICIAL DISCIPLINE.

(a) Reference

16. Definition.—A reference is a representation in writing, made by a lower to the next higher judicatory, for advice or for ultimate trial and decision in a judicial case not yet decided. Generally, however, it is more conducive to the public good that each judicatory should fulfill its duty by exercising its own judgment.

17. Proper Subjects.—Proper subjects of reference are judicial cases which are new, important, difficult, of peculiar delicacy, the decision of which may establish principles or precedents of extensive influence, on which the lower judicatory is greatly divided, or on which for any reason it is desirable that a higher judicatory should first decide.

18. Effect of Reference.—If the reference is for advice, it merely defers the decision of the lower judicatory; if for trial, it submits the whole judicial case to the final judgment of the higher judicatory.

19. Duty of Lower Judicatory.—The whole record of proceedings in the judicial case shall be promptly transmitted to the higher judicatory, and if the reference is accepted, the parties shall be heard.

20. Duty of a Higher Judicatory.—Although a higher judicatory ought generally to answer a reference for advice, it may refuse to give a final judgment in a matter of reference, and may remit the whole judicial case, either with or without advice, to the lower judicatory.

(b) Appeals

21. Definition.—An appeal is the removal by a written representation to the next higher judicatory of a judicial case on which judgment has been rendered in a lower judicatory, and may be taken only by either of the original parties. When a judicial case has been decided by a Judicial Commission of a lower judicatory, sitting during an interval between the meetings of the electing judicatory, an appeal from the judgment of such Commission may be taken and prosecuted before a higher judicatory, in the same manner as if the judgment had been rendered by the judicatory.

22. Grounds of Appeal.—The grounds of appeal may be such as these: Irregularity in the proceedings; refusal of reasonable indulgence to the party on trial; receiving improper, or declining to receive proper, testimony; hastening to a decision before the testimony is fully taken; manifestation of prejudice in the conduct of the case; mistake or injustice in the decision; and undue severity of censure.

23. Written Notice of Appeal.—Written notice of appeal shall be given to the clerk, or, in case of his death, absence, or disability to the moderator, of the lower judicatory from whose judgment the appeal is taken, within ten days after the judgment has been rendered.

24. Suspension of Judgment.—When the judgment directs admonition or rebuke, notice of appeal shall suspend all further proceedings; but in the case of suspension, deposition, or excommunication, the person against whom the judgment has been pronounced shall be required to refrain from approaching the Lord's Table, and from the exercise of office, until the appeal is finally decided.

25. Appeal Presented to the Higher Judiciary.—Within thirty days after the date of the filing of the notice of appeal the appellant shall lodge his appeal and specifications of the errors alleged, with the clerk of the higher judiciary, who shall notify him promptly of the date when he shall appear in person or by counsel before the higher judiciary in readiness to support the appeal. Failure to respond to such notice, unless he can show to the satisfaction of the higher judiciary that he was unavoidably prevented from so doing, shall be considered as an abandonment of his appeal, and the judgment shall stand.

26. Duty of the Lower Judiciary.—Within thirty days after the receipt of a written Notice of Appeal, the clerk of the lower judiciary shall lodge it with the records, and all papers pertaining to the judicial case with the clerk of the higher judiciary. For failure to do this the lower judiciary shall be censured by the higher judiciary, and the judgment from which the appeal is made shall be suspended, until a record is produced on which the judicial case can be fairly judged.

27. Procedure in Higher Judiciary.—When a higher judiciary has decided that an appeal is in order, and should be entertained by the judiciary, and when the judiciary or a judicial commission elected by it is ready to try the case, the following procedure shall be adopted:

(1) The appeal and the alleged specifications shall be read.

(2) The record in the case, from the beginning, shall be read, except such parts as may be omitted by consent of the parties and the judicatory itself.

(3) The parties shall be heard, the appellant having the right of opening and closing the argument.

(4) Opportunity shall be given to the members of the higher judicatory or judicial commission to be heard.

(5) The vote shall then be taken without debate separately on each specification of error alleged, the question being taken in the form: "Shall the specification of error be sustained?" If no one of the specifications is sustained, and no error is found, the judgment of the lower judicatory shall be affirmed. If one or more errors be found, the judicatory shall determine whether the judgment of the lower judicatory shall be reversed or modified, or the case remanded for a new trial; and the decision, accompanied by a recital of the error or errors found, shall be entered on the record. If the higher judicatory deems it wise, an explanatory minute may be adopted which shall be a part of the record of the case.

CHAPTER XIII.

(a) In Presbyteries and Synods.

1. Election.—A presbytery or a synod may elect from the ministers and ruling elders subject to its jurisdiction a Permanent Judicial Commission which shall be composed of not less than seven members for a presbytery, four ministers and three ruling elders; and not less than eleven members for a synod, six ministers and five ruling elders. The term of office for each member in said Permanent Judicial Commission shall be six years. For the first year, they shall be elected in three classes, not more than half the members to be in one class. The first class shall serve for two years, the second for four years, and the third class for six years.

Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent a presbytery or a synod from electing at its own discretion Special Judicial Commissions, which shall be subject to the same rules so far as they apply, that pertain to a Permanent Judicial Commission. To a Judicial Commission, either Permanent or Special, the electing judicatory may transmit any case of administrative or judicial discipline for hearing and decision.

2. Powers.—The Judicial Commission shall elect from its members a moderator and a clerk; and, in a case transmitted to it, shall have the powers prescribed by, and conduct its proceedings according to, the Constitution and rules governing the trial of such cases before the electing judicatory. When once a judicial commission has organized and accepted a judicial case for trial, it shall have no further communication with the electing judicatory until it shall report to it its disposition of the case, and announce thereto for execution its decision.

3. Quorum.—The quorum of the Judicial Commission shall consist of not less than two thirds of the members elected to it, provided, that at least one half the quorum shall be ministers.

4. Lack of Quorum.—If, through disqualification or disability, a sufficient number of the members of a judicial commission are not present to form a quorum, the judicial commission shall adjourn until a quorum can be obtained, and if it is found that a quorum of the judicial commission cannot be obtained, the judicial commission shall report to the judicatory which elected it its inability to conclude the trial; whereupon the judicatory shall either enter upon the process of trial again as for a new case, or refer the whole case to the next higher judicatory for hearing and decision.

5. Meetings.—The meetings of the Judicial Commission shall be held at such times and places as the electing judicatory shall direct, or, if no directions shall be given, then at such times and places as the Judicial Commission shall determine.

6. Final Judgment.—The decision of the Judicial Commission, sitting in any case at the same time as the electing judicatory, shall be promptly reported to the judicatory through its stated clerk, and shall, from the time of the rendering of the report, be held to be the final judgment of the judicatory. The decision of the Commission, sitting in any case during an interval between the meetings of the electing judicatory, shall, from the time of the announcement of the decision, be held to be the final judgment of the judicatory, and shall be transmitted to the stated clerk of the judicatory who shall report it to the judicatory at its next session.

7. Record of Proceedings.—The clerk of the judicial commission shall keep a full and correct record of the proceedings and decisions of the judicial commission; shall with the moderator certify in writing such record to be full and correct; and shall forthwith transmit a certified copy of the decision to each party in the case, and file the certified record with the stated clerk of the electing judicatory. This shall become part of the records sent up to the next higher judicatory for review.

8. Duty of Stated Clerk.—The stated clerk of the electing judicatory, upon receipt of the certified record from the clerk of the judicial commission, and its final decision in the case, shall report the same to the electing judicatory promptly, if in session at that time, but if not in session, to the judicatory at its first meeting thereafter, adjourned, stated, or called for that purpose; and shall preserve it as a part of the records of the same, and shall include it in the records sent up to the next higher judicatory for review.

(b) In the General Assembly.

9. Election.—The General Assembly shall continue to elect a judicial commission, which shall be called "The Permanent Judicial Commission of the General Assembly," and which shall be composed of eight ministers and seven ruling elders, of whom not more than one shall belong to the same synod. In each odd numbered year five members shall be elected for a term of six years to fill the vacancies then occurring, their terms of office to begin with the dissolution of the General Assembly at which they are elected. No person having served upon the permanent judicial commission for a full term of six years shall be eligible for re-election. And no person shall be eligible to membership upon the permanent judicial commission who is a member of any other commission, committee, or agency of the General Assembly until he shall have resigned such other membership. A vacancy due to resignation, death, or to any other cause, may be filled by the General Assembly at any meeting thereof by the election of a person for the unexpired term. The General Assembly may transmit to this commission any case of administrative or judicial discipline for hearing and decision.

10. Special Judicial Commissions.—Nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to prevent the General Assembly from electing, at its own discretion, special judicial commissions, which shall be subject to the rules, so far as they apply, that pertain to the permanent judicial commission.

11. Powers.—The permanent judicial commission shall annually elect from its members a moderator and a clerk, and, in the cases transmitted to it, shall have the powers prescribed by, and conduct its proceedings according to, the Constitution and rules governing the trial of such cases before the General Assembly, to which, also, it shall make reports.

12. Expenses.—The necessary expenses of the permanent judicial commission shall be provided for by the General Assembly.

13. Quorum.—The quorum of the permanent judicial commission shall consist of not less than eleven members, of whom at least six shall be ministers.

14. Meetings.—The meetings of the permanent judicial commission shall be held at such times and places as the General Assembly shall direct, provided that the commission shall assemble annually on the morning of the second day immediately preceding the constituting of the General Assembly, and shall begin to report its preliminary judgments on the second day of the General Assembly's sessions.

15. Preliminary Judgment.—The decision of the permanent judicial commission in any case committed to it shall be held to be the preliminary judgment in that case, and shall be binding upon each party therein until the General Assembly shall hear, and either confirm or reject the preliminary judgment.

16. Record of Proceedings.—The clerk of the permanent judicial commission shall keep a full and correct record of the proceedings and preliminary judgment of the commission in each case transmitted to it; shall with the moderator certify in writing such record to be full and correct; and shall forthwith file a certified copy of the preliminary judgment and the certified record with the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly. The Stated Clerk of the General Assembly shall transmit to each party in the case a certified copy of the judgment as confirmed by the General Assembly, and shall preserve it as a part of the records of the same.

17. Dissenting Opinion.—Immediately upon the presentation of the preliminary judgment in a case, any member or members of the commission shall have the right to read and file a dissenting opinion or opinions; provided, however, that every dissenting opinion before such presentation shall have been read in full to the permanent judicial commission and shall have been declared by a majority of said commission to introduce nothing, not contained in the record of the case, as a basis for its argument, and provided also that a dissenting opinion shall never be considered a minority report nor in any manner treated as such either by the General Assembly or the permanent judicial commission.

18. Presentation of Preliminary Judgment to General Assembly.—The procedure in connection with the presentation to the General Assembly of the preliminary judgment of the permanent judicial commission,

(1) The Moderator, when announcing that the General Assembly is about to sit in a judicial capacity, shall declare that only such commissioners who are present at the moment shall be eligible to vote upon the preliminary judgments presented. He shall then order all persons who are not commissioners, officers of the General Assembly, or members of the permanent judicial commission, to depart from the floor and from the platform of the General Assembly, and shall take efficient measures to the end that during the report of the permanent judicial commission no person shall either enter upon the floor or platform, or depart therefrom.

(2) The preliminary judgment of the permanent judicial commission, and the dissenting opinion or opinions, if any, shall be read to the General Assembly.

(3) No member of the commission shall argue for or against the judgment of the commission or for or against any dissenting opinion in any case, nor in any manner participate in the proceedings of the General Assembly relating thereto.

(4) The Moderator of the General Assembly, immediately after the reading of the preliminary judgment of the commission and the reading of the dissenting opinion or opinions, if any, shall put the question as follows:

(5) Immediately after the putting of the question, the General Assembly, without debate, shall vote.

(6) If a majority of the General Assembly vote to confirm, the Moderator shall declare that the preliminary judgment of the permanent judicial commission is now the final judgment of the General Assembly, and the case is therewith closed.

19. Procedure if Preliminary Judgment is Rejected.—If the General Assembly shall fail to confirm by a majority vote a preliminary judgment of the permanent judicial commission the case shall be automatically recommitted to the commission for a rehearing, and the General Assembly shall appoint a committee of not more than five persons to represent it before the commission in further consideration of the case. If a second judgment of the commission be likewise rejected, the case shall go over a year without further action, and the succeeding General Assembly shall determine on the second day of its sessions whether to recommit the case to the permanent judicial commission, or to commit the case to a special judicial commission, or to try the case itself sitting in its judicial capacity.

CHAPTER XIV.

OF DIFFERENCES BETWEEN JUDICATORIES.

1. Presentation of Memorial.—Any judicatory deeming itself aggrieved by the action of any other judicatory of the same rank, may present a memorial to the judicatory immediately superior to the judicatory charged with the grievance and to which the latter judicatory is subject, after the manner prescribed in the sub-chapter on Complaints (Chapter xii, Sections 8–15, Book of Discipline), save only that with regard to the limitation of time, notice of said memorial shall be lodged with the stated clerks, both of the judicatory charged with the grievance and of its next superior judicatory, within one year from the commission of the said alleged grievance.

2. Appointment of Committee.—When any judicatory deems itself aggrieved by another judicatory and determines to present a memorial as provided for in the preceding section, it shall appoint a committee to conduct the case in all its stages, in whatever judicatory, until the final issue be reached.

3. Duty of Superior Judicatory.—The judicatory with which the memorial is lodged, if it sustain the same, may reverse in whole or in part the matter of grievance, and shall direct the lower judicatory how to dispose of the case, and may enforce its orders. Either party may appeal to the next higher judicatory, except as limited by Chapter XI, Section IV, of the Form of Government.

CHAPTER XV.

OF ORDER—FORMS.

A. Order of Process in Judicial Cases.

1. Preliminary Steps in the Initiation of Judicial Process:

(a) By an injured person or persons willing to assume the prosecution of a judicial case on their own responsibility.

(1) Strict compliance with Christ's command in Matthew xviii: 15–17. (Chapter III, Section 6.)

(2) Presentation to the judicatory of a petition requesting an investigation of an alleged personal injury. (Chapter III, Section 3.)

(3) Warning by the judicatory to the petitioner as to the responsibility of an accuser in assuming the prosecution of an alleged personal injury. (Chapter III, Section 10.)

(4) The appointment by the judicatory, if desired, of a judicial committee. (Chapter III, Section 12.)

(5) Presentation of charges and specifications to the judicial committee. (Chapter III, Section 12.)

(6) Presentation of an averment that the course prescribed by our Lord in Matthew xviii: 15–17 has been faithfully tried. (Chapter III, Section 6.)

THE DIRECTORY FOR THE WORSHIP OF GOD*

ADOPTED, 1788; AMENDED, 1789-1933.

OF THE SANCTIFICATION OF THE LORD'S DAY.

I. IT is the duty of every person to remember the Lord's Day; and to prepare for it, before its approach. All worldly business should be so ordered, and seasonably laid aside, as that we may not be hindered thereby from sanctifying the Sabbath, as the Holy Scriptures require.

II. The whole day is to be kept holy to the Lord; and to be employed in the public and private exercises of religion. Therefore, it is requisite, that there be a holy resting, all the day, from unnecessary labors; and an abstaining from those recreations which may be lawful on other days; and also, as much as possible, from worldly thoughts and conversation.

III. Let the provisions for the support of the family on that day, be so ordered, that servants or others be not improperly detained from the public worship of God; nor hindered from sanctifying the Sabbath.

IV. Let every person and family, in the morning, by secret and private prayer, for themselves and others, especially for the assistance of God to their minister, and for a blessing upon his ministry; by reading the Scriptures, and by holy meditation; prepare for communion with God in his public ordinances.

V. Let the people be careful to assemble at the appointed time; that, being all present at the beginning, they may unite, with one heart, in all the parts of public worship: and let none unnecessarily depart, till after the blessing be pronounced.

VI. Let the time after the solemn services of the congregation in public are over, be spent in reading; meditation; repeating of sermons; catechizing; religious conversation; prayer for a blessing upon the public ordinances; the singing of psalms, hymns, or spiritual songs; visiting the sick; relieving the poor; and in performing such like duties of piety, charity, and mercy.

CHAPTER II.

OF THE ASSEMBLING OF THE CONGREGATION AND THEIR BEHAVIOR DURING DIVINE SERVICE.

I. WHEN the time appointed for public worship is come, let the people enter the church, and take their seats in a decent, grave, and reverent manner.

II. In time of public worship, let all the people attend with gravity and reverence; forbearing to read any thing, except what the minister is then reading or citing; abstaining from all whisperings; from salutations of persons present, or coming in; and from gazing about, sleeping, smiling, and all other indecent behavior.

CHAPTER III.

OF THE PUBLIC READING OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES.

I. THE reading the Holy Scriptures, in the congregation, is a part of the public worship of God, and ought to be performed by the ministers and teachers.

II. The Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments shall be publicly read, from the most approved translation, in the vulgar tongue, that all may hear and understand.

III. How large a portion shall be read at once, is left to the discretion of every minister: however, in each service, he ought to read, at least, one chapter; and more, when the chapters are short, or the connection requires it. He may, when he thinks it expedient, expound any part of what is read: always having regard to the time, that neither reading, singing, praying, preaching, or any other ordinance, be disproportionate the one to the other; nor the whole rendered too short, or too tedious.

CHAPTER IV.

OF THE SINGING OF PSALMS.

I. It is the duty of Christians to praise God, by singing psalms, or hymns, publicly in the church, as also privately in the family.

II. In singing the praises of God, we are to sing with the spirit, and with the understanding also; making melody in our hearts unto the Lord. It is also proper, that we cultivate some knowledge of the rules of music; that we may praise God in a becoming manner with our voices, as well as with our hearts.

III. The whole congregation should be furnished with books, and ought to join in this part of worship. It is proper to sing without parceling out the psalm, line by line. The practice of reading the psalm, line by line, was introduced in times of ignorance, when many in the congregation could not read: therefore, it is recommended, that it be laid aside, as far as convenient.

IV. The proportion of the time of public worship to be spent in singing, is left to the prudence of every minister: but it is recommended, that more time be allowed for this excellent part of divine service than has been usual in most of our churches.

CHAPTER V.

OF PUBLIC PRAYER.

I. It seems very proper to begin the public worship of the sanctuary by a short prayer: humbly adoring the infinite majesty of the living God; expressing a sense of our distance from him as creatures, and unworthiness as sinners; and humbly imploring his gracious presence, the assistance of his Holy Spirit in the duties of his worship, and his acceptance of us through the merits of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

II. Then, after singing a psalm, or hymn, it is proper that, before sermon, there should be a full and comprehensive prayer: First, Adoring the glory and perfections of God, as they are made known to us in the works of creation, in the conduct of providence, and in the clear and full revelation he hath made of himself in his written Word: Second, Giving thanks to him for all his mercies of every kind, general and particular, spiritual and temporal, common and special; above all, for Christ Jesus, his unspeakable gift, and the hope of eternal life through him: Third, Making humble confession of sin, both original and actual; acknowledging, and endeavoring to impress the mind of every worshiper, with a deep sense of the evil of all sin, as such; as being a departure from the living God; and also taking a particular and affecting view of the various fruits which proceed from this root of bitterness,—as sins against God, our neighbor, and ourselves; sins in thought, in word, and in deed; sins secret and presumptuous; sins accidental and habitual. Also, the aggravations of sin, arising from knowledge, or the means of it, from distinguishing mercies; from valuable privileges; from breach of vows, etc.: Fourth, Making earnest supplication for the pardon of sin, and peace with God, through the blood of the atonement, with all its important and happy fruits; for the Spirit of sanctification, and abundant supplies of the grace that is necessary to the discharge of our duty; for support and comfort, under all the trials to which we are liable, as we are sinful and mortal; and for all temporal mercies that may be necessary, in our passage through this valley of tears: always remembering to view them as flowing in the channel of covenant love, and intended to be subservient to the preservation and progress of the spiritual life: Fifth, Pleading from every principle warranted in Scripture: from our own necessity; the all-sufficiency of God; the merit and intercession of our Saviour; and the glory of God in the comfort and happiness of his people: Sixth, Intercession for others, including the whole world of mankind; the kingdom of Christ, or his Church universal; the church or churches with which we are more particularly connected; the interest of human society in general, and in that community to which we immediately belong; all that are invested with civil authority; the ministers of the everlasting gospel; and the rising generation: with whatever else, more particular, may seem necessary, or suitable, to the interest of that congregation where divine worship is celebrated.

III. Prayer after sermon ought generally to have a relation to the subject that has been treated of in the discourse; and all other public prayers, to the circumstances that gave occasion for them.

IV. It is easy to perceive, that in all the preceding directions there is a very great compass and variety; and it is committed to the judgment and fidelity of the officiating pastor, to insist chiefly on such parts, or to take in more or less of the several parts, as he shall be led to by the aspect of providence; the particular state of the congregation in which he officiates; or the disposition and exercise of his own heart at the time. But we think it necessary to observe, that although we do not approve, as is well known, of confining ministers to set or fixed forms of prayer for public worship; yet it is the indispensable duty of every minister, previously to his entering on his office, to prepare and qualify himself for this part of his duty, as well as for preaching. He ought, by a thorough acquaintance with the Holy Scriptures, by reading the best writers on the subject, by meditation, and by a life of communion with God in secret, to endeavor to acquire both the spirit and the gift of prayer. Not only so, but when he is to enter on particular acts of worship, he should endeavor to compose his spirit, and to digest his thoughts for prayer, that it may be performed with dignity and propriety, as well as to the profit of those who join in it; and that he may not disgrace that important service by mean, irregular, or extravagant effusions.

CHAPTER VI.

OF THE WORSHIP OF GOD BY OFFERINGS.

I. IN order that every member of the congregation may be trained to give of his substance systematically, and as the Lord has prospered him, to promote the preaching of the gospel in all the world and to every creature, according to the command of the Lord Jesus Christ, it is proper and very desirable that an opportunity be given for offerings by the congregations in this behalf every Lord's Day, and that, in accordance with the Scriptures, the bringing of such offerings be performed as a solemn act of worship to almighty God.

II. The proper order, both as to the particular service of the day and the place in such service for receiving the offerings, may be left to the discretion of the minister and session of the church; but that it may be a separate and specific act of worship, the minister should either precede or immediately follow the same with a brief prayer, invoking the blessing of God upon it and devoting the offerings to his service.

III. The offerings received may be apportioned among the Boards of the Church and among other benevolent and Christian objects, under the supervision of the church session, in such proportion and on such general plan as may from time to time be determined; but the specific designation by the giver of any offering to any cause or causes shall always be respected and the will of the donor carefully carried out.

IV. The offerings of the Sabbath school and of the various societies or agencies of the church shall be reported regularly to the session of the church for approval, and no offerings or collections shall be made by them for objects other than those connected with the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., without the approval of the session.

V. It is the duty of every minister to cultivate the grace of liberal giving in his congregation, that every member thereof may offer according to his ability, whether it be much or little.

CHAPTER VII.

OF THE PREACHING OF THE WORD.

I. THE preaching of the Word being an institution of God for the salvation of men, great attention should be paid to the manner of performing it. Every minister ought to give diligent application to it; and endeavor to prove himself a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

II. The subject of a sermon should be some verse or verses of Scripture: and its object, to explain, defend and apply some part of the system of divine truth; or, to point out the nature, and state the bounds and obligation, of some duty. A text should not be merely a motto, but should fairly contain the doctrine proposed to be handled. It is proper also that large portions of Scripture be sometimes expounded, and particularly improved, for the instruction of the people in the meaning and use of the sacred oracles.

III. The method of preaching requires much study, meditation, and prayer. Ministers ought, in general, to prepare their sermons with care; and not to indulge themselves in loose, extemporaneous harangues; nor to serve God with that which cost them naught. They ought, however, to keep to the simplicity of the gospel: expressing themselves in language agreeable to Scripture, and level to the understanding of the meanest of their hearers; carefully avoiding ostentation, either of parts or learning. They ought also to adorn, by their lives, the doctrine which they teach; and to be examples to the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

IV. As one primary design of public ordinances is to pay social acts of homage to the most high God, ministers ought to be careful not to make their sermons so long as to interfere with or exclude the more important duties of prayer and praise; but preserve a just proportion between the several parts of public worship.

V. The sermon being ended, the minister is to pray, and return thanks to almighty God: then let a psalm be sung, and the assembly dismissed with the apostolic benediction.

VI. It is expedient that no person be introduced to preach in any of the churches under our care, unless by the consent of the pastor or church session.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF BAPTISM.

I. BAPTISM is not to be unnecessarily delayed; nor to be administered, in any case, by any private person; but by a minister of Christ, called to be the steward of the mysteries of God.

It is usually to be administered in the church, in the presence of the congregation; and it is convenient that it be performed immediately after sermon.

Of the expediency of performing this service in other places than the church, the minister shall be the judge.

II. Of the administration of baptism to infants:

After previous notice is given to the minister, the child to be baptized is to be presented, by one or both the parents, signifying their desire that the child may be baptized.

Before baptism, let the minister use some words of instruction respecting the institution, nature, use, and ends of this ordinance; showing:

“That it is instituted by Christ, that it is a seal of the righteousness of faith; that the seed of the faithful have no less a right to this ordinance, under the gospel, than the seed of Abraham to circumcision, under the Old Testament; that Christ commanded all nations to be baptized; that he blessed little children, declaring that of such is the kingdom of heaven; that children are federally holy, and therefore ought to be baptized; that we are by nature sinful, guilty, and polluted, and have need of cleansing by the blood of Christ, and by the sanctifying influences of the Spirit of God.”

The minister is also to exhort the parents to the careful performance of their duty, requiring:

“That they teach the child to read the Word of God, that they instruct him in the principles of our holy religion, as contained in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments; an excellent summary of which we have in the Confession of Faith of this Church, and in the Larger and Shorter Catechisms of the Westminster Assembly, which are to be recommended to them, as adopted by this Church, for their direction and assistance in the discharge of this important duty; that they pray with and for the child; that they set an example of piety and godliness before him, and endeavor by all the means of God’s appointment to bring up their child in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.”

Then the minister is to pray for a blessing to attend this ordinance; after which, calling the child by name, he shall say:

As he pronounces these words, he is to baptize the child with water, by pouring or sprinkling it on the head of the child, without adding any other ceremony; and the whole shall be concluded with prayer.

III. Of the administration of baptism to adults:

When unbaptized persons are to be admitted into the Church, they shall, in ordinary cases, after giving satisfaction with respect to their knowledge and piety, make a public profession of their faith in the presence of the congregation; and thereupon be baptized.

Before baptism, let the minister use some words of instruction respecting the institution, nature, use, and ends of this ordinance, showing:

“That it is instituted by Christ; that our Lord commanded his disciples to baptize believers of every nation; that it is a sacrament wherein the washing with water, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, doth signify and seal our engrafting into Christ, and partaking of the benefits of the covenant of grace, and our engagement to be the Lord’s; that it is not to be administered to any that are out of the visible Church till they profess their faith in Christ and obedience to him; that it becomes an effectual means of salvation, not from any virtue in it, or in him that doth administer it, but only by the blessing of Christ, and the working of his Spirit in them that by faith receive it.”

The minister shall then propose to the person to be baptized the following or similar questions, to wit:

“Do you believe that Jesus Christ is the only begotten Son of God and the only Saviour from sin?”

“Is it your desire to be baptized in this faith?”

Then the minister shall baptize the candidate by pouring or sprinkling water upon his head, calling him by name, and using these words:

“I baptize thee, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.”

The administration of the sacrament shall be concluded with prayer.

CHAPTER IX.

OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE LORD'S SUPPER.

I. THE Communion, or Supper of the Lord, is to be celebrated frequently; but how often, may be determined by the minister and eldership of each congregation, as they may judge most for edification.

II. The ignorant and scandalous are not to be admitted to the Lord's Supper.

III. It is proper that public notice should be given to the congregation, at least the Sabbath before the administration of this ordinance, and that, either then, or on some day of the week, the people be instructed in its nature, and a due preparation for it; that all may come in a suitable manner to this holy feast.

IV. When the sermon is ended, the minister shall show: "That this is an ordinance of Christ; by reading the "words of institution, either from one of the evangelists, "or from I Corinthians, Chapter XI; which, as to him may "appear expedient, he may explain and apply; that it is to "be observed in remembrance of Christ, to show forth "his death till he come; that it is of inestimable benefit "to strengthen his people against sin; to support them "under troubles; to encourage and quicken them in duty; "to inspire them with love and zeal; to increase their "faith, and holy resolution; and to beget peace of conscience, and comfortable hopes of eternal life."

He is to warn the profane, the ignorant, and scandalous, and those that secretly indulge themselves in any known sin, not to approach the holy table. On the other hand, he shall invite to this holy table, such as, sensible of their lost and helpless state of sin, depend upon the atonement of Christ for pardon and acceptance with God; such as, being instructed in the gospel doctrine, have a competent knowledge to discern the Lord's body; and such as desire to renounce their sins, and are determined to lead a holy and godly life.

V. The table, on which the elements are placed, being decently covered, the bread in convenient dishes, and the wine in cups, and the communicants orderly and gravely sitting around the table (or in their seats before it), in the presence of the minister; let him set the elements apart, by prayer and thanksgiving.

The bread and wine being thus set apart by prayer and thanksgiving, the minister is to take the bread, and break it, in the view of the people, saying, in expressions of this sort:

“Our Lord Jesus Christ, on the same night in which he was betrayed, having taken bread, and blessed and broken it, gave it to his disciples; as I, ministering in his name, give this bread unto you; saying, [here the bread is to be distributed] Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.”

After having given the bread, he shall take the cup, and say:

“After the same manner our Saviour also took the cup; and having given thanks, as hath been done in his name, he gave it to the disciples, saying, [while the minister is repeating these words let him give the cup] This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for many for the remission of sins: drink ye all of it.”

The minister himself is to communicate, at such time as may appear to him most convenient.

The minister may, in a few words, put the communicants in mind—

“Of the grace of God, in Jesus Christ, held forth in this sacrament; and of their obligation to be the Lord’s, and may exhort them to walk worthy of the vocation wherewith they are called; and, as they have professedly received Christ Jesus the Lord, that they be careful so to walk in him, and to maintain good works.”

It may not be improper for the minister to give a word of exhortation also to those who have been only spectators, reminding them:

“Of their duty; stating their sin and danger, by living
“in disobedience to Christ, in neglecting this holy ordi“nance; and calling upon them to be earnest in making “preparation for attending upon it, at the next time of “its celebration.”

Then the minister is to pray and give thanks to God:

“For his rich mercy, and invaluable goodness, vouch“safed to them in that sacred communion; to implore “pardon for the defects of the whole service; and to pray “for the acceptance of their persons and performances;
“for the gracious assistance of the Holy Spirit, to enable “them, as they have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so to “walk in him; that they may hold fast that which they “have received, that no man take their crown; that their “conversation may be as becometh the gospel; that they “may bear about with them, continually, the dying of the “Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested “in their mortal body; that their light may so shine be“fore men, that others, seeing their good works, may glorify
“their Father who is in heaven.”

The collection for the poor, and to defray the expense of the elements, may be made after this; or at such other time as may seem meet to the eldership.

Now let a psalm or hymn be sung, and the congregation dismissed, with the following or some other gospel benediction:

“Now the God of peace, that brought again from the “dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, “through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make “you perfect in every good work to do his will, work“ing in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, “through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and “ever. Amen.”

VI. As it has been customary, in some parts of our Church, to observe a fast before the Lord's Supper; to have a sermon on Saturday and Monday; and to invite two or three ministers on such occasions; and as these seasons have been blessed to many souls, and may tend to keep up a stricter union of ministers and congregations; we think it not improper that they who choose it may continue in this practice.

CHAPTER X.

OF THE ADMISSION TO FULL COMMUNION OF PERSONS BAPTIZED IN INFANCY.

I. CHILDREN, born within the pale of the visible Church, and dedicated to God in baptism, are under the inspection and government of the Church; and are to be taught to read and repeat the Catechism, the Apostles' Creed, and The Lord's Prayer. They are to be taught to pray, to abhor sin, to fear God, and to obey the Lord Jesus Christ. And when they come to years of discretion, if they be free from scandal, appear sober and steady, and to have sufficient knowledge to discern the Lord's body, they ought to be informed it is their duty and their privilege to come to the Lord's Supper.

II. The years of discretion in young Christians cannot be precisely fixed. This must be left to the prudence of the session.

III. When persons baptized in infancy are to be admitted to full communion with the Church, they shall be examined as to their knowledge and piety, and shall in ordinary cases, with the approval of the session, make a public profession of their faith, in the presence of the congregation.

CHAPTER XI.

OF THE MODE OF INFLECTING AND REMOVING CENSURES.

I. THE power which Christ has given the rulers of his Church is for edification, and not destruction. When, therefore, a communicant shall have been found guilty of a fault deserving censure, the judicatory shall proceed with all tenderness, and restore the offending brother in the spirit of meekness, its members considering themselves, lest they also be tempted. Censure ought to be inflicted with great solemnity: that it may be the means of impressing the mind of the delinquent with a proper sense of his sin; and that, with the divine blessing, it may lead him to repentance.

II. When the judicatory has resolved to pass sentence, suspending a communicant from church privileges, the moderator shall pronounce the sentence in the following form:

“Whereas you have been found guilty [by your own confession, or by sufficient proof, as the case may be] of the “sin of [here mention the particular offense], “we declare “you suspended from the sacrament of the Lord’s Supper, till you give satisfactory evidence of repentance.”

To this shall be added such advice, admonition, or rebuke, as may be judged necessary; and the whole shall be concluded with prayer to almighty God, that he would follow this act of discipline with his blessing. In general, such censure should be inflicted in the presence of the judicatory only; but, if the judicatory think it expedient to rebuke the offender publicly, this solemn suspension may be in the presence of the church.

III. After a person has been thus suspended, the minister and elders should frequently converse with him, as well as pray for him in private, that it would please God to give him repentance. And, particularly on days preparatory to the dispensing of the Lord’s Supper, the prayers of the church should be offered up for those who have shut themselves out from this holy communion.

IV. When the judicatory shall be satisfied as to the reality of the repentance of any suspended member, he shall be allowed to profess his repentance, and be restored to fellowship, in the presence of the session, or of the church.

V. When a suspended person has failed to manifest repentance for his offense, and has continued in obstinate impenitence not less than a year, it may become the duty of the judicatory to excommunicate him without further trial. The design of excommunication is to operate upon the offender as a means of reclaiming him, to deliver the Church from the scandal of his offense, and to inspire all with fear by the example of his punishment.

VI. When a judgment of excommunication is to be executed, with or without previous suspension, it is proper that the sentence be publicly pronounced against the offender.

The minister shall, therefore, at a regular meeting of the church, make a brief statement of the several steps which have been taken, with respect to the offender, announcing that it has been found necessary to excommunicate him.

He shall begin by showing (from Matt. xviii. 15, 16, 17, 18; I Cor. v. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5) the power of the Church to cast out unworthy members, and shall briefly explain the nature, use, and consequences of this censure.

Then he shall pronounce the sentence in the following or like form: viz.

"Whereas A. B. hath been, by sufficient proof, convicted of [here insert the sin], and after much admonition and prayer refuseth to hear the church, and hath manifested no evidence of repentance; therefore, in the name, and by the authority, of the Lord Jesus Christ, I pronounce him to be excluded from the communion of this Church."

After which, prayer shall be made for the conviction and reformation of the excommunicated person, and for the establishment of all true believers.

But the judicatory may omit the publication of the excommunication, when it judges that there is sufficient reason for such omission.

VII. When an excommunicated person shall be so affected by his state as to be brought to repentance, and desires to be readmitted to the privileges of the Church, the session of the church which excommunicated him, having obtained, and placed on record, sufficient evidence of his sincere repentance and deep contrition, shall proceed to restore him, recording, in explicit terms, the grounds on which such conclusion has been reached.

The sentence of restoration shall be pronounced by the minister, at a regular meeting of the church on the Lord's Day, in the following words:

"Whereas A. B. has been excluded from the communion of the Church, but has now given satisfactory evidence of repentance; in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by his authority, I declare him absolved from the sentence of excommunication formerly pronounced against him; and I do restore him to the communion of the Church, that he may be a partaker of all the benefits of the Lord Jesus, to his eternal salvation."

After which, he shall be commended to God in prayer.

VIII. Censures, other than suspension from church privileges, or excommunication, shall be inflicted in such mode as the judicatory may direct.

CHAPTER XII.

OF THE SOLEMNIZATION OF MARRIAGE.

I. MARRIAGE is an institution ordained of God for the honor and happiness of mankind, in which one man and one woman enter into a bodily and spiritual union, pledging each to the other mutual love, honor, fidelity, forbearance and comradeship, such as should assure an unbroken continuance of their wedlock so long as both shall live.

II. Marriage is not a sacrament, nor peculiar to the Church of Christ. It is proper that every commonwealth, for the good of society, make laws to regulate marriage, which all good citizens are bound to obey. But since the scriptures declare that Christians ought to marry in the Lord, and since Christians contracting marriage pledge their vows to God, it is therefore proper that their marriage be solemnized by a lawful minister, and that special instruction be given them, and suitable prayer offered, when they enter into this relation.

III. The parties ought to be of such years of discretion as to be capable of making their own choice; and if they be under age, or live with their parents, the consent of the parents or others, under whose care they are, ought to be previously obtained, and well certified to the minister, before he proceeds to solemnize the marriage.

IV. Parents ought neither to compel their children to marry contrary to their inclinations, nor deny their consent without just and important reasons.

V. Ministers are admonished to emphasize the need of spiritual and ecclesiastical compatibility in marriage. Lack of harmony on the part of parents in the training of their children when they differ in the essentials of the faith endangers the happiness of a truly Christian home.

VI. Children have a God-given right to be well born. Therefore, those contemplating marriage should be bodily and spiritually fit for such a relationship. It is the duty of parents and of the Church to train their children and youth in an adequate understanding of the sacred meaning of Christian marriage, that they may determine most carefully before entering into the marriage relation whether they have reason to hope for such a married life as shall receive the constant blessing of God.

VII. Marriage is of a public nature. The welfare of civil society, the happiness of families, and the credit of religion are deeply involved in it. Therefore, the purpose to marry ought to be sufficiently published a proper time previous to the solemnization of it, and it is recommended that the intention of the contracting parties shall be made known to the minister at least three days before the service of solemnization. All ministers are enjoined to exercise due care that in this matter neither the laws of God nor of the community shall be transgressed. In order that the peace and comfort of families be not endangered and that no just objection lie against the marriage, the parties applying should be properly certified to the minister.

VIII. When parties present themselves for marriage, the minister shall use the following, or like words:

“Dearly beloved, we are assembled here in the presence of God, to join this Man and this Woman in holy Marriage; which is instituted of God, regulated by His commandments, blessed by our Lord Jesus Christ, and to be held in honor among all men. Let us therefore reverently remember that God has established and sanctified Marriage, for the welfare and happiness of mankind. Our Saviour has declared that a man shall forsake his father and mother and cleave unto his wife. By His apostles, He has instructed those who enter into this relation to cherish a mutual esteem and love; to bear with each other’s infirmities and weaknesses; to comfort each other in sickness, trouble, and sorrow; in honesty and industry to provide for each other and for their household in temporal things; to pray for and encourage each other in the things which pertain to God, and to live together as heirs of the grace of life.”

Then, speaking unto the persons who are to be married, he shall say:

“Forasmuch as you have come hither to be made one in this blessed estate, I charge you both, that if either of you know any reason why you may not rightly be joined together in Marriage, you do now acknowledge it. For be well assured that if any persons are joined together otherwise than as God’s Word allows, their union is not blessed by Him.”

Then, if no obstacle appear, the Minister shall say:

“Let us pray.”

“Almighty and ever blessed God, whose presence is the happiness of every condition, and whose favor sweetens every relation; we beseech Thee to be present and favorable unto these Thy servants, that they may be truly joined in the honorable estate of Marriage. As Thou hast brought them together by Thy providence, sanctify them by Thy Spirit, giving them a new frame of heart for their new estate; and grant unto them, now in the hour of their affiance and throughout their wedded life, Thy heavenly guidance; through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen."

Then the Minister shall say to the Man:

"M——, wilt thou have this Woman to be thy wife, and wilt thou pledge thy troth to her, in all love and honor, in all duty and service, in all faith and tenderness, to live with her and cherish her, according to the ordinance of God, in the holy bond of Marriage?"

The Man shall answer:

"I will."

Then the Minister shall say to the Woman:

"N——, wilt thou have this Man to be thy husband, and wilt thou pledge thy troth to him, in all love and honor, in all duty and service, in all faith and tenderness, to live with him and cherish him, according to the ordinance of God, in the holy bond of Marriage?"

The Woman shall answer:

"I will."

Then the Minister may say:

"Who giveth this Woman to be married to this Man?"

Then the father (or guardian or any friend) of the Woman shall put her right hand into the hand of the Minister, who shall cause the Man with his right hand to take the Woman by her right hand and to say after him as follows:

"I, M., take thee N.; To be my wedded wife; And I do promise and covenant; Before God and these witnesses; To be thy loving and faithful husband; In plenty and in want; In joy and in sorrow; In sickness and in health; As long as we both shall live."

Then shall they loose their hands; and the Woman with her right hand taking the Man by his right hand, shall likewise say after the Minister:

"I, N., take thee M.; To be my wedded husband; And I do promise and covenant: Before God and these witnesses; To be thy loving and faithful wife; In plenty and in want; In joy and in sorrow; In sickness and in health; As long as we both shall live."

Then, if a ring be provided it shall be given by the Man to the Woman, and by the Woman to the Minister, who shall then return it to the Man, who shall put it upon the fourth finger of the Woman's left hand, saying after the Minister:

"This Ring I give thee, In token and pledge, Of our constant faith, And abiding love."

"Then the Minister shall say:

"Let us pray."

"Most merciful and gracious God, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named; bestow upon these Thy servants the seal of Thine approval, and Thy fatherly benediction; granting unto them grace to fulfil, with pure and steadfast affection, the vow and covenant between them made. Guide them together, we beseech Thee, in the happy way of righteousness and peace, that loving and serving Thee, with one heart and mind, all the days of their life, they may be abundantly enriched with the tokens of Thine everlasting grace, in Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

"Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, On earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, As we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, But deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen."

Then shall the Minister say unto all who are present:

"By the authority committed unto me as a Minister of the Church of Christ, I declare that M. and N. are now Husband and Wife, according to the ordinance of God, and the law of this State: in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen."

Then, causing the Husband and Wife to join their hands, the Minister shall say:

"Whom God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

And the Minister shall pronounce this Blessing:

"The Lord bless you and keep you: The Lord make his face shine upon you and be gracious unto you: The Lord lift up his countenance upon you and give you peace: Both now and in the life everlasting. Amen."

IX. The minister should keep a proper register for the names of all whom he marries and of the time of their marriage for the perusal of all whom it may concern, and a duplicate copy of this register should be a part of the permanent records of the Church. Ministers without charge should also maintain such a register, and furnish a duplicate of the certificate to the officers of the appropriate church. There should be at least two witnesses present at the solemnization of the marriage, and a certificate of the marriage, signed by the officiating minister and the witnesses, should be given to the contracting parties.

X. All ministers who are requested to marry divorced persons should exercise great care lest they join together those whose marriage the Church cannot approve. Upon satisfactory evidence of the facts in the case, they may remarry the innocent party to whom a divorce has been granted on scriptural grounds, but not until assured that a period of one year has elapsed from the date of the decision allowing the divorce. They should also refuse to unite in marriage any member of any other denomination whose remarriage is known to the minister to be prohibited by the laws of the Church in which such person holds membership, unless the minister believes that in the peculiar circumstances of a given case his refusal would do injustice to an innocent person who has been divorced for scriptural reasons. In case a minister be in doubt as to the propriety of a proposed remarriage, he may seek the advice of the Presbytery through its moderator or through a committee appointed for that purpose.

CHAPTER XIII.

OF THE VISITATION OF THE SICK.

I. WHEN persons are sick, it is their duty, before their strength and understanding fail them, to send for their minister, and to make known to him, with prudence, their spiritual state; or to consult him on the concerns of their precious souls. And it is his duty to visit them, at their request, and to apply himself, with all tenderness and love, to administer spiritual good to their immortal souls.

II. He shall instruct the sick out of the Scriptures, that diseases arise not out of the ground, nor do they come by chance; but that they are directed and sent by a wise and holy God, either for correction of sin, for the trial of grace, for improvement in religion, or for other important ends: and that they shall work together for good to all those who make a wise improvement of God's visitation, neither despising his chastening hand, nor fainting under his rebukes.

III. If the minister finds the sick person to be grossly ignorant, he shall instruct him in the nature of repentance and faith, and the way of acceptance with God, through the mediation and atonement of Jesus Christ.

IV. He shall exhort the sick to examine himself; to search his heart, and try his former ways, by the Word of God; and shall assist him, by mentioning some of the obvious marks and evidences of sincere piety.

V. If the sick shall signify any scruple, doubt, or temptation, under which he labors, the minister must endeavor to resolve his doubts and administer instruction and direction, as the case may seem to require.

VI. If the sick appear to be a stupid, thoughtless and hardened sinner, he shall endeavor to awaken his mind; to arouse his conscience; to convince him of the evil and danger of sin; of the curse of the law, and the wrath of God due to sinners; to bring him to an humble and penitential sense of his iniquities; and to state before him the fullness of the grace and mercy of God, in and through the glorious Redeemer; the absolute necessity of faith and repentance, in order to his being interested in the favor of God, or his obtaining everlasting happiness.

VII. If the sick person shall appear to have knowledge, to be of a tender conscience, and to have been endeavoring to serve God in uprightness, though not without many failings and sinful infirmities; or if his spirit be broken with a sense of sin, or through apprehensions of the want of the divine favor; then it will be proper to administer consolation and encouragement to him, by setting before him the freeness and riches of the grace of God, the all-sufficiency of the righteousness of Christ, and the supporting promises of the gospel.

VIII. The minister must endeavor to guard the sick person against ill-grounded persuasions of the mercy of God, without a vital union to Christ; and against unreasonable fears of death, and desponding discouragements; against presumption upon his own goodness and merit upon the one hand, and against despair of the mercy and grace of God in Jesus Christ, on the other.

IX. In one word, it is the minister's duty to administer to the sick person instruction, conviction, support, consolation, or encouragement, as his case may seem to require.

At a proper time, when he is most composed, the minister shall pray with and for him.

X. Lastly, the minister may improve the present occasion to exhort those about the sick, to consider their mortality; to turn to the Lord and make their peace with him; in health to prepare for sickness, death, and judgment.

CHAPTER XIV.

OF THE BURIAL OF THE DEAD.

I. WHEN any person departs this life, let the corpse be taken care of in a decent manner; and be kept a proper and sufficient time before interment.

II. When the season for the funeral comes, let the dead body be decently attended to the grave, and interred.

During such solemn occasions, let all who attend conduct themselves with becoming gravity; and apply themselves to serious meditation or discourse: and the minister, if present, may exhort them to consider the frailty of life, and the importance of being prepared for death and eternity.

CHAPTER XV.

OF FASTING, AND OF THE OBSERVATION OF THE DAYS OF THANKSGIVING.

I. THERE is no day under the gospel commanded to be kept holy, except the Lord's Day, which is the Christian Sabbath.

II. Nevertheless, to observe days of fasting and thanksgiving, as the extraordinary dispensations of divine providence may direct, we judge both Scriptural and rational.

III. Fasts and thanksgivings may be observed by individual Christians; or families, in private; by particular congregations; by a number of congregations contiguous to each other; by the congregations under the care of a presbytery, or of a synod; or by all the congregations of our Church.

IV. It must be left to the judgment and discretion of every Christian and family to determine when it is proper to observe a private fast or thanksgiving; and to the church sessions to determine for particular congregations; and to the presbyteries or synods to determine for larger districts. When it is deemed expedient that a fast, or thanksgiving, should be general, the call for them must be judged of by the synod or General Assembly. And if at any time the civil power should think it proper to appoint a fast or thanksgiving, it is the duty of the ministers and people of our communion, as we live under a Christian government, to pay all due respect to the same.

V. Public notice is to be given a convenient time before the day of fasting or thanksgiving comes, that persons may so order their temporal affairs that they may properly attend to the duties thereof.

VI. There shall be public worship upon all such days and let the prayers, psalms, portions of Scripture to be read, and sermons, be all in a special manner adapted to the occasion.

VII. On fast days, let the minister point out the authority and providences called to the observation thereof; and let him spend a more than usual portion of time in solemn prayer, particular confession of sin, especially of the sins of the day and place, with their aggravations, which have brought down the judgments of heaven. And let the whole day be spent in deep humiliation and mourning before God.

VIII. On days of thanksgiving, he is to give the like information respecting the authority and providences which call to the observance of them; and to spend a more than usual part of the time in the giving of thanks, agreeably to the occasion, and in singing psalms or hymns of praise.

It is the duty of people on these days to rejoice with holy gladness of heart; but let trembling be so joined with our mirth, that no excess or unbecoming levity be indulged.

CHAPTER XVI.

OF SECRET AND FAMILY WORSHIP.

I. BESIDES the public worship in congregations, it is the indispensable duty of each person, alone, in secret; and of every family, by itself, in private, to pray to, and worship God.

II. Secret worship is most plainly enjoined by our Lord. In this duty every one, apart by himself, is to spend some time in prayer, reading the Scriptures, holy meditation, and serious self-examination. The many advantages arising from a conscientious discharge of these duties are best known to those who are found in the faithful discharge of them.

III. Family worship, which ought to be performed by every family, ordinarily morning and evening, consists in prayer, reading the Scriptures, and singing praises.

IV. The head of the family, who is to lead in this service, ought to be careful that all the members of his household duly attend; and that none withdraw themselves unnecessarily from any part of family worship; and that all refrain from their common business while the Scriptures are read, and gravely attend to the same, no less than when prayer or praise is offered up.

V. Let the heads of families be careful to instruct their children and servants in the principles of religion. Every proper opportunity ought to be embraced for such instruction. But we are of opinion, that the Sabbath evenings, after public worship, should be sacredly preserved for this purpose. Therefore we highly disapprove of paying unnecessary private visits on the Lord's Day; admitting strangers into the families, except when necessity or charity requires it; or any other practices, whatever plausible pretences may be offered in their favor, if they interfere with the above important and necessary duty.

APPENDICES.

APPENDIX A.

CONSTITUTIONAL RULE.

CONSTITUTIONAL RULE No. 4.

(Adopted, 1912.)

PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON VACANCY AND SUPPLY.

The General Assembly shall have power to appoint a Permanent Committee or other agency to supervise the supply of vacant pulpits, and the services of unemployed ministers. The number of members, the officers, and their duties, shall be determined by the Assembly. The powers of the agency shall be as follows: to conduct correspondence with synods and presbyteries and their Committees, concerning unemployed ministers and vacant congregations; to seek to adjust in cooperation with Synodical and Presbyterian Committees the requirements of vacancy and supply, by methods adequate to the given conditions in any synod or presbytery; to furnish information to church sessions and ministers; to suggest to the General Assembly plans for administration, and to make an annual report to the Assembly.

NOTE: Constitutional Rules 1, 2, and 3, relating respectively to "Local Evangelists", "Trials for Licensure", and "Candidates for the Ministry", were rescinded in 1931 (Rule 1), and 1932 (Rules 2 and 3).

APPENDIX B.

GENERAL RULES FOR JUDICATORIES.

[Adopted by the General Assembly of 1871, with Amendments to 1934.]

[The following "General Rules for Judicatories," not having been submitted to the presbyteries, make no part of the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church. Yet the General Assembly of 1871, considering uniformity in proceedings in all the subordinate judicatories as greatly conducive to order and dispatch in business, having revised and approved these Rules, recommend them to all the lower judicatories of the Church for adoption. Succeeding Assemblies have also approved these Rules, making amendments from time to time.]

[It will be understood that the words in black-faced type, which immediately precede each Rule and summarize its contents, form no part of the Rule itself.]

Meeting to be opened with prayer:

I. The Moderator shall take the chair precisely at the hour to which the judicatory stands adjourned; and shall immediately call the members to order; and, on the appearance of a quorum, shall open the session with prayer.

Those eligible to preside if Moderator be absent:

II. If a quorum be assembled at the time appointed, and the Moderator be absent, the last Moderator present, being a commissioner, or if there be none, the senior member present, shall be requested to take his place without delay, until a new election.

Procedure when no quorum is present:

III. If a quorum be not assembled at the hour appointed, any two members shall be competent to adjourn from time to time, that an opportunity may be given for a quorum to assemble.

Moderator to preserve order and dispatch business:

IV. It shall be the duty of the Moderator, at all times, to preserve order, and to endeavor to conduct all business before the judicatory to a speedy and proper result.

Moderator to keep schedule of business assigned for particular times:

V. It shall be the duty of the Moderator carefully to keep notes of the several articles of business which may be assigned for particular days, and to call them up at the time appointed.

Moderator discussing and deciding points of order:

VI. The Moderator may speak to points of order, in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose; and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the judicatory by any two members.

Moderator appointing committees and Vice Moderator:

VII. The Moderator shall appoint all committees, except in those cases in which the judicatory shall decide otherwise. In appointing the Chairmen of the Standing Committees the Moderator may appoint a Vice Moderator, who may occupy the chair at his request, and otherwise assist him in the discharge of his duties.

When Moderator may or may not vote:

VIII. When a vote is taken by ballot in any judicatory, the Moderator shall vote with the other members. But he shall not vote in any other case, unless the judicatory be equally divided, when he shall possess the casting vote; if he be not willing to decide, he shall put the question a second time; and if the judicatory be again equally divided, and he decline to give his vote, the question shall be lost.

Committee Chairmanship:

IX. The person first named on any committee shall be considered as the chairman thereof, whose duty it shall be to convene the committee; and, in case of his absence or inability to act, the second named member shall take his place and perform his duties.

Clerk to form complete roll for Moderator:

X. It shall be the duty of the Clerk, as soon as possible after the commencement of the sessions of every judicatory, to form a complete roll of the members present, and put the same into the hands of the Moderator. And it shall also be the duty of the Clerk, whenever any additional members take their seats, to add their names, in their proper places, to the said roll.

Duties of Stated Clerk and Committee on Bills and Overtures:

XI. It shall be the duty of the Clerk immediately to file all papers, in the order in which they have been read, with proper endorsements, and to keep them in perfect order. The Stated Clerk shall receive all overtures, memorials and miscellaneous papers addressed to the judicatory; shall make record of the same and deliver them to the Committee on Bills and Overtures for appropriate disposition or reference. This committee shall have the floor on the reassembling of the judicatory after each adjournment, to report its recommendations as to orders of business or reference of papers, and this right of the committee shall take precedence of the Orders of the Day. This committee shall report the papers retained by it as well as those recommended for reference to other committees, and no committee shall report on matters which have not been referred to it by the judicatory.

Minutes of last meeting:

XII. The minutes of the last meeting of the judicatory shall be presented at the commencement of its sessions, and, if requisite, read and corrected.

Unfinished business:

XIII. Business left unfinished at the last sitting is ordinarily to be taken up first.

Motions seconded, repeated, read aloud, written:

XIV. A motion made must be seconded, and afterwards repeated by the Moderator, or read aloud, before it is debated; and every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Moderator or any member require it.

Withdrawal of a motion:

XV. Any member who shall have made a motion shall have liberty to withdraw it, with the consent of his second, before any debate has taken place thereon; but not afterwards, without the leave of the judicatory.

Dividing a motion:

XVI. If a motion under debate contain several parts, any two members may have it divided, and a question taken on each part.

Motions for filling blanks:

XVII. When various motions are made with respect to the filling of blanks with particular numbers or times, the question shall always be first taken on the highest number and the longest time.

Motions put without debate, and those on which members may speak but once or twice:

XVIII. Motions to lay on the table, to take up business, to adjourn, and the call for the previous question, shall be put without debate; but it shall not be in order for any one debating another motion to propose the motion to lay on the table or the previous question, at the close of his remarks, unless he shall obtain the floor again for that purpose. On questions of orders, postponement, or commitment, no member shall speak more than once. On all other questions, each member may speak twice, but not oftener without express leave of the judicatory.

Motions admissible when a question is under debate:

XIX. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, unless to adjourn, to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to amend; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are herein arranged; and the motion for adjournment shall always be in order.

Amendments and substitutes:

XX. An amendment, and also an amendment to an amendment, may be moved on any motion; but a motion to amend an amendment to an amendment shall not be in order. Action on amendments shall precede action on the original motion. A substitute shall be treated as an amendment.

Motions to lay on the table:

XXI. A distinction shall be observed between a motion to lay on the table for the present and a motion to lay on the table unconditionally: viz. A motion to lay on the table for the present, shall be taken without debate; and, if carried in the affirmative, the effect shall be to place the subject on the docket, and it may be taken up and considered at any subsequent time. But a motion to lay on the table unconditionally shall be taken without debate; and, if carried in the affirmative, it shall not be in order to take up the subject during the same meeting of the judicatory, without a vote of reconsideration.

The previous question:

XXII. The previous question shall be put in this form, namely, "Shall the main question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by a majority of the members present; and the effect shall be to put an end to all debate and bring the body to a direct vote: First, on a motion to commit the subject under consideration (if such motion shall have been made); secondly, if the motion for commitment does not prevail, on pending amendments; and lastly, on the main question.

Motion to reconsider:

XXIII. A question shall not be again called up or reconsidered at the same sessions of the judicatory at which it has been decided, unless by the consent of two thirds of the members who were present at the decision; and unless the motion to reconsider be made and seconded by persons who voted with the majority.

A question shall not again be called up or reconsidered at a meeting of a judicatory subsequent to that at which it was decided unless at least ten days' notice in the case of a session or a Presbytery, and at least thirty days' notice in the case of a Synod, shall have been given the members of the judicatory through the Stated Clerk, or in the case of his death or disability through the Moderator of the judicatory, of the precise wording of the resolution of reconsideration and of proposed subsequent action, if reconsideration be voted (such as amend, annul, expunge, excise, rescind). Reconsideration and any proposed subsequent action (such as amend, annul, expunge, excise, rescind), under the above procedure, may when the judicatory convenes, be moved or seconded by any member of the judicatory present and a majority vote of the members present shall determine.

Indefinite postponement:

XXIV. A subject which has been indefinitely postponed, either by the operation of the previous question or by a motion for indefinite postponement, shall not be again called up during the same sessions of the judicatory, unless by the consent of three fourths of the members who were present at the decision.

Members declining to vote:

XXV. Members ought not, without weighty reasons, to decline voting, as this practice might leave the decision of very interesting questions to a small proportion of the judicatory. Silent members, unless excused from voting, must be considered as acquiescing with the majority.

Effect of commencing to take the vote, and of deciding to vote at a definite time:

XXVI. When the Moderator has commenced taking the vote, no further debate or remark shall be admitted, unless there has evidently been a mistake, in which case the mistake shall be rectified, and the Moderator shall recommence taking the vote. If the House shall pass the motion to "vote on a given subject at a time named," speeches shall thereafter be limited to ten minutes. Should the hour for adjournment or recess arrive during the voting, it shall be postponed to finish the vote, unless the majority shall vote to adjourn; in which case the voting shall, on the reassembling of the House, take precedence of all other business till it is finished. Under this rule the "yeas and nays" shall not be called except on the final motion to adopt as a whole. This motion to fix a time for voting shall be put without debate.

Calling for the yeas and nays, or for a division:

XXVII. The yeas and nays on any question shall not be recorded, unless required by one third of the members present. If division is called for on any vote, it shall be by a rising vote without a count. If on such a rising vote the Moderator is unable to decide, or a quorum rise to second a call for "tellers," then the vote shall be taken by rising, and the count made by tellers, who shall pass through the aisles and report to the Moderator the number voting on each side.

XXVIII. No member, in the course of debate, shall be allowed to indulge in personal reflections.

More than one rising to speak at the same time, and opposite sides alternating in debate:

XXIX. If more than one member rise to speak at the same time, the member who is most distant from the Moderator's chair shall speak first. In the discussion of all matters where the sentiment of the House is divided, it is proper that the floor should be occupied alternately by those representing the different sides of the question.

More than three members standing at the same time:

XXX. When more than three members of the judicatory shall be standing at the same time, the Moderator shall require all to take their seats, the person only excepted who may be speaking.

Speakers to observe decorum and respect:

XXXI. Every member, when speaking, shall address himself to the Moderator, and shall treat his fellow members, and especially the Moderator with decorum and respect.

Speakers not to be interrupted:

XXXII. No speaker shall be interrupted, unless he be out of order, or for the purpose of correcting mistakes or misrepresentations.

Members to refrain from private conversation:

XXXIII. Without express permission, no member of a judicatory, while business is going on, shall engage in private conversation; nor shall members address one another, nor any person present, but through the Moderator.

Gravity and dignity commended: prolix and desultory speeches to be avoided:

XXXIV. It is indispensable that members of ecclesiastical judicatories maintain great gravity and dignity while judicially convened; that they attend closely in their speeches to the subject under consideration, and avoid prolix and desultory harangues; and when they deviate from the subject, it is the privilege of any member, and the duty of the Moderator, to call them to order.

Disorderly members subject to reproof:

XXXV. If any member act, in any respect, in a disorderly manner, it shall be the privilege of any member, and the duty of the Moderator, to call him to order.

Right of appeal from Moderator's decision:

XXXVI. If any member consider himself aggrieved by a decision of the Moderator, it shall be his privilege to appeal to the judicatory, and the question on the appeal shall be taken without debate.

Leave of absence:

XXXVII. No member shall retire from any judicatory without the leave of the Moderator, nor withdraw from it to return home without the consent of the judicatory.

Private sessions:

XXXVIII. All judicatories have a right to sit in private on business which, in their judgment, ought not to be matter of public speculation.

Interlocutory meetings:

XXXIX. Besides the right to sit judicially in private, whenever they think proper to do so, all judicatories have a right to hold what are commonly called "interlocutory meetings," in which members may freely converse together, without the formalities which are usually necessary in judicial proceedings.

Sitting in Judicial capacity:

XL. Whenever a judicatory is about to sit in a judicial capacity, it shall be the duty of the Moderator solemnly to announce, from the chair, that the body is about to pass to the consideration of the business assigned for trial, and to enjoin on the members to recollect and regard their high character as judges of a court of Jesus Christ, and the solemn duty in which they are about to act.

Committee on Judicial Business:

XLI. It is expedient that judicatories appoint a Standing Committee, to be known as "the Committee on Judicial Business," to whom shall be referred all papers and questions of a judicial nature, and whose duty it shall be to recommend to the judicatory answers to judicial questions and orders of procedure in all judicial cases. The members of the Committee on Judicial Business are not debarred by their appointment from sitting and voting as members of the judicatory.

Permanent officers have the rights of corresponding members:

Manner of closing final session:

XLIII. The Moderator of every judicatory above the Church Session, in finally closing its sessions, in addition to prayer, may cause to be sung an appropriate psalm or hymn, and shall pronounce the apostolical benediction.

Procedure in taking cases from inferior courts to the General Assembly:

XLIV. Whenever a case is to be taken from an inferior judicatory to the General Assembly, the Stated Clerk of such inferior judicatory shall, at least twenty days before the meeting of the General Assembly, send a notice concerning such case to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly, who shall forthwith notify the Chairman of the Permanent Judicial Commission, unless the General Assembly shall have ordered otherwise, that the services of the Commission will be needed at the approaching Assembly; but if no such notice shall be received by the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, he shall forthwith notify the Chairman of the Permanent Judicial Commission that the services of the Commission will not be needed at the approaching Assembly.

Suspending the rules:

XLV. These rules may be suspended by a two thirds vote of the judicatory, upon motion duly made.

INDEX

- C. Confession of Faith.
- L. Larger Catechism.
- S. Shorter Catechism.
- D. S. Declaratory Statement.
- G. Form of Government.
- D. Book of Discipline.
- W. Directory for Worship, and in addition,
